Skate park opens day late, without incident

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"The word is out," said Dorothy Larson, Village of Antioch trustee and chair of the parks committee. "The skate park is open, but the rules need to followed. The kids are there coexisting beautifully."

Though scheduled to open on Monday, Aug. 26, the skate park, the newest amenity in Willams Park, opened Tuesday afternoon without incident. One section of the park is blocked off and will remain so until the final piece of equipment in installed early next week.

"It seems the skate park is doing what it is supposed to do," Larson added. "The kids aren't out in the streets of downtown, but at the park."

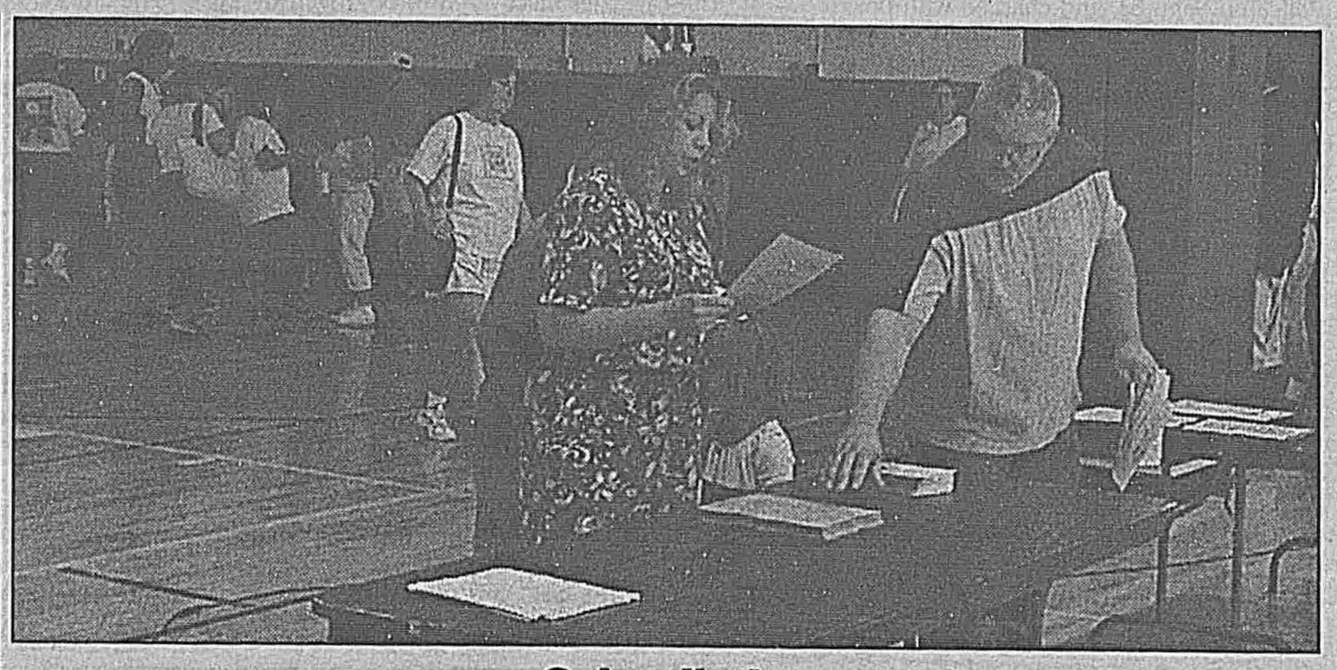

Larson said she stopped by the park to see its progress prior to the special meeting of the board of directors held on Tuesday evening.

"There were 30-40 kids at the park," she said. "Mostly there were bicycles and skateboards, but there was one on roller blades."

According to Larson, all of the park patrons were wearing helmets and taking turns on the equipment. "The faster-moving bicycles weren't cutting in between the skateboarders. Everyone was waiting and taking turns. It was just as it should be."

A grand opening ceremony is planned for Sept. 5 at 3:30 p.m. at the park, part of Williams Park. State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) will be the guest of honor for her help in securing the $100,000 grant that made the park possible.

Backyard Boardroom will put on a skate demonstration and door prizes will be awarded to lucky winners. BJ's Sports, Antioch Schwinn and Coca-Cola have donated prizes. The ceremony will end with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and cake and beverages.

Tree ordinance gives village development flexibility

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Verbiage was approved by the board of directors of the Village of Antioch at a special meeting to further strengthen its ability to govern the preservation and replacement of trees when PUDs (planned unit developments) are proposed.

The board failed to approve the ordinance amending the chapter of Antioch code that deals with the preservation and replacement of trees at its regular meeting as board members wanted a way to see a developer's plans prior to final plat. Previously Bob Silhan, director of planning, zoning and building, said, "The more information you have at the preliminary stage, the better it is for both the developer and the village."

At the special meeting Silhan said, "This is a substantial improvement over last week, and greatly improved over what is currently on the books."

Last November trustees voted unanimously to approve amendments to the ordinance governing "preservation and replacement of trees" without a second reading in order to get the stronger language on the books. This amendment gives the village more flexibility in dealing and negotiating with developers.

Village attorney Donald Anderson said, "The village may decide to approve a site specific plan (during the preliminary plat), but if it does not, all the other provisions of the ordinance go into affect immediately."

In the future, the board may look at amending the ordinance again to include all subdivisions and not just PUDs that are a variation of the subdivision code.

Fall arts and crafts promises to be largest

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"This year's Fall Arts and Crafts Faire promises to be the biggest fall show yet," said Barbara Porch, executive director of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and industry.

Scheduled for Sept. 7-8 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Sunday, this fair will have more artists and crafters with a larger variety of wares than ever before. The event will take place on Toft Street (one block west of Route 83) between Lake Street and Orchard.

"It's unusual, but very encouraging," said Porch. "Artists and crafters are hearing that we have a great show and want to be involved. It also means that the community is supportive, and that has allowed for steady growth."

There will be various painters, ceramics, candles, jewelry, scroll work, chimes, pottery, needle point, door mats, hair accessories and a variety of wood products like shelving, containers and carvings. New to the lineup are metal sculpture, personalized children's books, handcrafted scrapbook kits and children's hand molds.

"Additionally, we have new apparel crafters and holiday décor crafters," said Porch. "We have new vendors and join us with each fair, and the ones who have been with us before keep coming back."

A new tradition in the making is that some musicians have been added who will softly play music and sell their own CDs.

Porch said, "A nice variety of food will be available for the arts and crafts consumers."

Once is not enough for 'zero tolerance' offender

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

A young driver, with a penchant for Teddy Graham crackers, Sobe soft drinks and cannabis, found himself in trouble twice in five days.

Steven M. Stewart, 18, of 3361 Victoria, Waukegan, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Sept. 23, and charged with possession of cannabis and underage drinking just days after the same charges were made.

On Sept. 19, at 2:38 a.m., Stewart was found by Lindenhurst Police, sleeping in his car parked on Robincrest and Quail. At that time, he was found to be in possession of a cigarette containing a substance that field tested positive as cannabis.

A breath test yielded a result of .054 BAC.

At that time, Stewart was charged with possession of cannabis, "zero tolerance" (for underage drinking), driving with tinted windows and failure to notify the secretary of state of an address change.

He was released on a $1,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-405, on Sept. 9, at 9 a.m.

At the time, police took inventory of the following items: a stump of a marijuana cigarette, a "key-chain-sized" scale, cigarette rolling papers, a 20-ounce bottle of Sobe Lightning soft drink and a 3-ounce bag of Teddy Grahams. The items were taken into evidence.

Five days later, Teddy Grahams reappeared in a repeat performance.

On Aug. 23, at 4:10 a.m., Lindenhurst Police observed a vehicle with darkly tinted windows driving diagonally across the parking lot of Eagle Market, at Grand Avenue, just east of Munn Road.

The car, later discovered to be driven by Stewart, turned onto Munn and then made a wide turn onto Mallard Ridge Drive, and from there, to Dittmer Lane.

On Dittmer, the car drove up the left side of the 2-lane road, finally turning left into a parking lot.

When asked for his license, Stewart produced the citation from the previous arrest. Detecting an odor of alcohol on Stewart's person, and an odor of burnt cannabis in the car, police requested the occupants of the car take PBTs (preliminary breath tests).

A passenger in the rear seat tested at .000 BAC, and was not charged.

Stewart failed four of four field sobriety tests, and tested at .052 BAC on the PBT. He admitted drinking "one-and-a-half or two beers." A subsequent breath test yielded a result of .017 BAC. He was asked to submit to blood and urine tests, but refused, saying he expected to test positive for cannabis.

The front seat passenger, Bryson D. Griffin, 19, of 2208 Sprucewood, Lindenhurst, tested at .010 BAC.

He told police the bottle of Sobe Lightning and the 3-ounce bag of Teddy Grahams in the car had been given to him by a friend, and that he went into Eagle to "buy Band-Aids." A clerk at Eagle told police he had seen Griffin enter the store, but he had not purchased anything.

The crackers and drink were priced at 99 cents and $1.49, respectively.

Police inventory of the vehicle listed a stub of a marijuana cigarette (found in the ashtray), a postage scale and rolling papers.

An I-pass was found in the car. All the occupants denied knowledge of ownership.

Police, again, took all the inventoried items as evidence.

Stewart was, once again, charged with obstruction of vehicle windows, failure to notify the secretary of state of an address change, consumption of alcohol by a minor and possession of cannabis. Additionally, he was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road, possession of drug paraphernalia and DUI.

Griffin was charged with consumption of alcohol by a minor and retail theft.

Both are to appear in Waukegan courtroom C-405 on Sept. 10 at 9 a.m. Both were released to the custody of their mothers.

Pass a school bus, lose license

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

With school back in session, a reminder about driving laws with regard to school buses and crosswalks is in order.

"The penalty is hefty," said Det. Daryl Youngs of the Antioch Police Dept. "Passing a school bus requires a mandatory court appearance." One or more offenses can result in either the suspension or revocation of one's driver's license.

According to Youngs, the rules are based on whether or not children are present. One cannot pass a school bus if the arm is extended, if the buses are lined up with children present. "A car must stop before meeting the bus (from either direction, when children are present and the arm is out)," said Youngs. "This includes when you're on a private road or on school property."

The exception to this rule is when one is coming from the opposite direction on a four-lane road or highway. In that situation, it is not necessary stop but Youngs cautioned, "Unless the road is divided by a concrete median, you are taking the chance of a kid running out in front of you."

With regard to crosswalks, whether school crosswalks or otherwise, Youngs said, "We are obligated to give pedestrians the right away. Sometimes you can see someone waiting in an official painted crosswalk forever and no cars stop. People get in a hurry and either don't want to or forget that they are supposed to stop."

Youngs added, "It's good to get this type of information out at the beginning of the school year to give people a reminder."

Successful golf outing supports District 34

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

With over 118 golfers in attendance, not to mention raffle participation and dinner-only attendees, the District 34 (Community Consolidated District 34) Educational Foundation had no problem keeping with previous years in its fundraising efforts for the district.

"All of the money we raise at our golf outing goes directly back to the students," said Kathy Wilson, president of the foundation.

In the past, the foundation has raised $10,000-13,000 during this event. The money has been used for computers, as mini-grants for creative teachers who have come up with new programs, to furnish early childhood classrooms and to sponsor students for the Odyssey of the Mind competition.

"We continually work on updating computers," said Wilson. "Our libraries are kind of short after the reorganization with the new building, so books are a priority."

Long-time golfer Kay Blake made her first hole-in-one shot at the outing. Jay Marshall took the title for longest drive for men, and Carol Shaa is the title-holder for women. Deb Kerr and Jim Fitzgerald were closest to the pin.

Deb Horan and Al Lengren had the longest putts.

Brian Wilson and J. Andre share the lowest score for men. Wilson and Deb Kerr share the lowest score for women.

"This golf outing was a lot of fun," said foundation member Therea Kovach. "It was quite a success."

Teens, juveniles arrested in marina burglaries

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Two 17-year-olds and two juveniles were arrested in two separated and unrelated marina burglaries in unincorporated Antioch.

"The arrests came through investigation," said Sgt. Gary Govekar with the Lake County Sheriff's Department. "Our investigators did a fine job."

Govekar said both Michael B. Johnson, 17, of 23505 Beach Grove Road, Antioch, and Amber Moser, 17, of 30 Point Place, Fox Lake, were charged as adults in the two burglaries.

Johnson and another juvenile from Antioch allegedly burglarized the Inland Harbor Marina, on Broadway, Antioch. Three trailers were burglarized and two golf carts were stolen.

A total of $4,650 in property was recovered that included stereo and camera equipment as well as a few miscellaneous items in addition to the two golf carts. Johnson and the juvenile were charged with three counts of residential burglary and two counts of theft for the golf carts.

Moser and a different Antioch juvenile face charges for allegedly entering 20 boats for the purposes of committing thefts at the New Port Cove Marina, on Bluff Lake Road, Antioch. Ten of the boats entered had items removed from them.

"Mostly stereo equipment was taken," said Govekar. "Kenwood was the preferred brand."

Property totaling $1,350 was recovered that included two Kenwood CD radio stereos were taken, as well as two Kenwood amps and speakers. Additionally a pair of Sony speakers was taken and two Motorola two-way radios.

Moser is charged with one count of possession of stolen property and the juvenile is charged with 20 counts of burglary. Additional arrests are expected in this matter.

"These offenses are all probationable," said Govekar. "Burglary is a class 2 felony and can carry 3-7 years, but there is no mandatory sentencing."

'See You in September' marks end of Friday Fest

OUR TOWN

Julie Murphy

Things have been bustling all summer long at the William E. Brook Memorial Wetland Sanctuary and Entertainment Center with the weekly Friday Fests and it will seem quiet after the last one is held on Aug. 30. The series will be completed under the theme of "See You in September."

Lionhart Martial Arts will perform on the entertainment stage at 3:30 p.m. Jerry's Basement will take the stage at 5 p.m. playing a variety of classic and modern rock 'n roll.

Crow's Feet, a long-standing Antioch favorite, will play following Jerry's Basement. During this performance, the Village of Antioch will honor Illinois State champion title-holders for 9- to 10-year-olds from Antioch Youth Girls Baseball.

The culmination will be when the Lakes Area Community Band takes the stage from 8-9:30 p.m.

The "See You in September" theme is appropriate as the farmers' market vendors will continue to bring their wares to 900 Skidmore throughout September and October from 3-7 p.m. (as long as the produce holds out).

As with all previous Friday Fests, live entertainment will be performed at the William E. Brooks Memorial Wetland Entertainment Center located behind the stores that line the east side of Main St. at 900 Skidmore.

Antioch's fire, police and rescue departments will be honored at the September membership luncheon of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry. All members of each of these three departments are invited to the luncheon.

The Chamber is asking that residents nominate someone who has provided outstanding service from one of these three departments to help acknowledge and recognize dedicated personnel.

Nominations should be submitted to the Chamber by Sept. 5, and can be done through the mail to 882 Main Street, via fax at 847-395-8954 or by email at www.info@antiochchamber.org. Nominations will not be accepted over the phone.

Additionally, the Chamber asks that the nominator's name, address and phone number be included in case there are questions about the nomination.

New parks programs enliven fall schedule

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

New programs have been added to the Antioch parks department's fall schedule that will keep things lively for residents of all ages.

"We're very excited about the fall and winter programs we have to offer," said Laurie Stahl, department director. "We've added some new programs and increased the frequency of some others."

Among the new programs is one intended for 3-year-olds called Little Feet Stepping Out.

"Little Feet Stepping Out is a program for 3-year-olds who are ready for a structured class-like environment away from home," said Stahl. "The class includes playtime, an organized project and either song or reading time."

The class, taught by Camp Crayon teachers, will run on Monday afternoons at the parks building located at 806 Holbek Drive (across from the fire station and senior center) from 1-2:30 p.m. beginning on Sept. 30.

Cool Crafts for Kids is returning on Monday, Sept. 9 from 4-5 p.m. in the parks building for 8- to 16-year-olds.

Stahl said, "Participants will use assorted media to create a one-of-a-kind notebook that can be used for schoolwork, as a journal, a memory book or even as an autograph book."

Those wishing to take this class should plan to bring photos, ticket stubs, magazine pictures and other flat mementos to individualize the project.

Eight- to 12-year-olds with energy to burn can take bowling lessons at the Antioch Bowling Lanes on Wednesdays.

"Lessons run from Sept. 4-25 from 5-6 p.m.," said Stahl. "The balls and shoes are supplied as part of the program."

Gymnastic classes begin on Sept. 7 (through Nov. 23) at the Gymnastics Zone for 3-8 year old children. Three-year-olds will meet from 9-9:40 a.m. followed by 4- to 5-year-olds from 9:40-10:30 a.m. and 6- to 8-year-olds from 10:30-11:30 a.m.

"American Stars of Dance is also offering a class at its studio through the parks and recreation department," said Stahl. "The Parent/Tot Boogie Babies class is for parent and children aged 18 months to 3 years. It begins on Sept. 6 and runs eight weeks on Friday mornings from 9:45-10:30 a.m."

'Road rage' kills 2, LV man charged

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

In the aftermath of an alleged "road rage" incident, two Waukegan men were killed following a high-speed chase involving at least one drunk driver.

Makowan

David Makowan, 33, of 39169 N. Poplar St., Lake Villa, told Waukegan Police he was attempting to flee from another driver who had threatened him in a traffic altercation.

Makowan is now in custody of the Lake County Jail, held on $150,000 bond, with charges including reckless homicide. Police are seeking the other driver involved in the chase.

At 12:53 a.m., on Aug, 23, Makowan, heading southbound on Lewis, reportedly sped through a red light at the intersection of Lewis and Ridgeland avenues in Waukegan, broadsiding a 1989 Chevrolet Cavalier traveling west on Ridgeland.

One of the Cavalier's occupants, Oscar Sanchez-Ordonez, 22, of Waukegan, was pronounced dead at the scene. His cousin, Orlin Fererra-Ordonez, 24, also of Waukegan, died soon after arrival at St. Therese Hospital.

Both victims had been thrown about 50 feet from the car.

"The vehicle was torn in half by the impact," said Waukegan Police Lt. Wayne Hunter.

Hunter said an accident reconstruction specialist had determined that Makowan's car was traveling at 80-85 mph on impact.

Makowan was taken to St. Therese for treatment of minor injuries. A blood test yielded a result of .221 BAC, nearly three times the legal limit of .08 percent.

He was charged with two counts of reckless homicide, DUI, speeding and disobeying a traffic signal.

On the reckless homicide charges, if convicted, Makowan faces up to 28 years in prison.

According to Waukegan Police, Makowan, driving a 1992 Chevrolet van, and another driver, in an Oldsmobile Cutlass, were headed south on Lewis. They exchanged obscene gestures as they approached York House Road. Makowan honked his horn at the stoplight. At that point, according to police, one of the Cutlass' occupants exited the car, and punched Makowan in the face.

Makowan pulled out from behind the Cutlass, continuing south, with the Cutlass in pursuit.

At Ridgeland, Makowan streaked through a red light, colliding with the Cavalier.

The Cutlass fled the scene. A $150,000 arrest warrant has been issued for the driver.

A 21-year-old Lake Villa man who was a passenger in Makowan's car was not charged with any offenses.

Private Lessons

Private lessons are recommended for any student who wishes to complement their regular training class. A private lesson may beneficial to a student who is having a difficult time with a particular skill or kata. Private lessons can also help with the overall progress of a student. Talk to Sensei Anna to schedule private lesson or to give a certificate (for those special occasions) for one.

Fundraising

For anyone who is interested in being a part of the fundraising committee, plan on attending a meeting scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 21 at 1 p.m. The year's fundraisers will be discussed and also what the funds will be used for. Become involved with the school by giving some ideas and participating with the fundraising committee.

Summer Class attendance

Some people have been attending summer classes to try to get a lunch with Sensei and I think it's going to happen. A total will be given at the end of August to see who qualifies for the summer prizes. Make sure to show your attendance card to Sensei on the first day of classes in September.

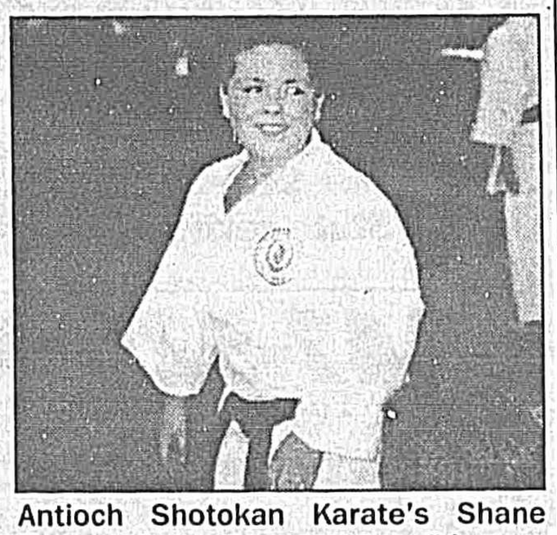

ASK fall camp out

On the weekend of Sept. 20-22, ASK will be traveling to the State Park to camp out. Bring your bikes, sticks for making s'mores, etc. and be ready to go biking on the trails, having a sing-a-long at the camp fire and enjoying some relaxing time with family and friends. Don't forget your fishing equipment.

Register at the State Park for your site. It will be the Turner Lake South part of the park. Reservations are mandatory to keep your site available.

Hawii All-State Tournament

Feel like having some fun in the sun on the beautiful island of Oahu? In the fall of 2003, ASK will be taking a competition team to Oahu for their All-State Hawiian Championships.

Tentatively, we will be traveling on the Friday after Thanksgiving and staying until the following Saturday. A one day tournament, training and lots of fun are on the agenda. Anyone interested can sign up at the dojo. A meeting will be scheduled as soon as possible.

Celebration held for preschool at Good Shepherd

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

About a dozen alumni families and members of the Good Shepherd Church gathered on Aug. 25 to celebrate the first decade of the Good Shepherd Christian Preschool.

Alumni photos—past and present—were displayed along with a list of accomplishments. The first class held at the preschool is on its way into high school this semester.

The school maintains a family atmosphere with small classes. The 4-year-olds' class is now full, at 19, but the 3-year-old's group numbers only eight.

"We like to keep the 4-year-old class at under 20, and the 3-year-old at 16 or less," said school director Sue McHale.

McHale is one of two teachers at the school. McHale and Virginia Smith have been there since the beginning.

"When we started the school, in 1992, the church was celebrating its 30th year," McHale said.

The two age groups are staggered, so both teachers are able to be in the classroom at the same time, keeping a teacher-student ration of 1-to-10 for the older group and 1-to-8 for the younger group.

McHale received her master's degree at National Louis University. Smith received her bachelor's degree at Southern Illinois University.

The school emphasizes Christian values, as students participate in activities including pre-reading, pre-math, painting, drawing, music and large motor skills.

Social responsibility is taught through action, as well. For the past seven years, the children have participated in a Bike-A-Thon for St. Jude's hospital for Children. Last year, they raised a total of $585.

"For the past five years, we have adopted a family each Christmas, through the Lake Villa township," McHale said.

Openings are still available for the 3-year-old class, which meets Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 9-11:30 a.m. Classes begin on Sept. 4.

Local fishermen win $6000 for limit of bass

NEWS-WORTHY

Sharon Westbrook

Greg Dixon of Antioch and Mark Hewkin of Zion fished as partners for an open tournament on August 10th in Gibraltar, Michigan. The tournament, sponsored by Wonderland Marine West in Howell, Michigan, consisted of 124 entries from both the U.S. and Canada.

"The weather conditions were very favorable," said Greg, "with only two and a half foot waves even on practice day." Greg and Mark launched out of Metro Park on Lake Erie. They fished Canadian waters out of Lake Erie and caught a limit of five small mouth bass weighing a total of 19.91 lbs. The biggest fish was 4.92 lbs. What did they catch the fish on? "We caught 'em on tube jigs," replied Greg.

For finishing second place Greg and Mark split the $5000 win. They also split a $1000 bounty for being the top Yamaha engine finisher. Greg was quick to add that he was not the guide. He rode with Mark Hewkin who had previously won a boat owner's tournament.

As I questioned Greg about his previous wins, he admitted he won a Ranger Bass Boat in a C.B.F.A. (now Northland Bass) year-end qualifier's tournament in 1986. That tournament was fished on the Fox Chain and was sponsored by Ranger Boats and Johnson Outboards. In 1988 Dave Dziki of Antioch and Greg fished the Tournament of Champions as partners and won a Champion Boat.

When Greg Dixon isn't out fishing, he's very busy running his business, Triangle Sports and Marine. Triangle is located at 23480 W. Grass Lake Road in Antioch (just west of Rte. 83). The business was established in 1948 by Greg's parents, Robert and Toni Dixon. Greg took over the business in 1977 just four years after graduating from Antioch High School.

Triangle has one full-time and four part-time employees. It is open seven days a week. Hours are 5:30 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday through Friday, 5 a.m.-7 p.m. on Saturday, and 5 a.m-6 p.m. on Sunday. The phone number is 847-395-0813.

A personal note

Greg Dixon's wife Kit is a 5th grade teacher at Pleviak School in Lake Villa. His 21-year-old son Greg works in shipping and receiving at Interplex in Lake Villa. Daughter Chelsea is 16 and a junior at Antioch Community High School. She is a member of the ACHS swim team. Greg's son John who is 13 is in 8th grade at Antioch Upper Grade School. John entered the IKWF (Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation) Tournament last March at Southern Illinois University and won the 89 lb. Novice State Championship.

Card (and coin) sharps

By MARC JENKINS News Editor

It's in the cards

Remember when you were a kid and you took your baseball cards and clothepinned them to your bicycle spokes to make your bike into a motorcycle?

Little did you know that some of those cards are now worth enough to buy a motorcycle.

Michael Smith was one of those who didn't. He just kept on collecting and collecting those cards until he had accumulated enough to open up a store.

Which is exactly what he did last year.

Smith, of Vernon Hills, looking for a name for his new store, looked down at his children, Justin and Grant, and found a moniker: Justin-Grant Collectibles.

After starting with about $1,000 in inventory, mostly his own collection, Smith now has everything for sale from new packs of baseball cards to jerseys and balls featuring the signatures of Walter Payton, Sammy Sosa, Brett Favre and Brian Urlacher.

Tired of his last job as a show coordinator for the Sheridan in Chicago for the past five years, Smith and his wife, Cheryl Smith, "the brains of the business," he says, set up shop at Route 60 and Aspen Drive in Vernon Hills.

"I was looking for an idea for our own business," Smith, 42, said. "We thought we'd give it a shot, and here we are."

While the market for sports memorabilia has gone through the roof in the past decade, you would think Smith would be out to just turn a quick buck on a booming business.

You would also be wrong.

"I keep the prices low because I like to see people come back," Smith said.

Up until the '80s, cards were merely headshots of players on flimsy cardboard. Some of today's cards even feature small pieces of game-used bats and players' jerseys mounted into the card, which spikes the value of a pack to almost $7, even though you're not guaranteed to get one.

"It's made collecting that much more fun," Smith said. "You can get a piece of sports history without having to break your bank account for it."

With so many star athletes living in the area, Smith's store is starting to bulge with some top-of-the-line collectibles.

And his store is also starting to attract top-of-the-line sports celebrities.

Just this month, Smith landed former Chicago Cubs third baseman Ron Santo

The other side of the coin

Don't blame Mike Moczalla if he wants to give you his two cents worth when it comes to collecting coins.

After all, that's exactly how he got started.

When he was about 8 years old, Moczalla found two wheat-back pennies in some change and thought they were "neat."

His grandmother kept him interested throughout the years in the hobby. And Moczalla started to amass a large coin collection that was unrivaled amongst his peers.

Now 37, Moczalla turned his love of coins into a viable business, operating his MGM Coins and Collectibles out of Justin-Grant Collectibles in Vernon Hills.

After spending his childhood collecting coins, he put his hobby on the shelf for a while and started up again in the mid-'90s when his wife, Debra Moczalla, found a dollar bill with a "fold-over error" on it in her purse. Moczalla was hooked again, but this time with paper money.

"That minor discovery turned into a passion," Moczalla, a 1982 Stevenson grad, said. "Money is like history in your hands. You could get a silver dollar from the 1840s or 1850s that Abraham Lincoln might have held. And the good thing is, is that currency never loses its value."

His wife's accidental discovery wasn't the only thing of value the Moczallas have found accidentally. They have also found an inverted star note error on a $20, which is now worth $2,000.

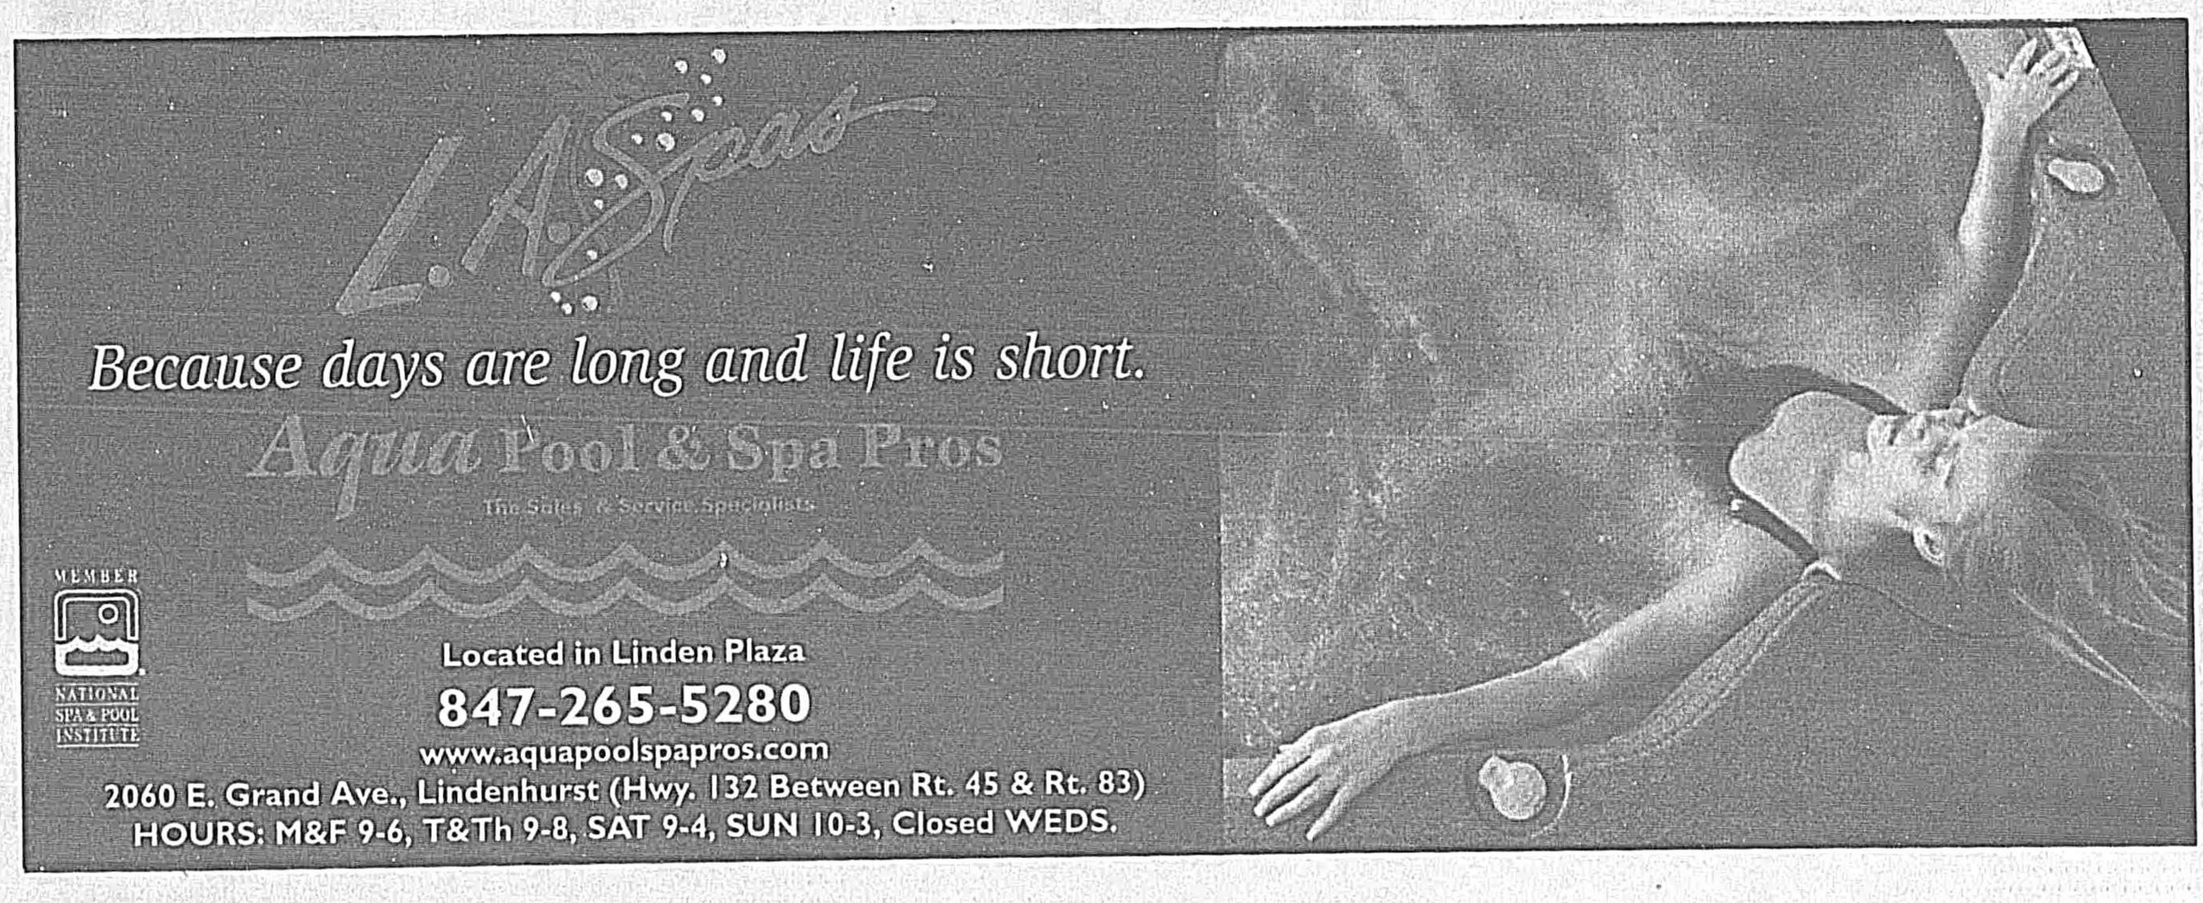

"Sometimes money is worth a lot more than its face value," said Moczalla, of Libertyville.

Interest in U.S. money might be as big as it ever has been, Moczalla said. With the state quarters booming in popularity, many people are catching "coin fever."

"State coins have generated a lot of interest," Moczalla said. "They're good for the country, good for the economy, because people are going to hold on to them."

Proof sets (uncirculated mint-condition coins) of the 1999 state quarters, which sold for about $23 three years ago have already climbed to $55, Moczalla said.

Phenomenon of ACD Festival sparked 50 years ago

weekend diversions

Auburn, Cord, Duesenberg — these three classic car brand names trip easily off the tongues of car enthusiasts around the world. The annual Auburn Cord Duesenberg Festival, through Sept. 2 in Auburn, Ind, which brings 300,000 visitors to the small northeast Indiana town where the history of the cars intertwines, guarantees that the names will not soon be forgotten.

But that wasn't always the case. This year, 2002, marks the 50th anniversary of the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg Club. From this tiny seed, a large and still growing interest in the history of these classic cars took root.

In the early 1950s, Auburns, Cords and Duesenbergs that now sell for millions of dollars sat in used car lots, junkyards and barns. They were in danger of following the fate of hundreds of other early automobile brands, which had sprouted with giddy ambition all over America's Midwest early in the 20th century but quickly shriveled under intense competition to become mere historical footnotes.

There was something special, however, about Auburn, Cord and Duesenberg cars, something that wouldn't let them die.

First, there was the bittersweet automotive love story behind their creations. Super car salesman Errett Lobban (E.L.) Cord wanted to build a transportation empire and rule over it as king. In 1926, after performing miracles of management and promotion, he completed his revival of the dying Auburn Automobile Company of Auburn, Ind. and assumed its total control.

Later that year, he bought the stylishly stodgy but technologically inspired Duesenberg Automobile and Motors Corporation of Indianapolis. And, in 1929, he created a new, shockingly innovative car brand, one that bore his own name — Cord.

In the late 1920s and early 1930s, with Cord's automotive empire based in Auburn, the cars reached an apex of style, speed, performance and popularity.

Then, from the dizzy heights of success, Auburn Automobile Co. fell and landed in bankruptcy.

It closed its doors in 1937.

CARDS

for an autograph signing.

Plans for other popular Cubs and Bears players are in the works. But as Smith is fast finding out, it's a business to the players as well.

"Ernie Banks could cost as much as $10,000 to have him in for only two hours. Brian Urlacher is even more than that," Smith said. "I hope to have more signings."

As if building one of the county's largest stocks of sports memorabilia wasn't enough, Justin-Grant Collectibles now boasts what's called the largest selection of paper currency in the county.

About three months ago, Grant started subleasing space in his store to Mike Moczalla, a coin collector and seller.

"I originally had some coins for sale myself," Smith said. "But people would laugh and snicker at the collection. Mike's collection is just so vast.

"When he came to me, I said, 'If you're going to go into business, you help me and I'll help you.' "

Like the cards he sells, it looks like an investment that's sure to increase in value.

Justin-Grant Collectibles and MGM Currency & Collectibles are located together in Vernon Plaza, at 103 E. Townline Rd. in Vernon Hills. The number for both stores is 847-918-1261.

COINS

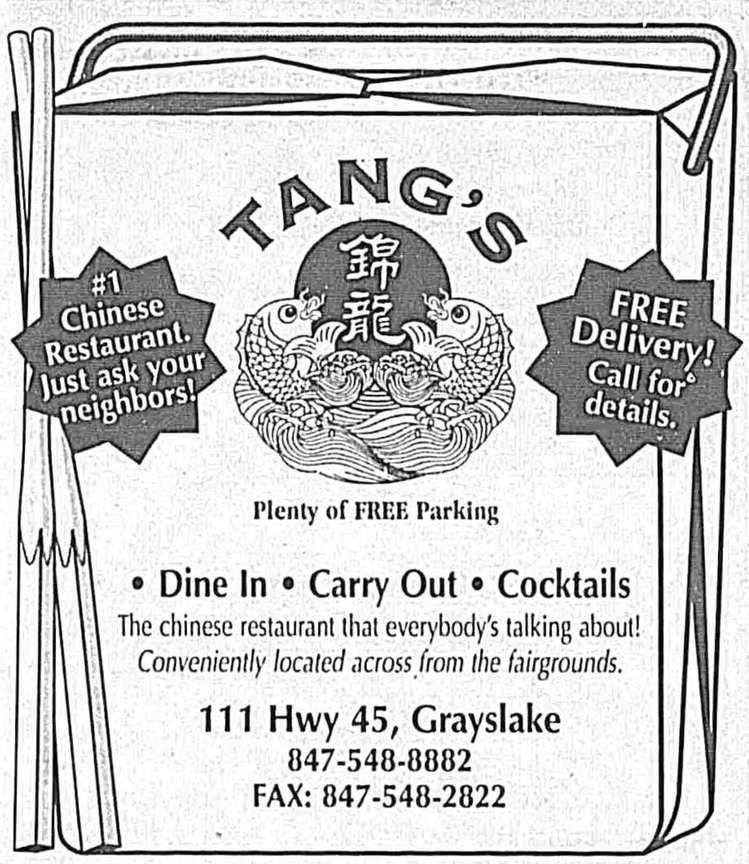

"I really like what Mike has for sale," said Bob Hume of Vernon Hills, an avid coin collector as well and frequent visitor to the store. "They can't get me out of there, they have so much cool stuff."

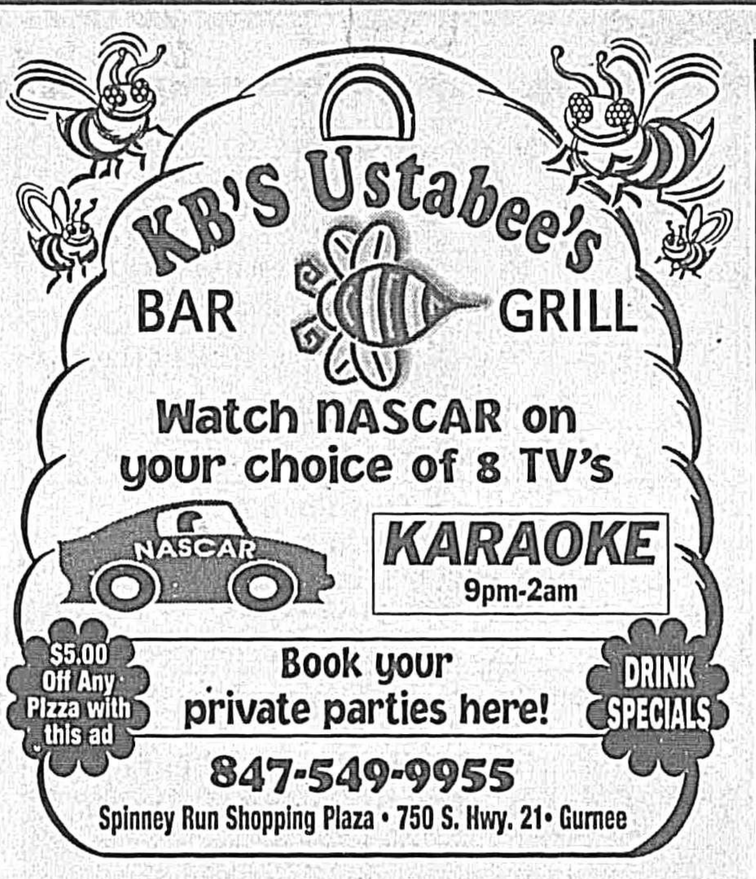

In addition to his large collection of paper money, Moczalla sells a variety of coins too. Those include everything from state quarters to the oldest item in the store, a quarter from 1818 worth $200.

"I have a selection of larger-size currency too, stuff you didn't know existed, currency from a bygone era," Moczalla said. "I started collecting again as something to pass down to the kids. But it's a passion for me again now."

Caregivers need help too

A seminar for those giving care and support to aging loved ones- featuring Patti Davis

Most all of us have been or will soon be a family caregiver. At times it's just "being there" for an aged loved one, but most often friend and family caregivers take on a more active role of assisting with healthcare, housing and financial issues for someone who can no longer do it themselves.

The Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, in association with its 7th Annual Senior Lifestyle Expo, will answer "What now?" and other important questions at its Sept. 3 seminar, "Caregivers Need Help Too!" The seminar will be held from 7-9 p.m. at Drury Lane Oakbrook Terrace and is open to anyone that is a caregiver now or will be in the future. Families are encouraged to attend and on-site care services will be available for elder loved ones.

Featured as a speaker for this year's seminar is Patti Davis, best-selling author of "Angels Don't Die," and daughter of Ronald and Nancy Reagan. Davis will give a moving presentation about healing, reconciliation and her rediscovery of the power of family. Davis is currently writing "A Long Goodbye," which deals with her family's experience as they lose their father to Alzheimer's disease.

According to the National Family Caregivers Association (NFCA), more than one quarter (26.6%) of the adult population has provided care to a family member or friend during the past year, translating to more than 54 million people. Caregivers focus on what their loved ones need. Now the Family Caregiver Support Program focuses on what caregivers need to help them take better care of their loved ones.

The National Family Caregiver Support Program calls for all states, working in partnership with Area Agencies on Aging and local community-service providers, to have five basic services for family caregivers, including:

- Information about available services
- Assistance in gaining access to supportive services
- Individual counseling, support groups, and caregiver training to assist in making decisions and solving problems relating to their caregiving roles
- Respite care to allow for temporary relief from their caregiving responsibilities
- Supplemental services, on a limited basis, to complement the care provided by caregivers.

"Although caregiving is now a normative phase of family life, many families enter this stage unprepared," said Connie Kobitter, Special Events Manager, Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging "We're looking to give caregivers important information before the crisis hits, which is when they normally call our office in dire need. Our seminar hopes to address many issues that will become important in the caregivers' future."

The seminar is free to attend and refreshments will be served. The first 75 preregistrations will receive "The Caregiver Helpbook, Powerful Tools for Caregiving"at no charge. Preregistration is only required to receive the book (first come, first served). This is a working guide from Legacy Health System on how to thrive during, not merely survive one's caregiving experience. In addition to Davis's presentation, many companies will be on hand before and after to disseminate important information on the various issues of importance to this audience.

For further information on this upcoming caregiving seminar or to RSVP that you will attend, call 630-293-5990.

Local 'Love Boat' offers views of Chain O' Lakes scenery

A two-hour cruise of the Chain O' Lakes area will mark the maiden voyage of Fox Lake's version of the "Love Boat."

The initial voyage was christened by Famous Freddie's Roadhouse owner Fred Hoffman and village officials on Aug. 1, at the restaurant, at 510 Park Ave. in Fox Lake.

The 48-foot enclosed cruiser has all the amenities, from two decks to air conditioning, according to Colleen Ryan, spokesman for Ala Carte Entertainment, which owns the Fox Lake eateries Famous Freddie's and Moretti's.

The maiden voyage was scheduled for a trip from Pistakee Lake to watch the boat races at Blarney's Island.

The boat is perfect for anniversaries, bachelor or bachelorette parties, or relaxing with friends on the Chain O' Lakes. Weekly scheduled cruises are available each Thursday for the boat races. The boat has its own fiber optic light and views from the upper deck. U.S. Coast Guard captains will staff the boat. Safety will be the first priority on the boat, which will have about 50 passengers.

For more information, call Famous Freddie's at 847-587-9677 to reserve your party. The Fox Lake night spot opened in 2000.

Miles of trail to open soon in Lake County Forest Preserves

Outdoor enthusiasts now can explore nearly 12 miles of additional trails and enjoy new public access improvements in forest preserves throughout Lake County. Over 100 miles of trails are now available in the Lake County Forest Preserves system.

The critical 3.8-mile link of the Des Plaines River Trail (DPRT) from Washington Street in Gurnee to Independence Grove in Libertyville opened, joining 29 of the planned 33 miles.

Spanning nearly the entire length of Lake County, this multi-use trail follows the river's edge for 29 miles. Bridges and underpasses make it possible to travel without crossing any major roads.

The Forest Preserve is also taking steps to develop a new 35-mile Millennium Trail to connect central, western and northern Lake County communities and forest preserves.

For more information about Hike Lake County or for a free preserve packet, please call 847-367-6640 or visit the Lake County Forest Preserves new web site at www.LCFPD.org.

Elvis, er, Travis wows crowd during cruise night festivities

An Ingleside eatery was indeed Elvis Central, courtesy of an Elvis Presley impersonator, Travis Morris.

Morris entertained a crowd gathered at Miller's Dog 'N Suds for the weekly cruising night each Saturday.

"I rotate the others, but I always bring him back every year," said owner Roy Miller.

This is a tough time of the year for Presley, who brought rock 'n' roll to a new level in the 1950s. Aug. 16 marked the quarter-century of the death of "The King."

"I cried when he died. I miss him. No one will ever fill his shoes," said Merle Lane of Fox Lake. "He (Morris) did a wonderful job. He sang to me and called me 'blondie.'"

Morris, from Winthrop Harbor, wore the classic slicked-down hair, and red shirt for the show on a hot summer Saturday. He did many of the more than 700 recorded hit songs Elvis did from "Blue Suede Shoes" to "Jail House Rock" and several songs with female themes.

"I have been doing this for nine years. I like it here at Dog 'N Suds because it is 1950s nostalgia," he said.

As for the Elvis look, he said his secret is to towel-dry the hair, not blow-dry it.

Morris has performed his act before as many as 12,000 people in Montreal. He said that there are "about 10" top-line Elvis impersonators.

Meanwhile, the cruising nights continue through early October. The Dog N' Suds is celebrating 35 years in business, started by Miller's parents.

"I have always been an automobile restorer. I have a 1964 Corvette. My first was a 1956 Thunderbird," said Ed Bender, a Fox Lake trustee and cruising night regular.

Cars on display this Saturday included his-and-hers 1957 Buick and two Edsels.

The newly elected Little Miss, Junior Miss and Miss Fox Lake, dropped by.

Fans of Robin Williams who loved his sinister portrayal of a killer in "Insomnia," the detective story with Al Pacino, will like this even more. Williams plays Sy, a dedicated, long time film processor at a one-hour photo shop located in a cavernous discount haven called Sav Mart. He has no personal life, choosing to enjoy the world through the pictures he develops. Nina Yorkin (Connie Nielsen) brings in pictures of her son Jake's (Dylan Smith) birthday party for processing and Sy not only knows their names but their address. Sy is the service person you meet in public that is a little too much into your personal business.

When Maya (Erin Daniels) brings her roll of film to the store, Sy thinks he's seen her before and when he makes small talk with her, it appears that he is either mistaken in his self-absorbed silliness or he's trying to strike up a conversation with an attractive woman.

It's apparent that Sy's sprockets might be wound a bit tight when he lays into the technician responsible for maintaining the color balance on the photo machine. It must be perfect. Further proof develops when we realize he has been running extra copies of Nina's prints for some time, for his own personal use. While looking at the Yorkin family photos in the restaurant where he apparently eats each evening, when his regular waitress asks if that is his family, he says "Yes." Later, in a chilling scene in Sy's starkly bare apartment, we see his rogue's gallery of pictures of Nina and her family.

He spots Maya in a picture on the wall; she is an employee of Nina's husband Will (Michael Vartan). That's where Sy has seen her before. He becomes curious about the reality of the perfect family that he has created in his mind.

"One Hour Photo" is interesting in many of its social observations and masterful with respect to the ending. Group photos at funerals notwithstanding, people tend to take pictures only of happy times. "No one takes photos of something they want to forget," says Sy. Photos are for future generations; they are taken because "I was here and someone cared enough to take my picture." Insight is provided on how a person crosses the line from eccentricity to insanity.

One of the reasons people loved "The Sixth Sense" was that so many notions became clear about prior events in the film when you saw the ending. It is the satisfaction similar to when you complete a complex puzzle. Pay close attention to the words spoken by Detective Van Der Zee (Eriq La Salle) in the opening scenes and that will help you decide what is real or not in the end. Is Sy a delusional, errant stalker who has done no harm or is he a killer? That's for you to decide. Renaissance Place Cinema in Highland Park, 847-432-9999.

Peter Falk

Monroe Hutchens (Wesley Snipes) has been the boxing champ on the "prison circuit" for the past ten years. He was a boxer on the rise until he lost his cool one night and committed a murder that resulted in a life sentence, without the possibility of parole. Inspired by events surrounding a boxer who was convicted of rape (and has bitten off the ear of an opponent in the ring) George "Iceman" Chambers (Ving Rhames) is convicted of rape and is sent to Sweetwater Prison. This is the same maximum-security facility housing Hutchens. Chambers is to serve a sentence of 6-8 years. Both fighters have long, undefeated records. They are both now in the mix, a volatile situation.

Mendy Ripstein (Peter Falk) is in for tax evasion and will probably die there because of his age and poor health; he's a lifer. His short-term memory is intermittent but he's right on with respect to recalling classic boxing matches of long ago. Due to his frail condition, Mendy is watched over on the inside by "Chuy" Campos (Jon Seda) who manages things for him. Still connected with the mob, state government and the department of corrections parole board, Ripstein arranges a fight between Hutchens and the Iceman. Motivation for Hutchens is that he can make money to send to his family on the outside; for the Iceman, his sentence will be reduced. Ripstein convinces the warden to take a vacation during the time of the fight and chief guard Merker (Michael Rooker) makes the arrangements, as this is how he makes money on the side. Everybody stands to make a big payday on this deal.

The Iceman is "celebrity arrogant" and thinks he can solve any problem and get anything with his fists, his strength, money, fame or desire. Hutchens is self-described as a man who lives in his mind. He creates intricately detailed structures out of toothpicks. He's resigned to life in prison and could care less about beating Chambers initially. When both boxers have something to gain by a match, the game is on. Chambers has an additional motivation because he has alienated all the factions inside the prison, including the warden, the black gangs coalition and the white neo-Nazis. Much of what is conveyed about prison life appears to be real such as black against white and questions you don't ask other prisoners such as "Why are you in here?" Having a boxing circuit in prisons and bringing in bookies from Las Vegas to see the fight in limousines may be stretching it a bit, but hey, this is not meant to be a documentary.

The fight is done without body doubles. Snipes and Rhames do the boxing scenes themselves. The movie audience was into it to the point that it was appropriate for people to speak out. This film has one of the more meaningful one-word titles—when it's over you truly do understand the meaning of an "Undisputed" boxing title.

NEW RELEASES

These films are currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews and Future Films at www.reel-moviecritic.com.

Opening this Week

Notorious C.H.O. ★★★★: Margaret Cho's no-holds-barred comedy concert film. She's a taboo buster in the spirit of George Carlin, Richard Pryor and Lenny Bruce. A "notorious" follow-up to her wildly funny "I'm the One That I Want." Renaissance Place Cinema in Highland Park. 847-432-9999.

Secret Ballot ★★★1/2: It's election day in a remote outpost in Iran. To complicate matters, the government has sent an election agent who is a woman! This is the last thing the soldier assigned to help her collect ballots was expecting. A delightful comedy from Iran.

The Last Kiss ★★★★: A frenzied Italian comedy involving a group of friends, all about 30, offers us a study in commitment. One young woman's parents illustrate that it doesn't necessarily get easier with age.

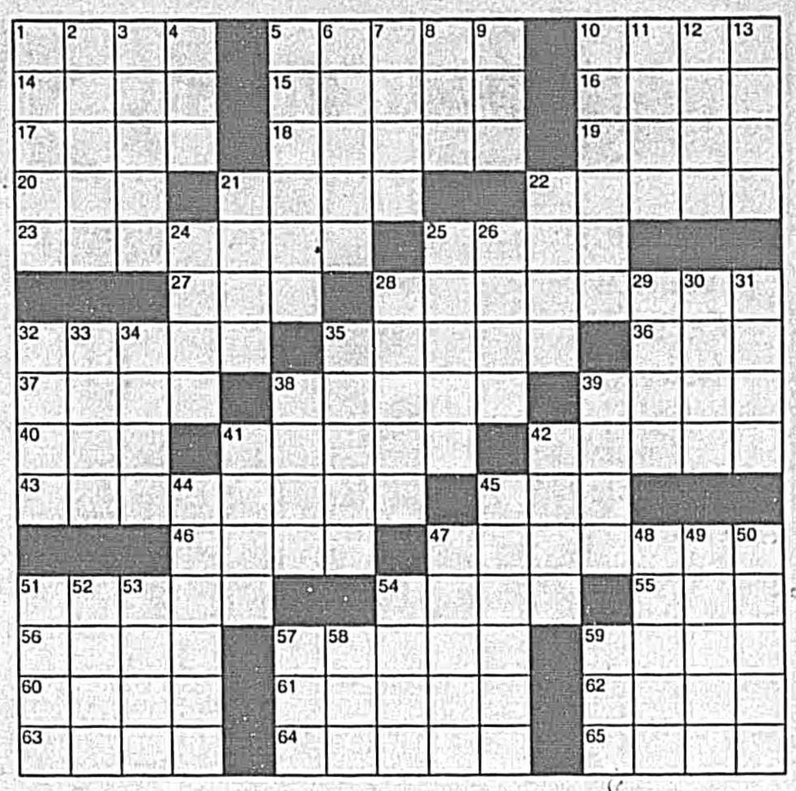

Still Playing

Good Girl, The ★★★★: Jennifer Aniston is an unhappy housewife and department store clerk who has an affair (intense as most are) with would-be writer Jake Gyllenhaal. More than a routine case of adultery, the real focus of the film is on people who are desperate to carve out a better life.

Possession ★★★1/2: Two literary sleuths find an unfinished love letter involving a revered and deceased poet, whom they are determined to discover if he had a secret affair. As they learn more about the poet, they learn about themselves. Gwyneth Paltrow and Aaron Eckhart star.

Simone ★★★: A Hollywood parable of sorts about director Viktor Taransky (Al Pacino) and his creation of a fictional mega-superstar (Rachel Roberts) using an extraordinary computer software program. Hitting the career skids after the spoiled, demanding star (Winona Ryder) of his latest picture walks out in the middle of shooting, Viktor takes advantage of a serendipitous opportunity to create Simone. As his mouthpiece, she rises to unfathomable popularity and he to the man of the hour as the only person close to her, literally.

NEUMANN

and Neumann Homes) in an effort to settle the two-year litigation over water and sewer easements in Antioch's East-Sub area.

The final plat of unit one was initially approved in February 2000 and then tabled in September of that same year due to lack of sewer and water. Sprenger and Deercrest filed a lawsuit in September 2000 as progress toward completion of the necessary water and sewer systems ground to halt.

The revised final plat was approved with five yes votes (one absent).

The first reading of the ordinance approving this revision was done one week prior with a special meeting called to hear the second reading. Both Neumann Homes and the Village of Antioch wanted the ordinance to include verbiage protecting each as per the memorandum of understanding.

Neumann Homes will be back before both the combined planning and zoning board and the village board in coming weeks with other petitions regarding its proposals on what is commonly referred to as the Anest property.

A public hearing will be held on Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the commons of Antioch Community High School (ACHS) before the combined planning and zoning board at the request of Neumann Homes. Neumann Homes is asking that the Comprehensive Plan adopted in 1991 be amended to change the zoning for the 55 acres at the intersection of Savage Road and Route 173.

The developer is asking that 29.6 acres be zoned B-3 (business service and wholesale) and that 25.8 acres be zoned R-1 for eventual use for either an elementary or middle school.

During this same public hearing, Neumann Homes will make a formal petition for the development of 960 dwelling units on 450.25 acres (the Anest/Homer White properties less the 200+ acres sold to the Lake County Forest Preserve District).

At the last regular meeting of the board of directors of the Village of Antioch, Neumann asked that the village waive the new ordinance section that requires a developer to wait one year before presenting essentially the same proposal. The board approved the request based on language in the ordinance that makes allowances for special circumstances.

An additional public hearing will be held on Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. in the commons of ACHS before the board of directors of the Village of Antioch to consider the annexation of the aforementioned 55 acres of property.

ACCIDENT

involving death. If convicted of the class 1 felony, he faces penalties ranging from probation to 3-7 years in prison.

Andrew S. Pries, 19, of 567 Garys Dr., Antioch, was charged on Aug. 23, and remanded to Lake County Jail. He was subsequently released on $40,000 bond (10 percent applied) pending arraignment on Sept. 9.

According to a report from the Lake County Sheriff's Office, investigators determined that, just before the accident, Pries and Jan Legaspi-Buduan, 16, of Lindenhurst, were driving eastbound on Gelden Road, one-third mile south of Grass Lake road, at a high rate of speed.

According to Lake County Police Sgt. Gary Govekar, investigators found marks on the roadway indicating Legaspi-Buduan was driving at speeds of up to 79 mph. As they ascended a hill, Legaspi-Buduan, in a black 1999 Honda Prelude, attempted to pass Pries, who was driving a white Mitsubishi Eclipse.

Both drivers accelerated. Legaspi-Buduan attempted to move to the right, in front of Pries, to avoid oncoming traffic. At that point, at a speed of more than 65 mph, he lost control of the car, and struck a utility pole on the north side of the road.

He and his passenger, Alexander Brown, 15, of Lake Villa, were killed instantly. Pries left the scene without stopping.

St. Ignatius Church will sell hot dogs, brats and pop as a fundraiser. Two of the Taste of Antioch Vendors, Lovely Thai Restaurant and Casperson and Co., will sell a short version of the Taste menu and funnel cakes and lemonade respectively.

Additionally, there will be kettle corn and Italian Ice for sale.

Ready for some football? Area teams will be busting through the traditional banners prior to opening kick-off, like the Round Lake Panthers (above). Most teams will open the 2002 season Aug. 30. Vernon Hills will be the only Lakeland area team playing Aug. 31 when it hosts Glenbrook North at Libertyville at 1 p.m.—File photo

Game on

The smell of grilled Italian sausages, hamburgers and hot dogs will fill the air come Aug. 30. So will, oh, a little football, Lake County style.

The first week of action always lends itself to some interesting non-conference match-ups.

This Friday will see most of the Lakeland area teams in action. The marquee match-up of first-week action will perhaps take place off Rte. 176 in Mundelein. That's where the high-flying offense of the Carmel Corsairs will tangle with highly regarded Loyola down. Carmel, which finished 11-2 overall, is set to try and duplicate its semifinal appearance in the Class 6A playoffs.

If Carmel doesn't suit your fancy, two other fine venues along Rte. 176 will be buzzing with football in the air.

Libertyville, on the heels of a NSC Lake Division crown, will play host to always powerful New Trier. Mundelein will also open at home when it plays host to a solid Ottawa team.

Vernon Hills will also entertain area fans when it opens the 2002 campaign at home, or Libertyville, against a strong Glenbrook North team from the Central Suburban League Aug. 31 at 1 p.m.

As far as the rest of the Friday night match-ups, Grant will open at home against a much improved Johnsburg team, a club it beat 20-7 last year.

Antioch looks to rebound from a 2-7 season when it travels to Skokie to face a solid Niles West team, who beat the Sequoits 34-21 in Antioch last year in the opener.

New Head Coach Glen Kozlowski and a rejuvenated Wauconda squad will kick things off at home against Harvard, a team they easily handled 29-7 in the 2001 opener.

Warren, which lost plenty of key players at the skill position, will host Waukegan. Last year, C.J. Feller tossed a late scoring strike to Ryan Treiber in leading the Devils to a 21-20 come-from-behind win.

Junior Jay Bajgert certainly remembers Grayslake's opener at Cary-Grove a year ago. It was his 85-yard punt return that vaulted the Rams past the Trojans 7-6 a year ago. This all despite six Grayslake turnovers. The same two clubs will meet Friday, only this time in Grayslake.

Round Lake, on the heels of a 6-3 season and first playoff appearance in 10 years will host interstate rival Westosha Central (Wis.).

And finally, a solid and experienced Zion-Benton team hosts always tough Deerfield in its home opening tilt.

All games Aug. 30 will kick-off at 7:30 p.m.

So take your pick!

No 'uphill' climb for these guys

The summer arrives and the high school sports seasons have officially come to a close.

It's easy to slip into that lazy mindset, at least until the late summer and fall when practices start up again.

You don't have to tell a group of about 10 former, even a couple of current, Antioch football players about staying in shape.

Whether pushed or not, they have found a way to stay at the top of their game.

That's where former Texas A&M University football player Ken Barnett enters the picture.

Three years ago, 2002 Antioch graduate and football player Mike Perrone's father approached Barnett.

"I'm kind of a friend of the family. They wanted to know how I could help their son stay in shape and work out with him during the off-season," said Barnett, who is originally from Texas and has been living in Illinois for the past four years since his wife relocated for her job.

"The first year it was just Mike. Then it just escalated from there. Football was the 'king' in Texas. But I was always curious to see what it was like up here. There's some great talent in Illinois."

And how word gets around.

The second year, Barnett's training techniques attracted regular attendees like Jeff Huebner, Dan Church, Mike and Rob Perrone, and on occasion, Pat Swanson and Eric and Brandon White. All are former Sequoit standouts.

The number then grew to as many as 10 regulars this summer.

The official 'conclusion' of Barnett's training came to an end just last week, as all of the campers, shall we say, had to head off to their respective schools for training camp.

The list this summer included regulars such as current Lake Forest College players Adam Nilles, the Perrone brothers, Don Lackey, Scott Hodina and Huebner. Church, a freshman safety playing at Wisconsin Lutheran in Milwaukee and the speedy wideout Jim Richardson, now a junior at The University of Wisconsin-Platteville, also started training with Barnett towards the beginning of this summer. Current Antioch freshman safety Kevin Huebner joined in on the regular workouts as well, which started in June.

Part of Barnett's training regimen couldn't be more conveniently located—he lives on a hill located on the northern side of town. The hill has pretty close to a 75-degree angle.

"I love 'the hill', said Barnett. "It helped me develop and come up with this training program."

Meanwhile, the players have developed a love-hate relationship for it.

"Some days you want to destroy the hill," said Lackey, who started 9 games last year at quarterback and passed for over 2,000 in his sophomore year at Lake Forest.

"But it's been great for endurance and

Not the ending Indians were hoping for

The Kenosha Senior Indians 18- and-under turned in another solid year, finishing 28-12. The team was eliminated in the Evansville regional, finishing the season 29-13. The Indians, loaded with some of the more talented players from Lake County, include, sitting, from left, Scott Coles, Larry Gempp Jr., Shawn Schuler and Mike Rosendahl. The Kenosha Indians' Senior travel baseball team, consisting of area high school standouts 18- and-under, ended its summer campaign with two straight losses in the Midwest regional held in southern Indiana.

Good news is, though, the traveling baseball program, consisting of teams on three levels, will start up play once again Sept. 8.

The 18- and-under squad experienced the most success, finishing with a 29-13 overall mark. As a team, it batted a robust .336 during the summer.

"We had a very good team but we just didn't gel at the right time," Lee Lundstrom, Kenosha Indians Director, said. "We definitely had the athletes."

Two of the players that had great seasons were Larry Gempp Jr. and Clay Kovak.

Gempp Jr., a former Grant High School student, will go to Northern Illinois University on a baseball scholarship. He led the team with a .460 average and six homeruns batting in the lead-off position.

Kovak, who excelled on the mound for the Indians, will be a senior at Mundelein High School this fall. Kovac went 3-1 on the mound while striking out 30 in just 28 and one-third innings of work.

Westosha Central's Kyle Obenauf went 6-2 on the mound. He had a .59 ERA and struck out 47 batters. Last spring, Obenauf tossed a no-hitter deep in the Wisconsin State playoffs.

"I'm not really happy with the outcome," Head Coach Paul Gagliardi said of the two losses in Southern Indiana. "But if we learned some things about baseball I think it will help us, and them, down the road."

Antioch's Chjris Malec also finished 6-2 on the hill with a 2.06 ERA, 72 strikeouts and only 28 walks issued.

The highlight of the season, according to Lundstrom, was winning the Wisconsin Kiwanii's tournament.

"Overall they played well and had a very good season," Lundstrom said.

Gagliardi was equally pleased with the Kiwanii tournament.

"It was nice. It was the first time we had ever won that tournament," Gagliardi said.

Another former Grant standout, Eric Lemcke, was right behind Gempp Jr. with a .412 batting average. Johnsburg's Fred Popp batted .388 while Shawn Schuler of Antioch hit .371. Popp also led the team with 32 RBI. Warren standout Mike Rosendahl finished with a .362 average while Grant's Brendan Lutz hit at a .333 clip. Warren's Jesse Cass batted .330. Former Sequoit standout Joe Finkelberg batted with 24 RBI and former Grant player Chad Stroup hit .311 with 18 RBI.

What happens is two guys will run full speed up the hill with belts attached to their waist. A third guy then straggles behind pulling the belts as to provide resistance.

"The training has been very helpful and is always important to do something to keep in shape," said Richardson, who attended The College of Lake County last year but returns to Platteville as a junior and starting wide receiver this fall. Proof is in the numbers as Richardson, who started training with Barnett in July, has seen his time in the 40-yard dash drop to as low as 4.37 seconds.

"It's definitely a resistance drill that teaches you running motion, helps build your legs, and helps with your stride," noted Barnett.

Aside from techniques involving 'the hill', Barnett's training program includes drills like sprints, running the bleachers at the high school and power jumps, also on 'the hill'.

"I got a little lazy last summer but want to crack the starting line-up (at Lake Forest) this fall," said Hodina, a safety who started training with Barnett and has consequently cut two-tenths off of his time in the 40-yard dash.

"It's been a great way to keep your edge, especially where speed is concerned."

Barnett's training program usually ran up to two hours a day 3-5 days a week.

"I love seeing these guys excel and push each other—it takes a lot of commitment and dedication, especially towards each other," he said. "If you want to get better not only physically, but mentally, that's what it takes (dedication)."

INDIANS

Antioch this fall, Westosha's Jeremy Maginn, Grant's Dave Behm and Grayslake catcher and senior-to-be Scott Wold rounded out a potent Indians lineup.

The Kenosha Indians program also supports two other teams: a college age team and a 16- and-under, or junior team.

The college team did not fair so well, according to Lundstrom.

"We didn't have a lot of success at that level," Lundstrom said. They ended the 2002 summer with a 25-15 record.

The Indians' junior and senior teams will start up again Sept. 8 for the beginning of their fall leagues.

Roe captures Daun Memorial

By PAUL KUYAWA
Wilmot Correspondent

The traveling Bumper to Bumper IRA Sprint Cars blew into town to challenge to the Wilmot sprint car drivers for the Wayne Daun Memorial. What ensued appeared to be an all out war. With a total of 58 winged 410 sprint cars on hand, the wet and heavy track turned into a battle zone. Todd King of Sheboygan Falls (WI) and Beach Park's Mike Dubs brought the field down for the green on the lightning fast Wilmot Speedway third-mile oval track.

King jumped into the lead at the drop of the green with Dubs chasing him down. Eight-time champion, Joe Roe of Pleasant Prairie moved into third from a sixth staring spot. King continued to lead following a caution while Roe began to challenge King for the lead on lap nine. Roe blasted by King into the lead on lap 10. King was not finished with Roe as the two traded leads every other lap at the races midpoint.

While that battle was going on, Dubs, Kenosha's Kurt Winker and Johnsburg's Dave Moulis were waging a torrid battle for third. With Roe comfortably out in front the battle for second between King, Winker and Moulis turned into an awesome fight as each tried to use lapped traffic to there advantage. A late race caution had Roe in front with three lapped cars between Roe and the second place King.

With seven laps to go Roe was poised for the victory. He continued to lead with Moulis, who slipped into the second spot and was gaining quickly. With Roe leading on the white flag lap and several drivers in position to advance their finishing spot, a snafu on the starters stand saw the red light accidentally come on at lap 39. A checkered flag was then waved by IRA officials ending the race at lap 39. Per their rule book, Roe was declared the winner of the 39 lap Wayne Daun Memorial with a hard charging Moulis finishing second. Winker wound up third, followed by Hepfner and King.

Hepfner was the real story of the night coming from the back to get into a position to challenge for a third place finish. Watching that kind of action reminded everyone of the glory days of the super modified days. Remember the days when Carmen Manzardo came from the back of the pack almost on a nightly basis?

"The race track was great all night and I had won a heck of a battle with King. He gave all that I could handle. It's a great honor to win this race, in honor of Todd Daun's father Wayne," said Roe.

Second place finishing Moulis was closing on Roe but ran out of laps.

Meanwhile, Winker had a fine third place effort.

"I just got a little lose at the end and Moulis snuck under me," Winker said.

Fast qualifier Hepfner also had a heck of a run finishing fourth after having a flat tire and having to restart at the back. He was the fastest car on the track and was poised to pass Winker for third but like Moulis, was cheated out of a chance to advance his postion.

"I hated to get that flat tire—I thought the night was done. The crew changed the tire and I thought I'd go out and roll around and get some points but the car was fast so I started picking them off and pretty soon I was up to the front runners," said Hepfner. But that was a blast. Getting the track record was a real honor."

Hepfner broke the old the track record, formerly held by Mock which stood for over six years. Hepfner posted a blistering lap with a time of 13:508 seconds.

Kenosha's Kris Techert, Kenosha won his second IMCA hobby stock A-main of the year. North Chicago's David Jones was second, Lyle Bottlemy of Genoa City third and Chicago's John Simons third in the 10 lap race.

Bristol Motors of Bristol, Wisconsin has signed on for the trophy sponsor for the remainder of the 2002 season for the IMCA Hobby Stocks.

The next race at the Wilmot Speedway is August 31. The 410 Sprint Cars will be in action along with the IMCA modifieds and IMCA Hobby Stocks. For up to the minute race and weather information you can reach the Wilmot Speedway at 262-862-2446 or keep up to speed on the Wilmot web site at www.wilmotspeedway.com. Times trials start at 6 p.m. with races to follow at 7.

High Low gets rave reviews

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

For four years, Fox Lake has waited for a downtown grocery store.

With building permits from the village finalized, High Low foods opened for business to a large crowds on Aug. 16.

"We had a huge turnout," said Claude LeMere, Fox Lake's director of community development.

Owner Frank Manzo worked with village officials and Lakeland Plaza owner Dwight Yackley for months on planning the store. It replaces PikKwik, which left the village in 1998. Parties involved in planning for the new grocery store also included Lake County Partners, Small Business Administration and Amcore Bank in McHenry.

Manzo formally thanked the Fox Lake Village Board for its support with a letter read at a board meeting.

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mayor Nancy Koske and the village trustees who have supported our grocery store. Our opening was phenomenal and far exceeded projections we had calculated. Special thanks to LeMere, community development director, for his daily attentiveness and assistance in our project. Bill Hart, building department commissioner and the staff of the building department for their patience and expertise, Ron Hoehne, superintendent of the street department, and police chief Ed Gerretsen," Manzo said.

"The village staff working together as a team along with Dwight Yackley, Lakeland Shopping Plaza owner, made my dream come true. I also want to thank LeMere for his contacts with the Lake County Partners and Amcore Bank who were able to put financial package fore our project. The residents of Fox Lake are lucky to have such a fine mayor, officials and support staff to carry out village business," Manzo said.

"It was a question of priorities. The new administration focused on 'improving the business climate of downtown Fox Lake, and with a new grocery store, viewed a key part of that redevelopment. They hired LeMere as the community development director and he was given his marching orders to focus on business development. This was the first time that the village had someone dedicated to the needs of the business community. They re-established lines of positive communication with Yackley for the purpose of revitalizing the Lakeland Plaza. During the past year, the plaza has received cosmetic improvements to go along with several new stores with additional store openings on the horizon," said Paul Jakstas, human resource director for Fox Lake.

Shoppers were asked to give their impressions as they visited on a Saturday morning, the store's second day of business.

"It is pretty good. I'll be here two times a week," said Amy Mroczka.

"It's clean, but they might lower the prices on the vegetables to keep them fresher," said Russell Scurto.

"They should call it buy low," a shopper added.

An employee told early shoppers of the unique "quarter cart" method, where a quarter is temporarily used to release a shopping cart. The shopper gets the quarter back.

"There has been a need for a grocery store for a long time," said one shopper.

"It is a good spot to come in and grab something that you need," said another. "It is nice and clean; I wish them well."

"They have a much better selection than Aldi's," said Marlene Hoppe of Round Lake. "They have a deli. They never have carts in the parking lot, just like Aldi's.'

"The deli is nice, and there is wonderful service. I hope that they are very successful," said shopper Pat Kincaid.

Shoppers were glad they no longer have to go to the far reaches of the village on Route 12 to shop. The business will assist many senior citizens who live nearby.

Hours will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Woodland unveils another new school

Gurnee—Woodland unveiled its newest school at an open house at the new Intermediate School on Hunt Club Road. The building houses fourth and fifth graders under a 318,000-sq. foot building. It is actually two schools (East and West) under one roof with a shared center. In honor of Alan Mann, a school board member who died last year, the school dedicated a memory garden in the center of the building. The new school cost $38 million to complete.

Neumann's in with Deercrest approval

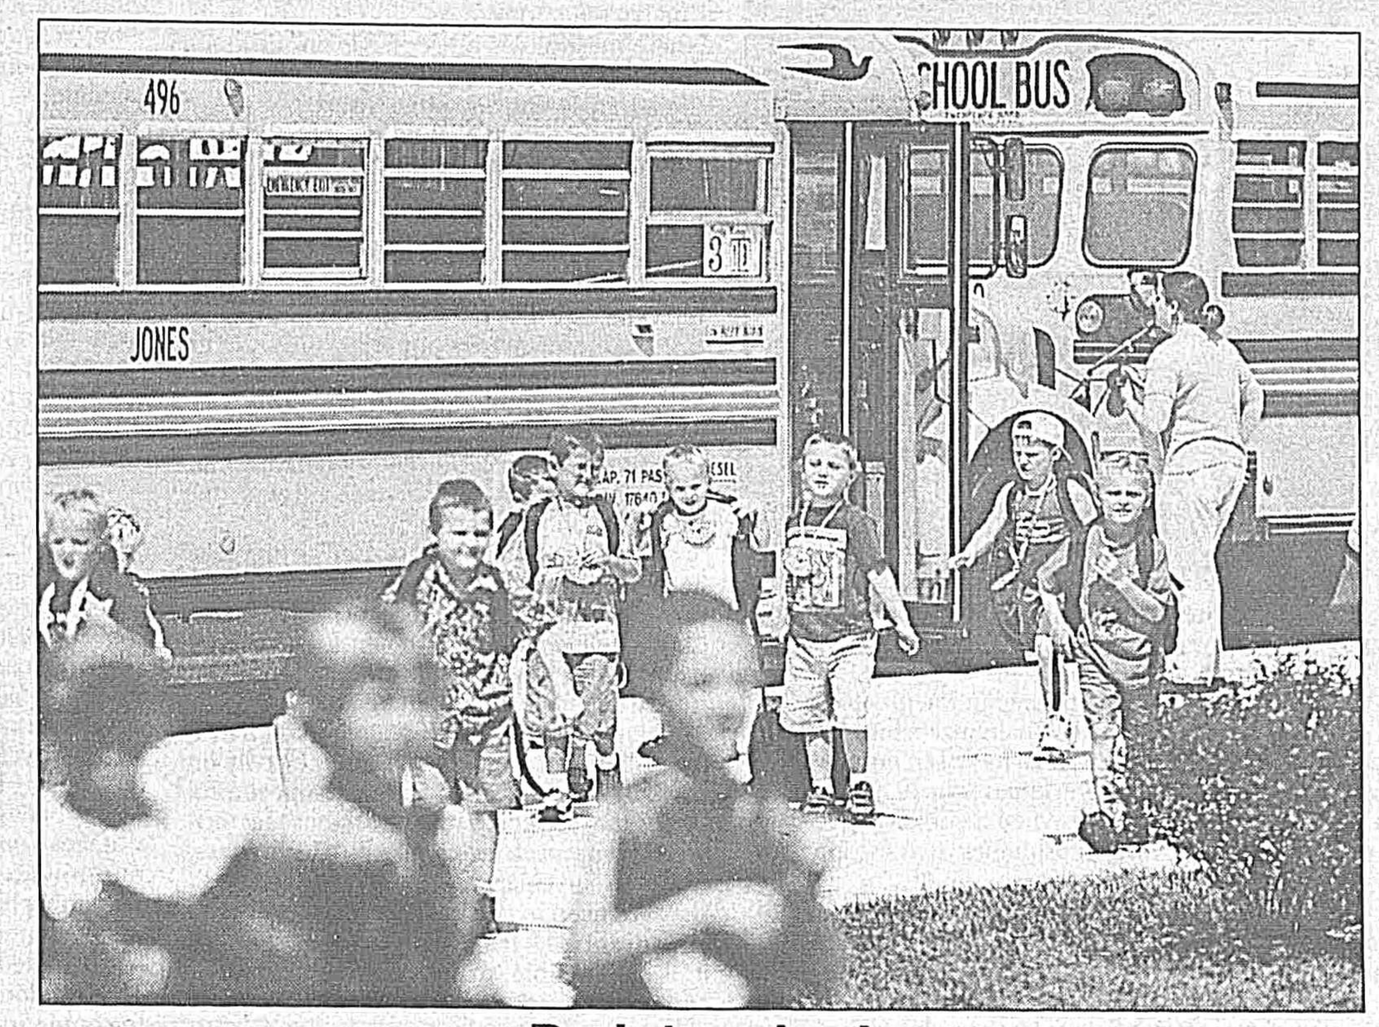

Antioch—With the village board's approval of the revised final plan for the Deercrest planned unit development, Neumann Homes becomes part of Antioch's make-up. Neumann took over the development as part of the memorandum of understanding agreed to by all parties (the village, county, Forest Preserve District, Deercrest and Neumann) in an effort to settle the two-year litigation over water and sewer easements in Antioch's East-Sub area.

Controversial bar pulls boat request

Fox Lake—An anticipated debate over a cruise boat license for Famous Freddie's Roadhouse did not materialize, after village officials denied the permit. Freddie's proposed a cruise boat to take private parties up and down the Chain O' Lakes. It was stopped after a much-publicized debut. The bar-restaurant was a point of contention because it drew large crowds to the Park Avenue neighborhood after its 2000 opening. After several meetings with neighbors, owners agreed to bus patrons to an off-site parking lot at Rollins Road. They ceased to use it when they purchased a nearby restaurant and its parking lot.

Cell phones might come back to a school near you

By CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Staff Reporter

As Illinois high school students pack their backpacks for school each night, they might want to make room for one more item this year — a cell phone.

Gov. George Ryan signed a bill this month that authorizes the use of cell phones on school property, repealing the previous ban on them in school.

However, it is up to each individual school district to vote on whether or not they want to implement the bill in their district.

"By lifting the ban, it enables the local school district to determine whether or not cell phones are allowed on school grounds," Gov. Ryan's spokeswoman Wanda Taylor said. "It's up to the school boards now."

The bill replaces decade-old legislation that prohibited cell phones in school because they were primarily used for criminal activity, which Taylor said is an outdated perspective.

"Over time, cell phone usage has changed; it's more commonplace and an everyday thing," she said. There's no longer that negative aspect, just about everyone has one."

The central role cell phones played in national tragedies such as the Columbine shootings and Sept. 11 also prompted the bill's passage.

"With Columbine, they had cell phones and were able to summon help so police knew where the students were and they could call their parents," Taylor said. "Even with Sept. 11, people on the planes had cell phones and they were able to leave messages for their family members."

Taylor also said the bill is a comfort to parents, as they would be able to contact their children when nec-

School fund back on the ballot

Grayslake—High School Dist. 127 will be looking to pass an education fund increase via referendum in November—its third try at a tax hike to build a second high school in the village. In March, the district was successful in getting a referendum passed to fund a new campus. But the accompanying education fund increase was voted down by the district residents. The district will look to pass the same rate increase it attempted during the last election—what amounts to 82 cents per day for a $200,000 home.

Man charged in crash deaths

Antioch—Andrew S. Pries, 19, of 567 Garys Dr., Antioch, was charged with failure to report a fatal accident (a class 1 felony) for his involvement in a July 19 accident that took the lives of two teenage boys during an alleged drag race on Gelden Road in Lake Villa. Pries was released from Lake County Jail after posting $40,000 bond, pending a Sept. 9 arraignment.

Traffic altercation leads to death of 2

Lake Villa—David Makowan, 33, of 39169 N. Poplar St., Lake Villa, was charged with reckless homicide, speeding and disobeying a red light, following an accident resulting in the death of two Waukegan men. The crash allegedly was preceded by an altercation between Makowan, and the driver of a third car. The other driver has not yet been questioned. Makowan was taken to St. Therese Hospital to be treated for minor injuries. Blood tests taken there showed .221 BAC, according to police reports. Makowan faces up to 28 years in prison, if convicted.

New larvicides kill mosquitoes, spare us

Organic mosquito abatement methods help preserving ecology

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER

With the emergence of West Nile virus, communities everywhere are rushing to find ways to substantially decrease mosquito populations. Lake County is no exception.

Although no human cases of West Nile have appeared in the county, a number of dead birds have been found infected with the virus. Most of the birds found were blue jays and crows, the two most common carriers of the disease. While the county leaves mosquito control up to each municipality, it is taking steps to monitor and control mosquitoes in forest preserves.

The county has contracted with Roselle-based Clarke Mosquito control, one of the nation's largest firms of its kind, to take samples of mosquitoes in traps located in the preserves and the unincorporated areas of the county.

"This is the first step in the process," said Lake County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt.

Meanwhile, Clarke has been employed to actively control mosquitoes in 40 municipalities in the county. When it comes to deciding how to control mosquitoes, two factions are emerging.

There are those that want to take a "bomb them into the stone age" approach, and hit the pests with every chemical known to man, including DDT, which was banned in the 1960s because of its harmful effects on humans.

At the other extreme are the "tree huggers" who do not want to harm any living creature, no matter what. Somewhere in the middle there is a course of action that might protect humans from the threat of mosquito-borne illnesses without compromising the food chain.

New biological technology uses naturally occurring bacteria called Bacillus Thuringiensis Israelensis (BTI), named for Israel, the place where it was first discovered. The bacteria, introduced into stagnant pools where mosquitoes breed, feeds on mosquito and black fly larvae, but is otherwise harmless to mammals, fish and other insects.

It works within 4-24 hours of application. Larvae ingest the bacillus, which then "explodes in their gut," according to George Balis, an entomologist employed by Clarke. Larvae typically take 5-7 days to mature, so this interruption in their life cycle arrests reproduction. The bacillus is harmless to anything but mosquitoes and black flies. It can pass through the food chain with no effect whatsoever on fish or mammals.

Fogging approaches killed adult mosquitoes, but leave larvae still able to hatch. Some, lying dormant in a pupa stage through the winter, hatch in the spring.

Some of the chemicals used in the past had harmful effects on humans and other animals. Although the sprays now used are safer, Clarke's experience has shown there is more than one way to kill a mosquito. Balis advocates what the EPA calls "integrated pest management" (IPM), which it describes as an ecologically-based strategy that relies heavily on natural mortality factors and seeks out control tactics that are compatible with those factors.

The approach uses a variety of techniques, based on surveillance of the area affected.

"We need to use the ecology of insects to our advantage," Balis said. He explained how it is impossible to eradicate mosquitoes entirely, but with continued mosquito abatement, the spread of disease can be controlled.

In both personal and ecological mosquito control, a delicate balance is required. Too little preventive action and mosquitoes can overtake an area. Too much interference and the cure can be worse than the problem.

"According to the EPA, all the products now used in mosquito control are safe when used as labeled," Balis said. "I stress 'as labeled.'" The entomologist noted that many people are tempted to believe if a little is good, more is better.

"These products are designed to be used with low dosages," he remarked. The same cautions that apply to sprays, fogging and other methods also apply to personal protection. While DEET (N,N-diethyl-m-toluamide or, sometimes, N,N-diethly-3-methylbenamide) is not harmful when used as directed, it can present problems when misapplied. Guidelines for use of DEET are as follows:

Use enough repellent to cover exposed skin or clothing. Do not apply repellent to skin that is under clothing. Heavy application is not necessary to achieve protection. Do not apply repellent to cuts, wounds or irritated skin. After returning indoors, wash treated skin with soap and water. Do not spray aerosol or pump products in enclosed areas. Do not apply aerosol or pump products directly to your face.

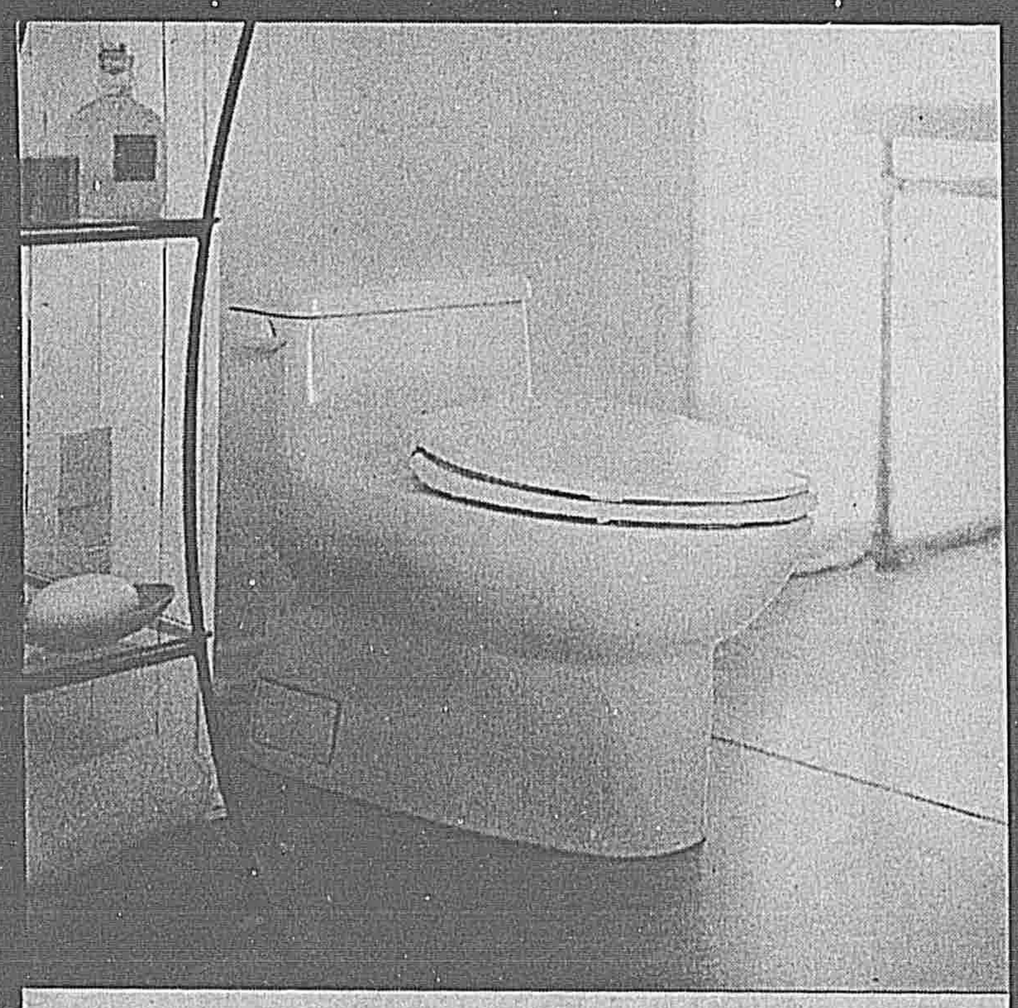

Spray your hands and then rub them carefully over the face, avoiding eyes and mouth. The most basic precaution to control mosquitoes is the elimination of stagnant water, where mosquitoes lay eggs. Areas often overlooked include small inflatable pools, bird baths, watering cans and old tires. Swimming pools treated with chlorine are not susceptible to mosquito breeding.

"A cover on a pool, where water has collected, can be a bigger threat than the pool itself," Balis noted. According to Balis, a cup of water can provide more than enough room for mosquitoes to breed in. "People need to remember to turn cans upside down and flush out pools and birdbaths every couple of days," he suggested.

Additional precautions include avoiding the outdoors during dawn and dusk, and covering up with clothing. For more information about West Nile virus, visit the state health department web site at www.idph.state.il.us or the county health web site at www.co.lake.il.us/health.

For information about mosquito abatement, visit the EPA web site at www.epa.gov.gov/opp00001/citizens/mosquitojoint.htm, or visit Clarke's site at www.clarkemosquito.com.

Tenzi's map leads to success in politics, district renewal

By WILLIAM H. SCHROEDER
Publisher

By applying life lessons learned as a businesswoman and a widow, Susan Tenzi believes she can be elected a state representative from a new Lake County district.

"I've been running a retail business for 16 years and I've been a widow since 1989," Tenzi said. "I've learned how to get things done for myself and now I want to get things done for others and my community. That's why I'm running for state representative."

Tenzi

Tenzi's district is the new 60th including the southern two-thirds of Waukegan, all of North Chicago and parts of Park City and Great Lakes. The district was custom-drawn by Democratic mapmakers to elect a Democrat in the November general election.

As the Republican nominee, Tenzi doesn't flinch a bit at facing daunting odds.

"I'm marketing myself as an independent. My campaign will deal with 'bread and butter' issues like jobs creation and community revitalization." Tenzi is dead serious when she predicts people of all walks of life will be attracted to her candidacy, including Democrats.

As the proprietor of the Adventure Store on Grand Ave., Waukegan, featuring military surplus and supplies for paint ball competition, Tenzi is used to working seven days a week and lifting boxes, pricing merchandise and stocking shelves.

"I'm definitely not a 'Lake Forest' candidate," Tenzi declared, taking a good-natured jab at the person she hopes to replace in the General Assembly, State Rep. Susan Garrett.

The native of Chicago who holds a degree in fine art from the Chicago Art Institute and a minor in history from the University of Chicago, views revitalization of Waukegan and North Chicago on a grand scale.

"We're not a bedroom community. A climate for business to succeed has to be created. We need businesses that put people to work," Tenzi avows.

A centerpiece of Tenzi's campaign in adding commuter rail service to the EJ&E Railroad, a freight line that once linked Waukegan to the industrial cities of the Chicago area, hauling steel and coal. By providing passenger service, Tenzi sees the "J Line" becoming the North Shore Line of the 2lst Century, referring to the electric commuter line serving Lake Michigan cities until 1963.

In Tenzi's opinion, the "J" can funnel passengers to a revitalized Waukegan lakefront that will be a recreation destination, including a minor league baseball team. If a gambling casino is part of that mix, it should be established only after a favorable referendum, Tenzi believes.

More immediately, Tenzi wants to keep open the Kiley Center for handicapped adults and establish a service bureau where residents can learn job skills and find out how to dress for success and "ace" an interview.

As the campaign picks up momentum, Tenzi is confident that her dedicated staff at Adventure Store will tend to business while she transfers her energy and a seven-day-a week schedule to politics.

"I'm a leader, not a follower," she asserts. Tenzi is following a road map that she is convinced will lead to both personal political success and community betterment in the 60th District.

Countywide referendum eyed

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

Though county residents have voted about $140 million in tax increases for the Lake County Forest Preserve District to buy land over the last four years, it will be asking property owners for more money by approving an additional $10 more per household per year in a tax referendum on Nov. 5.

"Just in the last three years, we have bought thousands of acres of land, created over 30 miles of new trails, opened several new preserves, and made many other improvements that people told us they wanted," said Al Westerman, president of the Lake County Forest Preserves. "It is important that voters understand that a small property tax increase is needed to keep their rapidly growing system of preserves, trails and facilities clean, accessible and safe for people to enjoy. Additional funding also will help open up more newly acquired preserves to public use," said Westerman.

If approved by voters, the tax rate will increase from 3.4 cents per $100 of Assesses valuation to 5.1 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The proposed referendum would cost the owner of a home with a market value of $200,000 about $10.74 more per year.

The increased revenue will be around $3 million more per year to add on to the district's already $85 million budget.

Stealth, silence hurts decision

If they haven't already, Mundelein Park and Recreation District directors would do well to reconsider their well-guarded decision to withdraw from the Special Recreation Assn. of Central Lake County. Their vote to pull out of the highly respected organization providing recreational opportunities for special needs children was a surprise act of bombshell proportions.

After a 25-year affiliation with the quasi-public organization, supported by neighboring communities including Lincolnshire, Libertyville, Lake Zurich, Grayslake and Vernon Hills, the decision shocked parents and elected officials alike.

What is more shocking is the blurred and brief reason offered by the directors who said their decision had nothing to do with the quality or dimension of services offered. The reason offered boiled down to "we think we can do better on our own."

SRACLC is supported with locally-raised taxes, grants and fees paid by parents. As non-residents, Mundelein residents are looking at a fee of more than $1,700 a year to keep their children active in the program.

Like any social agency, SRACLC has administrative expenses and overhead costs. Waukegan and Zion were members in the early years of the organization, but dropped membership for reasons similar to those offered by the Mundelein directors. It's debatable whether the former members provide services comparable to those provided by the specially trained professionals who produce mainstream programs for children who might otherwise be left out. Special Olympics is a notable SRACLC program.

Mundelein's contribution totalled $83,548 this year. Fifty-two youngsters were involved in 409 activities. If the directors think they can do the same job more reasonably with a home-grown perspective, let them produce their figures. So far they haven't. Parents are angry with both the action and the silence.

Lessons learned in mock gassing

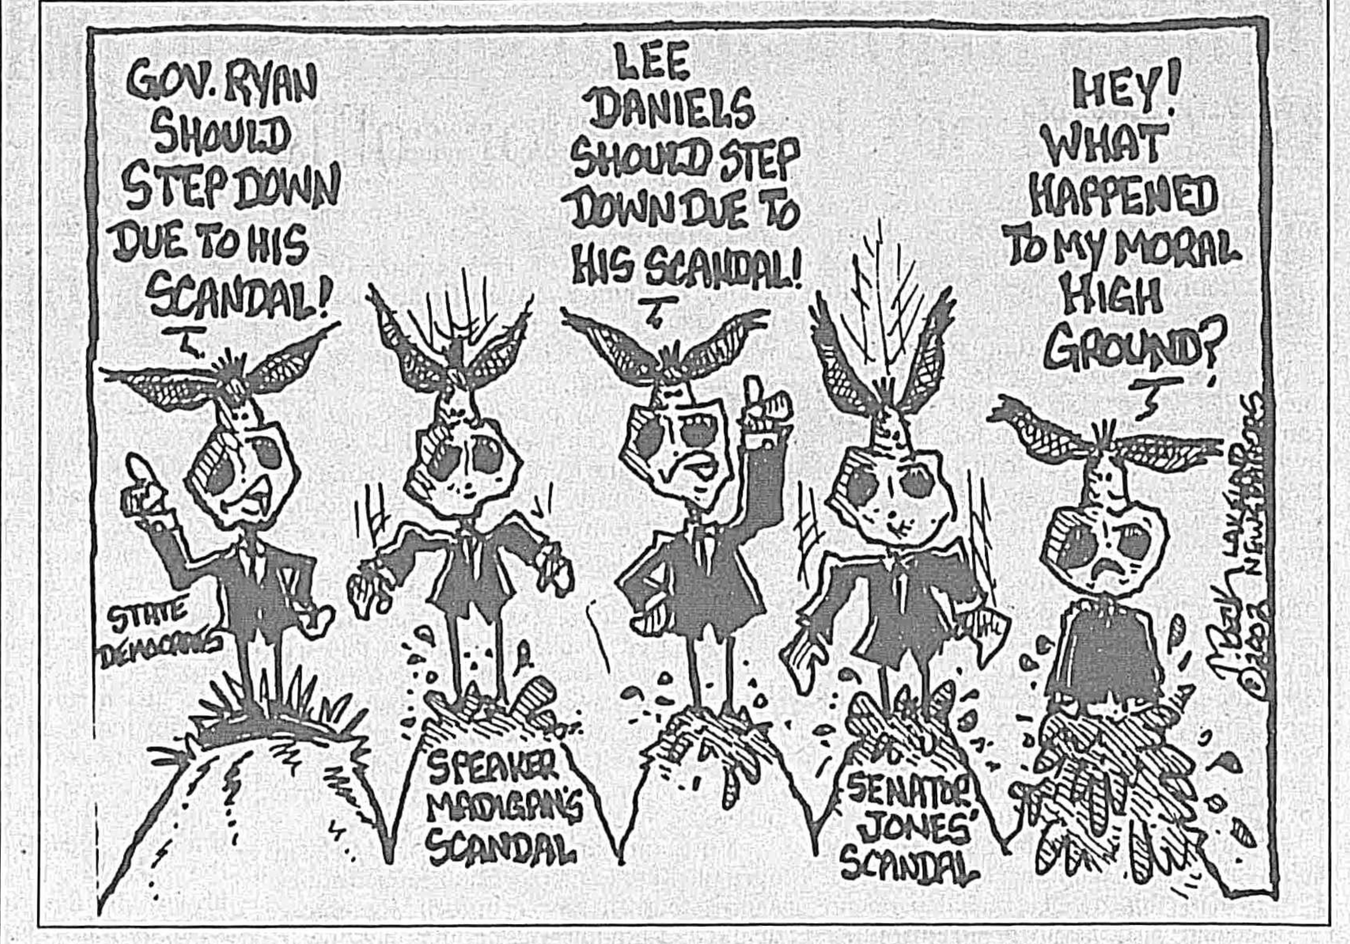

Working with Navy hospital corps students from Great Lakes Naval Training Center, firemen from 20 Lake County departments spent a day learning how to handle a nerve gas attack that might be launched by terrorists.

Forty students accompanied by Navy medical officers volunteered as "victims" in an exercise conducted at Libertyville High School. A sun drenched day at the football field suddenly turned violent as an unseen nerve agent affected the students. The simulated disaster became all too realistic as students feigned nausea and vomiting, exhibiting symptoms of loss of muscle control, spasms and panic.

Firemen rushed to the scene to take part in what was technically designated as a decontamination drill. Part of the training event was setting up showers where firemen "washed" off contaminants from the mock attack with soap and brushes.

Speaking for the civilian firefighters, Mundelein Fire Chief Randy Justus lauded cooperation of Navy personnel who were part of the cross section of federal, state and county agencies participating in the training mission. Chief Justus said the military definitely will be part of future drills. In the event of a real terrorist attack, personnel from Great Lakes would be part of the response team, firemen agreed.

A positive reaction was voiced by all the participants. They agreed valuable experience was acquired and most importantly that the public will be well served in the eventuality of a real attack.

VIEWPOINT

Talking better than turf fighting

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Any day now, a banker and a veterinarian are going to sit down for a visit. They won't be talking about interest rates or pet health care.

The subject will be land planning and boundary agreements, not exactly topics taken up at backyard barbecues. In simple terms, land planning refers to the future of all that farm land on the edge of town. A boundary agreement is a high falluten sounding term for the legal process whereby units of local government divide up remaining open space without a fight.

The veterinarian is Mundelein Trustee Ed Sullivan. The banker is Grayslake Mayor Tim Perry, president of State Bank of the Lakes. Both have strong ideas about a vast area along Route 83 running between the two communities where the major landmark used to be the Titus Family Farmstand.

What's happening is that Grayslake is moving south and Mundelein is moving west. Somewhere approximately in the vicinity of Peterson Road there's going to be a collision.

Sullivan, who meshes his elective duties while involved with veterinarian medicine part time, believes there is much to be gained by representatives of neighboring villages sitting down together and talking about the mutual self interest of their respective communities. Makes sense. Failure to do so results in what's been happening for a long time in Lake County—neighbors pitted against neighbors, developers playing one community off another, land grabbing, helter-skelter growth, over-crowded schools, crowded highways—all the problems residents have come to know so well.

For the Route 83 corridor, Grayslake is developing a mixed use business park-office area known as Central Range. Mundelein is anxious to acquire territory to add commercial space.

"Yes," emphasized Sullivan. "I'm going to talk to Mayor Perry."

One of the most obvious beneficiaries of boundary agreements, besides eliminating land feuding, in Sullivan's opinion, is providing for orderly upgrades to the infrastructure, especially highways.

"Deciding how, when and where in advance roads will be improved or built is a big advantage," Sullivan declared. No one is arguing that both the public and private sector have given scant advance thought to transportation needs before the bulldozers start rolling.

Sullivan is a strong advocate for "incremental" road improvements. He is the architect of the "Mundelein Plan" where a resolution was adopted by the village board calling for reconstruction and upgrading of existing arterial roads before turning to construction of the controversial extension of Route 53 as a tollway north from Lake-Cook Road.

For the good of central Lake County, the meeting between the mayor and the trustee can't take place soon enough.

Mark Kirk and Terry Link agree on lakefront issues

SEEING IT THROUGH
John S. Matijevich

Recently, I received a call from a longtime friend, Gene Rawhoof, from Zion, a retired high-ranking officer in the International Chemical Workers' Union. Gene asked me to attend a press conference at the former headquarters of Outboard Marine at the Waukegan lakefront.

It was a news conference by Sen. Richard Durbin to discuss the importance that Superfund monies be reauthorized. He said that if nothing is done soon, the pace of the cleanup of toxic waste sites in Illinois could severely affect the programs and EPA's oversight of activities conducted by polluters.

I agree with Sen. Durbin that polluters, rather than taxpayers, should be made to pay for its contamination. Since the Superfund "polluter tax" expired in 1995, the trust fund to clean up and monitor toxic sites has dwindled. That both endangers the future of cleanup programs and also negatively impacts on the deterrent effect that programs have had against major polluters.

Rawhoof is an active member of the Lake Michigan Federation which has taken a leadership role in protecting Lake Michigan, Illinois Beach State Park, the dedicated nature preserve, and the surrounding area. When he and federation President Paul A. Kakuris speak, I listen. They stand tall in protecting one of our most valuable resources.

The day after Sen. Durbin's press conference, 13th District Congressman Mark Kirk held a press conference where he announced that he would introduce legislation to prohibit "new source emissions" of mercury into Lake Michigan. He said that mercury has become the most frequent basis for fish advisories and steps should be taken to limit mercury pollution of our fresh water natural resource.

Three trustees representing the North Shore Sanitary District have accused Cong. Kirk with "playing politics" with the mercury issue. They are concerned that his stand on that issue may undermine their efforts to site a sludge incineration plant near the Waukegan lakefront. I believe that what Kirk did was to speak out what he believed in, just as he had earlier come out against future use of nuclear power plants near the Great Lakes. If that's politics, we should have more of it.

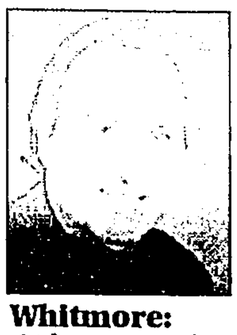

Shortly after Kirk's press conference, I attended a meeting of the Waukegan Development Commission, where the city of Waukegan offered testimony against siting the sludge plant near

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Biker friends heading for collision

Whitmore: At home speaking "Harley" talk on campaign trail.

Vassels: Ex-mayor clashing with Krischke's policies to revitalize downtown district.

Krischke:

Two opponents for a Lake County Board seat in the November election agree on one thing: biking in "Harleyland" is fun and great recreation.

Randy Whitmore, Republican, and Mark Stricklin, Democrat, share a love for the open road. After that, they're competitors in District 2, newly configured by redistricting to take in a section of Gurnee, and parts of Waukegan, Park City, Wadsworth and Beach Park.

Both survived stiff primary competition to win nomination.
Whitmore defeated incumbent Rep. Loretta McCarley and Stricklin drubbed Glenn Ryback.

Whitmore and Stricklin have enjoyed together some over-the-road biking excursions. As the campaign heats up this fall, though, they'll be traveling opposite sides of the street.

Village seat

Grudgingly, officers of the Lake County Convention and Visitors Bureau are opening up a seat on the board of directors for a representative from the Village of Gurnee. Board representation was a condition for continuation of village funding criticized soundly by trustees Tom Chamberlain and Ray Damijonaitis.

The Gurnee seat will be a first for a governmental unit for the Visitors Bureau, an arm of private business.

Store Wars

More than a few Fox Lake officials are having second thoughts about their good neighbor policy with Volo. Fox Lake's two giant food chain outlets and the new independently-owned High Low Supermarket in Lakeland Park will be contending with a discount supermarket approved by Volo officials adjacent to Home Depot. The doubters are wondering how many ways the food dollar can be split.

Still opposed

Former Lake Zurich Mayor Debbie Vassels hasn't altered her opposition to downtown redevelopment. Vassels opposed plans while in office and now supporters of a new look are trying to counteract Vassels' petitioning initiative, which has stalled efforts led by current Mayor Jim Krischke to revitalize the commercial area in the vicinity of Route 22 and Old Route 12.

Political Houdini

Sooner or later, Nancy Shepherdson of Deer Park will have to decide which office she is interested in serving if elected in the November general election. Last time Party Lines checked, Shepherdon was still the Democratic nominee for a southwest County Board district and the Democratic-slated opponent of Republican nominee Eddie Sullivan for the 51st state representative district of central and southwest Lake County. Which will it be, Nancy?

Word mangling by the masters

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

Editor's note: Jerry Pfarr is taking a short vacation from the column he has written every week for the last 15 years. Until he returns we will be printing some of his favorites. This one was written in 1998.

Albert Gore would like to be our next president. He's the guy who recently showered praise on basketball's Chicago Bulls and their amazing star, "Michael Jackson."

Dan Quayle also wants the White House. He's the Hoosier who spelled potato like this: "potatoe," and once began a speech at an Apollo 11 anniversary celebration with, "My fellow astronauts ..."

No matter how high and mighty they may get, Gore and Quayle will never live down those bloopers. As syndicated columnist Bob Greene wrote the other day, the spoken word is beginning to trump the written word. Something accidentally blurted into a microphone can outweigh anything else a person ever does.

Greene noted that the collected great thoughts and lyrical words of Shelley, Keats and Browning used to be preserved between covers so they would not be lost to future generations. Today that distinction goes to the likes of Terry Bradshaw, the famous former quarterback who once delivered these diatribe:

"I tell you right here, brother, if you can play until they run you off, suit it up and you keep competing. If I could have done it, I would have done the same thing. I am so lucky I was hurt. I had no choice."

Bradshaw's babbling appears in a new book titled "The Quotable ESPN," along with other word-mangling by athletes, coaches and reporters over the years on the ESPN cable sports network.

Says Greene: "The carefully formed phrase on a sheet of paper is no match for the quick opinion blurted into a live microphone."

I have a similar book titled "The 776 Stupidest Things Ever Said," a tongue-in-cheek tribute to the many celebrities who at one time or another suffered from foot-in-the-mouth disease.

Some samples:

Golf commentator, on the air during a tournament: "Arnie Palmer, usually a great putter, seems to be having trouble with long putts today. However, he has no trouble dropping his shorts."

Baghdad Betty, Iraqi radio announcer trying to destroy the morale of American troops during the Gulf War: "While you are away, movie stars are taking your women. Robert Redford is dating your girlfriend, Tom Selleck is kissing your lady. Bart Simpson is making love to your wife."

Mayor Marion Barry of Washington, D.C.: "Outside of the killings, Washington has one of the lowest crime rates in the country."

Actor John Wayne: "I don't feel we did wrong in taking this great country away from the Indians. There were great numbers of people who needed new land, and the Indians were selfishly trying to keep it for themselves."

Eva Braun, writing to a friend from Hitler's bunker during the bombing of Berlin in 1945: "I can't understand how all this can happen. It's enough to make one lose one's faith in God."

New York baseball broadcaster Phil Rizzuto, during a game in which news reached him that Pope Paul had died: "Well, that kind of puts a damper on even a Yankee win."

President Gerald Ford, on the 1976 campaign trail: "Jimmy Carter speaks loudly and carries a fly spotter, a fly swasher — it's been a long day."

the lakefront. Their counsel entered Cong. Kirk's stand into the record and also provided a press release issued by Sen. Terry Link, where he both endorsed Kirk's "mercury zero-tolerance" legislation and came out against the proposal to build the sludge plant at the lakefront. In addition to being harmful to the environment, the sludge plant would be "detrimental to the future recreational and development opportunities for Waukegan," according to Link.

It is refreshing to see two political leaders, from opposing political parties, come out in agreement on a controversial public issue. Will the same North Shore Sanitary District trustees accuse Sen. Link of playing politics, as they did with Cong. Kirk? It may be time that the district re-evaluates what it is doing, rather that pre-judge other public officials' motivations on key public issues.

I want to commend Cong. Mark Kirk and State Sen. Terry Link on their bi-partisan stands to protect the environment and public health, and also Sen. Richard Durbin for his efforts to keep the Superfund a viable program to clean up toxic waste sites. Such leadership is important to our future.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Not friendly

Three times I have visited Independence Grove, Lake County Forest Preserve in Libertyville and three times I have been "shooed" away from the beautiful main building overlooking the lake.

I was with friends two times and two times a guard stationed at the door refused to let us use the washroom, air-conditioned room and store because a private party booked the entire building. I have yet to sit down in the center or grab a brochure or visit the little store. One afternoon I was alone and was told not to go in the door.

I find this forest preserve to look and feel like a private enterprise not warm towards the public. There are guards at the door keeping us away from even cooling down and washing our hands.

Why is there no shade? The empty park benches along the trail are right smack dab in the middle of the sun. There is no shade to protect us. Last Saturday, both buildings had private parties. The beach was closed due to bacteria count. One edge of the lake smelled like sewage. Everyone we spoke to agreed it was a public forest preserve, but their area was private. We left in a huff and went to Half Day Forest Preserve and enjoyed the afternoon.

Polly Machak
Libertyville,

Too many referendums

We have had three county referendums in the last 10 years, not including municipal referendums, school referendums, etc. Our senior citizens, low income families, middle income families and upper income families need to know in advance how much they should be saving to pay for all the many tax referendums. How many more referendums does the Lake County Board expect the citizens of Lake County to support and pass in the next 10 years?

Hit the wallets

It's about time somebody recognized that thieving corporate CEOs are no better than drug dealers and don't deserve favorable treatment. Melissa Bean, candidate for Congress, proposes to seize the assets these executives obtained with the money they pilfered from employees and stockholders. She has presented one of the best ideas yet to combat corporate crime. Why hasn't Congressman Phil Crane presented any suggestions of his own to fight the corporate fraud that has been such a blow to our economy? CEOs who lie and steal to fatten their bank accounts should not only be put in jail, they should also be hit where it will hurt them the most—in their wallets.

Future tollway

The whole conversation over Route 53 is pointless; it is so wildly expensive that there is no way to fund it. But to clarify his comments, John Matijevich is right. With Route 53 as proposed, the east/west leg will be a tollroad, including the area where the existing 120 right-of-way is used, approximately from Almond Road past I-94 to Greenleaf.

The Illinois Department of Transportation maps issued during the Corridor Planning Council meetings in the '90s show a mainline toll plaza just west of Almond Road. Thanks to the efforts of former state representative Andrea Moore, the tollway authority promises to move that plaza so residents in the immediate area wouldn't have to pay a toll to get out of their driveways in addition to losing their direct access to Route 120.

But that only pushes those costs somewhere else in the system. Despite what the proponents of 53 would have you believe, there is no free lunch. The only way to make inroads in our congestion is to aggressively pursue as many transit, intersection and local road improvements as quickly as we can.

Independent style

As a future leader and currently as senior class president at Stevenson High School, I have come to realize how Congressman Mark Kirk has continually voted on behalf of the 10th District in an independent style. From his support for the "No Child Left Behind Act" to his down-to-earth approach to public policy, he is carrying on the legacy of John Porter in an incomparable fashion.

Specifically, Congressman Kirk has been fighting on behalf of special education in local schools. Since the 1990s,'the federal government has only funded 15 percent of the 40 percent promised to special education programs. Since then, Congressman Kirk has supported a $1 billion increase in federal support for special education.

Recently, Congressman Kirk formed the Student Leaders Advisory Board, a group of 10th District junior class presidents, to serve as a way for him to connect with the youth of today and address their concerns. The main issue that was discussed was the prevalence of drugs, specifically "club drugs" such as ecstasy, in our area. Since then, Congressman Kirk has addressed the issue not only with area students but also with key politicians, with hopes to inform parents and the public of the widespread use of club drugs.

I feel the youth of today are living in an evolving political atmosphere that requires great leadership such as that of Congressman Mark Kirk. He is the epitome of the independent representation necessary in times such as these.

Dislocated dollars

Three cheers for Lakeland Publisher Bill Schroeder's commentary regarding the outrageous salary increase ($250,000) for Woodland School District superintendent Dennis Conti, not to mention the Woodland Fiefdom Ruler's cushy retirement benefits after relinquishing his reign in 2005 ($200,000 per year, if the rumors are correct).

Apparently our school board has no qualms about handing over such a ludicrous amount of tax-payers' hard-earned dollars to a "school manager," whose own teaching staff ranks third ($38,000) from the bottom rung on the ladder of average teacher salaries in Lake County (www.thechampion.org/teach2001). Although we are not taking in millions of dollars such as with the new school and school additions, the minions who reside in the Woodland Fiefdom should have every right to be sufficiently notified of such salary increases, and given the opportunity to vote on them.

Conti's "raise" will make him one of the highest paid school superintendents in the state of Illinois, but how many of the people who pay his salary are aware that he doesn't even reside in Illinois, let alone Lake County? In essence, our tax dollars that constitute Conti's salary are high-tailing it to Wisconsin every time he gets a paycheck. And being that Conti does not appear to be a doddering old man with one foot in the grave, his retirement benefits will eventually add up to a couple million or more (surely that constitutes the need for a voter referendum on school administrator salaries/retirement raises). I'd be interested to see what percentage of Conti's retirement is paid for by Illinois tax money.

Woodland is no longer a school district. It is a corporation. Perhaps it is time for our school board to recognize that not all taxpayers in the Woodland School district have deep pockets from which money freely flows whenever Superintendent Conti needs a fancy new school to expand his corporate kingdom, or a big raise to purchase more tailored suits so that he can exude CEO superiority over the average taxpayers whose household is four times less than that of their chief school employee.

Stonewall Orchard G.C. unveils new clubhouse

Stonewall Orchard Golf Club, Chicago's first Arthur Hills-designed course located in Grayslake, has unveiled its 5,000-square foot clubhouse, featuring a fully stocked golf shop and the Sweebriar Grill restaurant.

With daily specials to be included on the menu, alongside a well-balanced selection of golfer-friendly sandwich fare, the Sweetbriar Grill offers quality, upscale fare in the most relaxing of atmospheres.

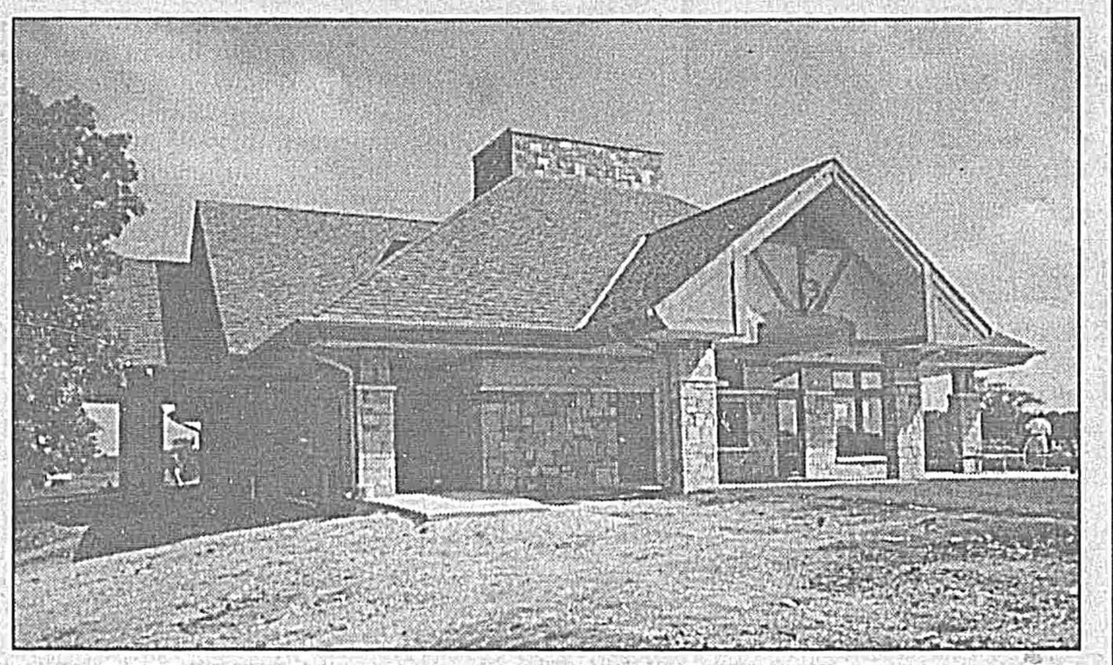

And with outdoor patio dining, the Sweetbriar Grill at Stonewall may quickly become the area's best alfresco dining option.

Plans for the restaurant to regularly feature Saturday and Sunday breakfast with Executive Chef Ted Stay set to prepare an array of signature meals as well as signature soups. On tap during the weekends will be 'Feature Nights', with Stay focusing his efforts on one particular cuisine, including Italian, Fusion, lobster boils, prime rib and a Friday night fish fry.

Chef Stay comes to Stonewall Orchard from Royal Melbourne Country Club, where he served as Sous Chef and prior to that, perfected his skills as Night Sous Chef and Restaurant Chef at Lake Forest's Deerpath Inn. Stay is a graduate of the Culinary Arts program at Johnson and Wales in North Miami, Fla.

"We are excited to offer the Sweetbriar Grill to both our golfing clientele as well as those who are just looking for a quiet, yet delicious dining experience with incredible views that our golf course offers," said Bob Malpede, Stonewall Orchard managing partner.

"The restaurant has been designed as a golfer-friendly bistro and will feature a higher quality of cuisine that what is normally found at a golf course."

Ranked the fourth-best Chicagoland Public Golf Course by Golf Digest Magazine, Stonewall Orchard opened its doors to the public in July of 1999. Designer Hills allowed the natural rolling landscape to dictate a magnificent 18-hole Lake County design, which features more than 65,000 fully mature pine and oak trees, acres and acres of rolling hills, tranquil wetlands and plenty of wildlife.

From the 4,968-yard junior short course to the 7,074-yard, par-72 championship layout, each hole provides its own identity while completely immersing the golfing public into nature. Stonewall Orchard proudly boasts 'no houses' along its 18-hole layout, a mandate by Ben Sargent, whose family had farmed the land that Stonewall had been built upon for the last 100 years.

News and notes

In the past 500 years, the game of golf has evolved from one that was once played with heavy hand-made wooden clubs and stuffed leather balls to the game we know today, using computer made clubs which have been dynamically tested to provide a more comfortable swing. With innovations in equipment comes the introduction of the Shorty Golf Putter, guaranteed to improve and lower your scores. During putting, this new invention guarantees an easier way to read grain while consequently lowering the score.

The inventor, Tim McNichols, an avid golfer from Carpentersville, first conceived the idea seven years ago and began to materialize the concept in Jan. of this year. Breaking his putter one day, he continued to use it and noticed an improvement in his score.

This original idea is now being made available for licensing to manufacturers interested in new product development, especially in the golf industry. McNichols is hoping to have the Shorty Golf Putter in full production and available to the public in the very near future.

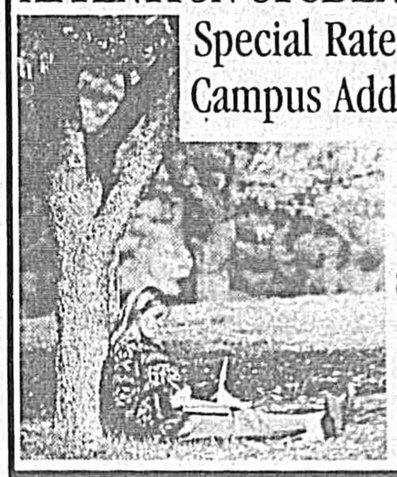

Additional information on the new putter can be obtained by calling the publicity/press department of Invention Technologies, Inc. at 800-940-9020, ext. 285 or at the web site products@invent-tech.com.

Invention Technologies, Inc. is a Coral Gables, Florida-based firm that is handling the publicity and public relations for the Shorty Golf Putter.

FANTASY FOOTBALL MONTHLY

(Touchdowns Only!!!)

Fantasy Football season is here again! For many Lakeland readers, the very thought sends their hearts racing. But for others, the question may be, "What is Fantasy Football?"

One of the most popular games across the country, Fantasy Football comes in many different forms, with each allowing football fans to draft their "own" team every Sunday afternoon and/or Monday/Thursday night.

Lakeland newspapers began their league 2 years ago. This year the following rules apply: readers must pick two quarterbacks, two running backs and two wide receivers out of two respective categories. Although many Fantasy Football leagues count receiving, rushing and return yards, Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly counts only touchdowns.

Your team is good for one month and one month only. Entries must be post marked by the last day of the previous month in order to enter the next month's contest. For example, September 30 is the last day to enter the October contest. You must re-enter each month. After the last game of the month is played the total amount of touchdowns scored by your six players is counted and whichever reader has the most total touchdowns wins. In the event of a tie, Lakeland will count the touchdowns of the candidate's "write-in" players. One entry per person. Winner will be mailed a check for $100.

Lakeland newspapers will publish a Fantasy Football column each week tips and player news. Don't forget that schedule plays a big role in which players choose. Just because someone may be the league's best player, does not necessarily mean that they will be the best player that month. And don't forget the bye weeks.

Good luck and get those entries in.

Practice can even help smiles

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

Hi Dr. Singer,

You have talked about the value of practice in past columns I have read. Does this apply to any behavior? My child is distractible and does not smile very much. It's not that I think he's depressed or anything like that. He acts normally in all other ways. I just wonder if practice might help these things? L.B.

Hi L.B.,

After years of watching this be successful, I am a firm believer that the right kind of practice can correct virtually anything. When I work with kids, my formula is simple. Bad behavior are bad habits that have been practiced for a long time, just through sheer amount of usage and made permanent by that amount of usage. To correct them, you just need to practice the opposite until you "re-program" the child with new behaviors. Now, the concept is simple, but it is also specific. What I mean by this is that you cannot just practice any old behavior to correct the problem behavior. Let's use your smile example to demonstrate what I mean. I have had many people come in with kids who they think are depressed because they don't smile. When I see a kid who does this, I give the kid and parent a very simple exercise to do each day. I ask them to look into a mirror once a day and make the facial expression of a smile. The 1st week we do 10 times each day. The 2nd week we do 20 times each day. The 3rd, we do 30. Of course, we stop at a reasonable number and then continue doing it for a while. The amount of time depends on when we start to see natural improvement. What I mean by natural improvement is when you start seeing smiles develop more spontaneously. Many people might look at this way of doing things and think that it is not possible to create a happy feeling by doing this exercise, but I will tell you that I have seen it work over and over again. Just the practice and feeling of making your facial muscles work that way does create a better feeling. If you force yourself to frown, you can feel a bad feeling. If you force your face into a smile, it is the opposite. Just the act of doing that small thing can lessen the stress enough to think more clearly later on. Now, clearly, if someone has a lot of serious emotional issues going on in their life that require support at this time, this exercise is not enough for that person, but for most kids I have met, this does work well.

What is truly interesting about this is that in the old days, the beginning of my practice, I used to see kids who didn't smile and I would sit down with them and talk to them about their lives, trying, like the good therapist I wanted to be, to dig up something that was making them feel unhappy. 10 times out of 10, the kids I was seeing did not have anything they were unhappy about. It was just a habit they had developed. Thus, the reason why these exercises work. I'm not saying that looking for underlying issues isn't important. I just think that once you have ruled out underlying issues, practice is the key.

I have also had the great pleasure of using the exact same philosophy in my program working with kids who go off task. You know the kind I mean. They are called distractible. They are said to be unable to focus on work. They are also said to be unable to sit still. When I work with this, it is no different than the smile example. Through intense practice and self-control techniques and exercises, I have watched so many wonderful kids be able to focus, sit still and drop the distractibility. The greatest part about the practice part of this is that when the child reaches that goal of better concentration and better results in school and life because of it, that child knows it was his or her hard work and practice that got him or her there. That is a very rewarding thing to see and to be very honest I feel very blessed to be able to see that happen. I never get tired of that "high!"

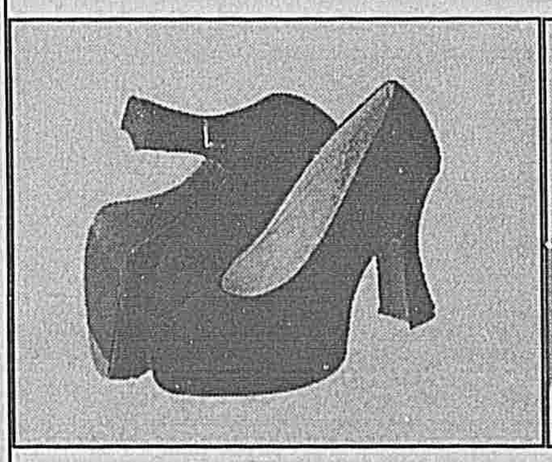

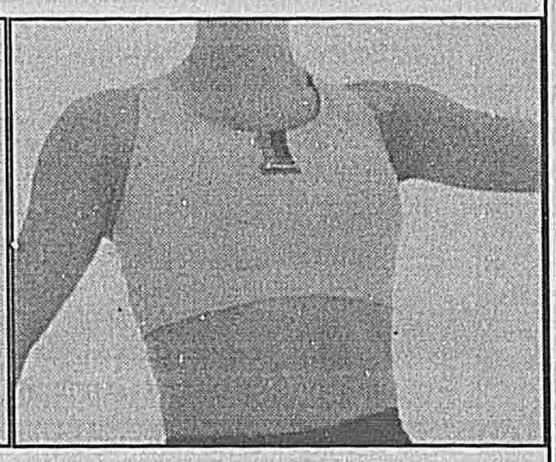

Even for the many parents who have chosen to have their kids on medication for this stuff, I believe that it is very necessary that the treatment not end with the medication. It is important for these kids to also have the benefit of practice and repetition to help build the skills that these kids did not learn for one reason or another. The skills of self-control and attention.

Never underestimate the power of practice and repetition. If you repeat anything long enough and enough times, it will become a part of your soul. Just to be clear here, I am not talking about barraging a child over and over again with words. I am talking about repeating actions that are the opposite of what comes naturally. The exercises I do, are specifically designed to have kids do the opposite of distractible behavior, the opposite of off-task behavior, the opposite of out of control behavior. It's in the action, not the talk. So, don't read this and just start talking to your child about it. Remember that actions speak louder than words.

Dr. Sherri Singer is a Licensed Clinical Psychologist and Childhood Behavior Specialist. School is beginning again. Give your child the gift of better attention, better behavior and better skills. Give yourself and the teacher the gift of a well behaved and less stressful year. For happy kids, happy parents and happy teachers, please call (847) 577-8832 or (708) 962-2549.

Research shows that walking can help save your life

Join this year's American Heart Walk to help save your life and other's

A study by the American Heart Association shows that elderly men who walk at least one half mile each day can extend their lives by reducing their risk of heart attack. That's why the American Heart Association encourages walkers of all ages to begin or continue their walking program by participating in an American Heart Walk in their area. By joining an American Heart Walk, walkers can reduce their risk of heart attack while helping raise money to fund research to fight America's number one and number three killers among men and women: heart disease and stroke.

"Everyone — individuals, organizations, businesses and corporations — can participate in their local American Heart Walk by collecting donations from family, friends and co-workers to help fund lifesaving research," said Phillip Faracj, M.D., Medical Director at Condell Heart Center and chairperson for this year's Lake County North Shore event. "By raising money and walking in the American Heart Walk, we all can help save the lives of more than 950,000 people who die from cardiovascular diseases each year, while walking our way to improved health."

Thousands of Chicagoan's will step up to fight against heart disease and stroke at various American Heart Walk's taking place across Chicagoland on September 13-15. Many corporate Walk teams and individuals are expected to participate. The 2002 Lake County North Shore American Heart Walk is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. on Sunday, September 15 at Conway Corporate Park, Route 60 & I-94, Lake Forest.

"Research suggests that we should become active as early in life as possible. The earlier we start, the easier it is to continue those habits later on," says Robert D. Abbott, Ph.D., professor of biostatistics at the University of Virginia school of Medicine, and one of the study's authors.

Peter G. Snell, Ph.D., assistant professor of internal medicine at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas, and Jere H. Mitchell, M.D., chief of the cardiopulmonary division at the same institution, say that walking helps prevent heart disease by reducing the risk of atherosclerosis — the buildup of fatty deposits that can clog heart arteries — and of blood clots and irregular heartbeat, both of which can trigger a heart attack.

The study's findings may extend to younger men as well as women, according to Snell and Mitchell. They also add, "From a public health standpoint, the finding that exercise that is neither strenuous nor prolonged can benefit an individual at any age is encouraging. As personal computers invade our lives and society becomes increasingly successful at reducing our need to move, opportunities for everyone to become more physically active should be given a high priority."

The American Heart Walk, a national American Heart Association event, has raised more than $286 million in its ten-year history. This year, more than 700,000 walkers will participate in over 750 locations. Funds raised from the Walks will support heart and stroke research as well as public and professional education programs. Research funded by the American Heart Association has yielded important discoveries such as CPR, life-extending drugs, pacemakers, bypass surgery and surgical techniques to repair heart defects.

For more information about the Heart Walks, visit: heartwalk.kintera.org/metrochicago. The American Heart Association spent about $382 million during fiscal year 2000-2001 on research support, public and professional education and community programs. Nationwide, the organization has grown to include more than 22.5 million volunteers and supporters who carry out its mission in communities across the country. The association is the largest nonprofit voluntary health organization fighting heart disease, stroke and other cardiovascular diseases, which annually kill about 960,000 Americans.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES – March 21/April 20

Things are getting better all of the time, Aries. Others are powerless against your good vibes. Expect people to be flocking to your side — you love the attention.

TAURUS – April 21/May 21

Everyone has a version of what actually happened with a problem at work. Explore the options before locking into a firm conclusion. Co-workers will appreciate you.

GEMINI – May 22/June 21

Friendship and romance color your every action, Gemini. Fresh possibilities sprout from relationships with close friends. You're very close to starting a new romance.

CANCER – June 22/July 22

People will respect your limitations if you're clear about them from the beginning, Cancer. Your boss may have piled on too much responsibility, but will soon see the error in his ways. Be patient with children.

LEO – July 23/August 23

You find it easy to see everyone in a good light, Leo. There's always room at the inn, and the well never runs dry. Many of your experiences in the next couple of days will teach you lessons.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22

Money says a lot, but it's not the true bottom line when someone close to you is put to the test. Instead of being material, focus on this person's endearing traits.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23

A smile always helps, but you need a plan as well, Libra. People will follow your lead if you provide cues that seem to fit the situation. However, expect some opposition from some.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22

Opposites can repel just as quickly as they attract, so don't make this a deciding factor in a new relationship your considering. If you want to take the chance, then go ahead.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21

Even though there hasn't been much to celebrate lately, things turn for the better, Sagittarius. You're in a festive mood and others are recognizing the change. Explore the benefits by making new friendships.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

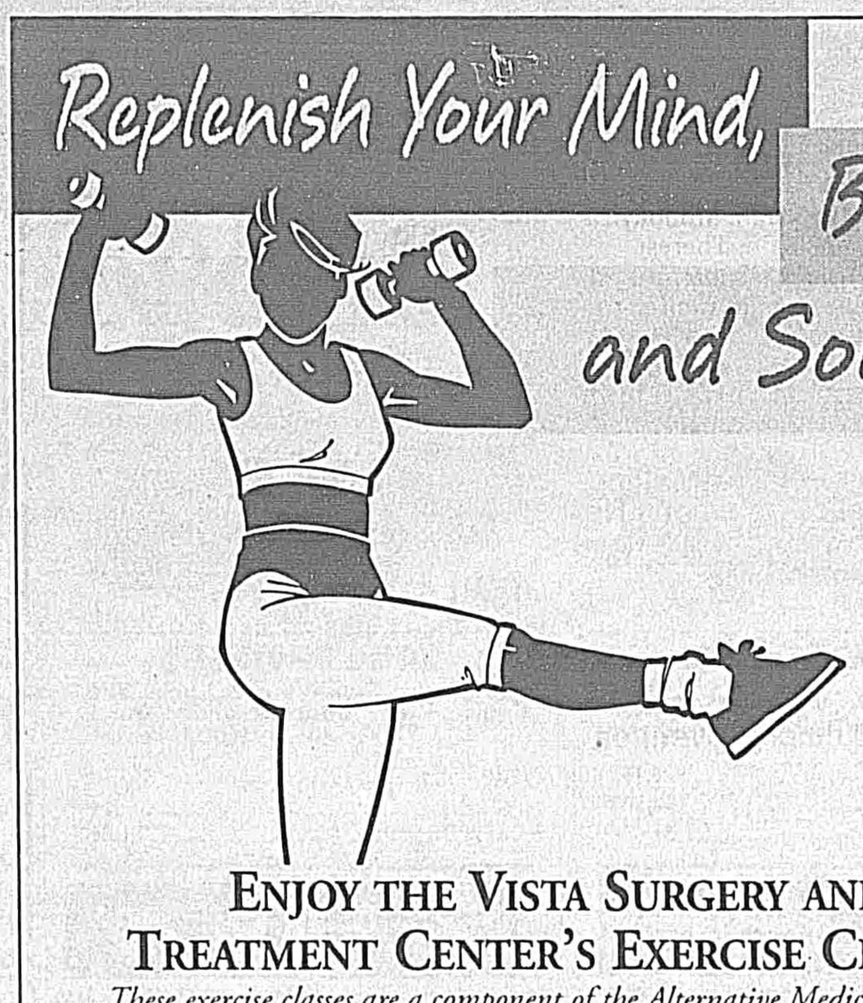

You're disappointed but not powerless when things don't go your way at work. Someone else has stolen your thunder for the time being. Stick it out and search for the life lesson, Capricorn.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18

Sharp intellect comes with some consequences, Aquarius. Some may be jealous of your mind. Unless you're searching for trouble, don't show off your wealth.

PISCES – Feb 19/March 20

You may be the only one with a clue these days. The hardest part is convincing everyone that you're right and they aren't. Just remember that you attract more flies with honey.

essary.

"Both parents might be at work and the students could call and say 'I'm leaving school, I'll be home in 20 to 30 minutes,' and that gives them a reference point," she said. "Then they know when they should be home and can call if they're not in that time."

But parents might not have this option — it all hinges on the individual school board's decisions.

Melinda Selbee, general council director for the Illinois Association of School Boards said it's not urgent for boards to make decisions right away. Even if they decide to implement it, she said, there are still decisions to be made on what restrictions, such as keeping phones off during class, are necessary.

Terre Ezyk, Round Lake District 116 school board president said the issue has been discussed since last year and the board is planning on making a decision soon.

"The board has been waiting for Gov. Ryan to take action on this bill before revisiting the district's policy on cell phone usage," Ezyk said. "Currently, they are still prohibited, but the use of cell phones on campus will be a policy item on the Committee of the Whole Meeting in the very near future."

Kristen Cashman, a sophomore at Grayslake Community High School, said using cell phones in school would be beneficial, but restrictions on when and where they could be used would be necessary.

"(Cell phones) would be good for after school and during passing periods because if you find out you have to stay late you have to pay for the pay phone, but they barely let you use that," she said. "I think (restrictions) are fair because kids already don't even listen in class and it just distracts more and takes away from the teacher."

LEE

Lee, a competitor for his native country Taiwan on the bobsleigh team at the Winter Games in Salt Lake City, experienced a much rougher ride on the drive home after the Games last March.

The 33-year-old was a passenger in a 1997 Chevrolet pickup truck that was driven by friend and teammate, Sam Hwang. Coming home eastbound on Interstate-80, the pickup hit a patch of ice, only to cross over the median and hit an oncoming semi-trailer truck that was heading west.

As a result of the collision, Lee suffered numerous internal injuries, including the loss of a kidney, broken ribs, punctured lungs, and a broken right leg. Overall, he has undergone four surgeries since the accident. Lee also had to undergo a blood transfusion and spent the final couple of months on a respirator while in the hospital.

"I'm feeling much better. I'm still pretty weak but it's nice to sit on my couch," Lee said quietly from his home while watching the British Open Golf Championship. "I'm just thankful that I'm still alive and have the chance to recover."

One person who is certainly glad Lee is home is his wife Susan.

"Normally, you can't get him to shut up— he's so talkative," joked Susan Lee on her husband's return home. "But it's really nice to see him sitting here again (at home). He'd been in bed (in the hospital for so long."

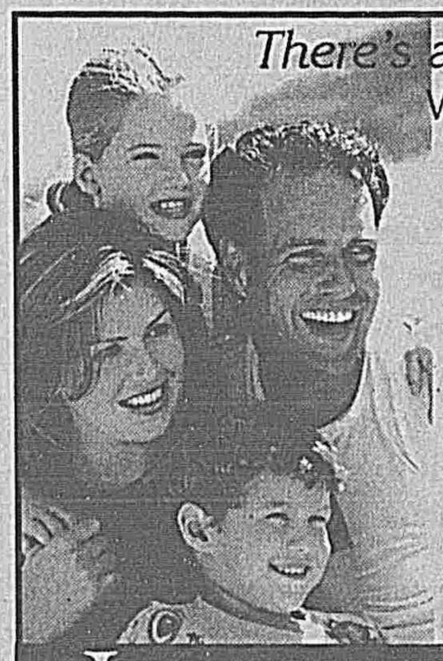

"Steve hopes to be back at work sometime in the next couple of months," said Susan Lee. "That's what we're hoping for." Steven Lee, who has lived in the United States for the past 20 years, is the senior vice-president of investments at First Security Union in Deerfield.

Lee's good friend, Chicago Fire soccer player Dave Vaudreuil, rents a room from the Lee's while in town part of the year for the Fire's season.

He was at his Connecticut home when he first learned of his friend's accident. He had made visits to the two hospitals. But what he remembers most was walking into the Lake Forest home last week.

"He was just sitting there, smiling," said Vaudreuil, a midfielder/defender who has played professional soccer for 14 years, including the last seven since Major League Soccer was formed.

"It was so nice to see his big round face. I'd seen him in the hospital, but he was so subdued."

New CLC tech center to pave the way for higher learning

Future students of Lake County's community college will be able to take advantage of the latest in technology.

Work has begun on a new technology center at the College of Lake County's main campus.

At a ground breaking ceremony this month, CLC President Gretchen Naff said the technology center was a result of several years of hard work. She mentioned the technology center was one of the first projects she worked on when she initially began working with the college.

Naff added a lot of thought went in to the design of the technology center. She said it was designed to be functional and to showcase the technology to which the students will have access. Most importantly, the design took budget constraints into consideration when the determining how the building would look and function.

The ground breaking was attended by college staff and local notables, including the state representatives who were instrumental in finding funding for the project. Members of the college's Board of Trustees.

Rosa Reyes-Prosen, Vice Chairperson of the Board of Trustees told the crowd the technology center is further proof of the growth of the college.

"As a resident of Lake County and a former student of the CLC it is nice to see the college grow," she said. "This technology building is another step in that growth."

Dr. Joseph Cipfl, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Illinois Community College Board, was also on hand to address the crowd and gave credit to the board and President Naff for their work on the project and for the leadership Naff and Trustee Richard Anderson have shown as leaders of the state community college presidents organization and the state community college trustees organization respectively.

Ciplf then congratulated the college on getting the technology center program to the construction point.

"Folks, what we are about today is so very good and so very right," he said. "This technology center is so very important."

Defense: Grever tried to collect money owed at Winchester House

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Robert Grever, a former Lake County Board chairman and a 20-year board member, pleaded not guilty to 12 counts filed against him by a Lake County Grand Jury.

Robert Will, his defense attorney, explained the strategy behind Grever's defense.

"It is our position that Grever did not violate any criminal laws. There are 12 counts of official misconduct against him, but nothing that he had to do was mandatory. There is no statute that says he has to inform the board on general assistance procedures.

Will said that information is open to anyone through Freedom of Information Act requests. "It was discussed by the board when the bills began not to be paid," he said.

Grever

Ruth Grever, Robert Grever's ex-wife, paid the first four bills for her mother., Marie Chvojka, to stay at Winchester House. But despite Grever's urging, Ruth Grever stopped paying the bill. This came at a time that Ruth Grever was seeking a divorce, described as "messy" during court proceedings.

Prosecutors had an administrator of Winchester House, a home for county senior citizens, testify, as well as Grever's secretary, while he was supervisor. The case was expected to last through the week on Judge Mary Seminara Schostok's courtroom.

Grever is charged with 12 counts of official misconduct. Prosecutors state Grever, when he was Ela Township supervisor, failed to notify the town board of a bill of his mother-in-law, Chvojka, was not paid in 1991 to 1996 when she was at Winchester House.

"It is important that Mr. Grever did not gain anything monatarily. There is question of motive. Standards are different from civil court to criminal court. He was a aware that the State's Attorney was investigating the case, but was surprised at the charges. But he, of all people, knows how the system works," Will said.

Grever, 66, of 2155 N. Quentin Rd., was charged by a Lake County Grand Jury with official misconduct and failure to pay Ela Township owed fees.

"He owned the township $194,000, with $200,00 including interest. It is four a five-year period, but his actions cover seven years. He failed to disclose a debit to the township, something that is required before every town meeting. He is charged with six counts of official misconduct," said George Strickland, chief of the criminal division of Lake County State's Attorney office.

Grever's mother-in-law was in the Libertyville-based Winchester House for the five years. Grever is charged with failing to perform a mandatory duty; acting in excess of lawful authority for himself, his ex-wife Ruth Grever and his mother-in law, and for concealing debt, failing to collect on the debit.

The state alleges that Ruth Grever spent monies that should be going to Winchester House payments on his former wife. "The estate has little or no money to pay the county," Strickland said.

Grever was arrested at his home on Feb. 20 by Lake County Sheriff's Department deputies. After his arrest last winter, he was allowed to be released on recognizance bond.

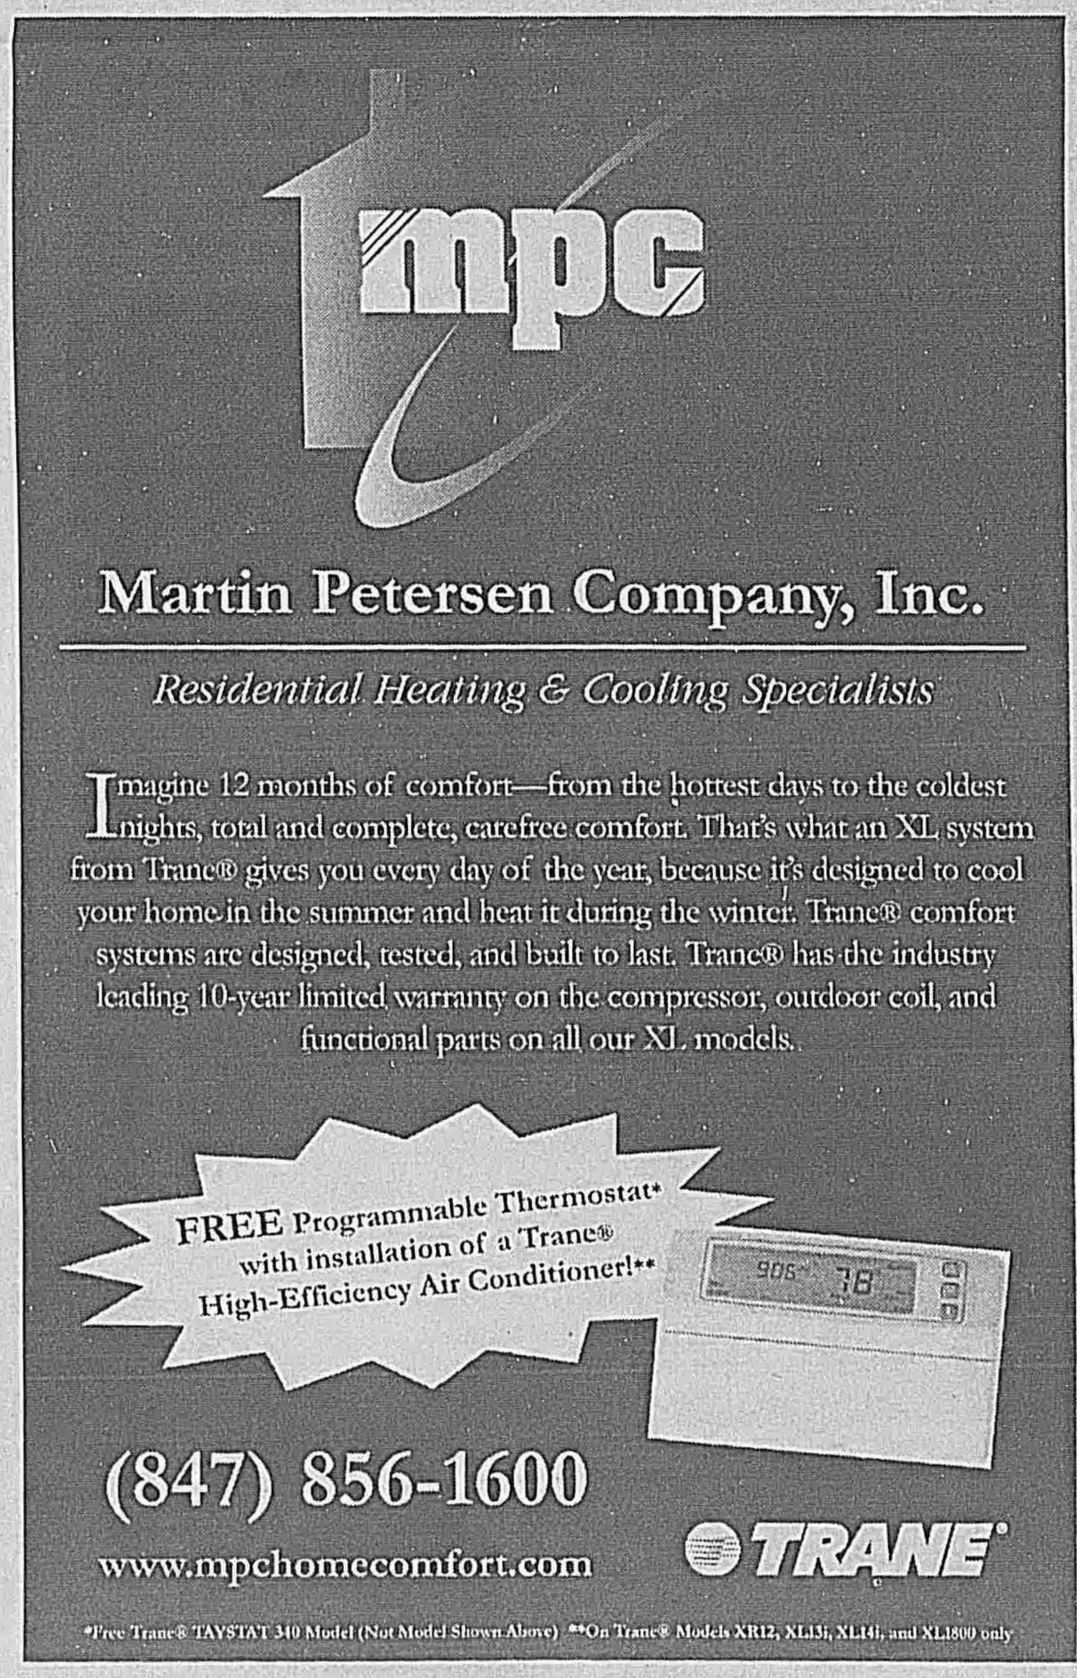

Grever, of Kildeer, served for 10 years on the Lake County Board, serving as chairman from 1996-98. He was township supervisor from 1981 until he lost his seat in 2001 to Kimberly Tinnerella.

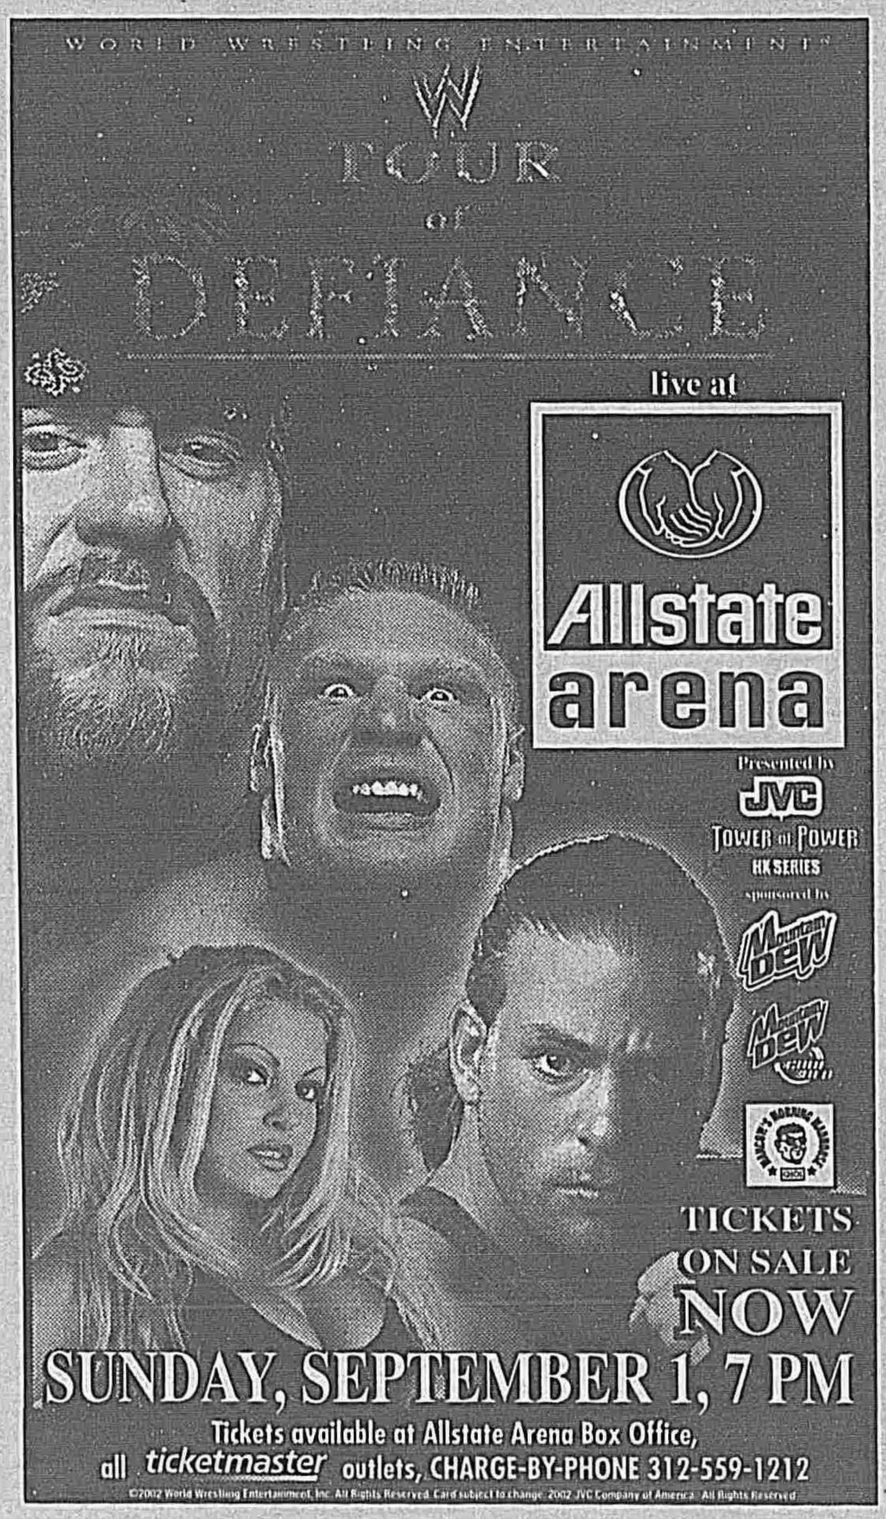

Strickland said that present and former Ela Township officials will be called to testify.

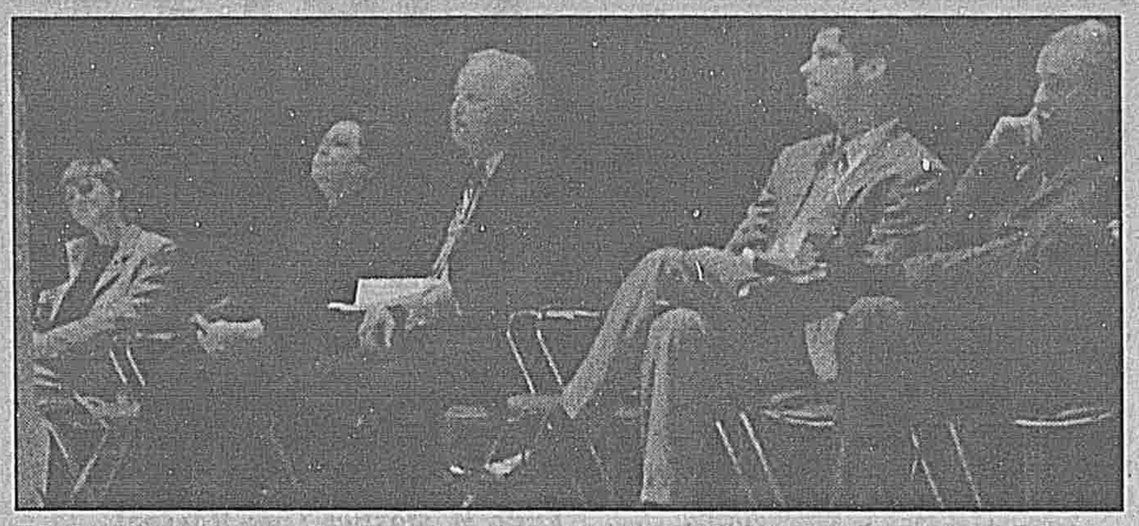

Grever's former administrative assistant, Lynn Staples, testified that she sent bills to Ruth Grever that totaled $195,000. Robert Grever knew of the bills, but did not take action on them, Strickland said.

"The bills continued a couple of years after she died. She was entitled to be there, but Ela taxpayers were deprived of $205,000. If he is found guilty, we will seek restitution," Strickland said.

Testimony continued Aug. 29 and 30 in the case, expected to continue until next week.

Democrats strut stuff at CLC

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

Democratic political hopefuls joined Lake County Democratic Party Chairman State Senator Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) at the College of Lake County to speak out on the issues facing the voters.

The first speaker was Hank Perritt, candidate for US House of Representatives in District 10 who is running against incumbent Mark Kirk. He seemed to wake up the audience with his statement; "The right wing of the Republican Party has this country by the throat."

He added that he wants prescription drugs for senior citizens to be paid for by Medicare and that Kirk opposes his position.

Melissa Bean, candidate for the US House of Representatives in District 8 then took a jab at her opponent Congressman Phil Crane's anti government stance by saying that Crane voted to eliminate the Department of Education, and all of Crane's anti tax talk is just rhetoric.

She said that when Crane voted to give Enron a $274 million tax credit, he in effect raised everybody's taxes.

Illinois House of Representative candidate in District 52 Steve Skinner drew the loudest applause of the night as he repeatedly went back to his theme that something is wrong in Illinois.

"There is something wrong when one school district can afford to pay a superintendent over $200,000 per year and a neighboring district cannot afford extracurricular activities," said Skinner.

Judy Armstrong, who is running for Illinois House of Representatives District 62 said, "Transportation, jobs, prescription drug coverage, and women's rights are all areas I will work to improve," said Armstrong.

Lake County Sheriff candidate Chuck Fagan drove home the point that he should be elected because of his experience and knowledge of how the department should be run.

Other speakers at the event included District 31 Senate candidate Glenn Ryback, Lake County Clerk candidate Patrick Patt, Lake County Board District 21 candidate Pam Kerpec, Ill House of Representatives District 61 candidate Jason Linn, North Shore Sanitary District, Ward 5 candidate Harold Rafson. IL House of Representatives District 51 candidate Nancy Shepherdson, and Kathy Ryg, Illinois House of Representatives District 59.

Pace to overhaul service

Plan will revamp county bus, train and pickup systems

By ROB MOLL
Staff Reporter

If Pace—the suburban operating arm of the Regional Transportation Authority—gets its wish, Lake County residents who use its service will see an entirely new way of getting around by bus, train and van.

Last week, Pace unveiled its vision for the future of Chicago suburban public transportation. Officials hope Vision 2020 will attract more riders and bring Pace's service up-to-date.

Recognizing that its current system is not meeting the needs of most suburban commuters, Pace proposed a 20-year vision to provide a combination of flexible and fixed routes, "intelligent" buses, high quality facilities, transportation hubs that connect with the CTA and Metra and reactionary service catered to a community's specific needs.

Board member Thomas Marucci said Pace's current fixed haul routes do not address its customer's needs. "We need to do a better job to meet the needs of our customers," he said.

According to Pace, traffic congestion in the suburbs has increased by more than 100 percent in the past two decades, and time spent traveling is projected to jump by 44 percent between 1996 and 2020. Pace expects Lake County to grow by 51 percent and a 70 percent increase in employment in the next 20 years.

John Case, chairman of the Pace's Vision 2020 plan calls for Waukegan, Lake Forest, Highland Park and Gurnee Mills to serve as transportation centers, while streamlining its bus lines and offering personalized neighborhood and door-to-door drop-off points throughout Lake County and the entire Chicagoland metro area.

According to Pace's new plan, a resident outside Fox Lake could hop on a van at his door, get on a flex route into Fox Lake, get on a fixed route and head to Gurnee, shop in Gurnee, then take a bus into Libertyville and take a Metra train into downtown Chicago.

Tattoos cover the arms of Ricky Bueno, which—like the scars of his past—are hard to remove. Bueno, an ex-gang member, struggles to keep his life on the "straight and narrow."—Photo by Sandy Bressner

From gangs to God:

The Ricky Bueno story

By JEFF ZACHARY
Staff Reporter

Drugs, drinking, fights, stabbings, drive by shootings, sexual assaults, crime, prison and even death are all daily realities of life in a gang.

But according to one former ex-gang member from Round Lake Beach, there is hope—and a way out.

Ricky Bueno traded his gun for God and now quotes from the Bible while explaining that he has gone straight and quit his gangbanging ways.

"Therefore if any man be in Christ he is a new creation, old things have passed away and all things are new," said Bueno, quoting a Bible verse from Second Corinthians.

Of course, Bueno—which means good in Spanish—didn't always read the Bible. In fact, Bueno, was sometimes very much (bad).

Bueno said he was first beat into a gang when he was 13, after helping out some other members in a fight, at a party in Rolling Meadows.

"Two guys beat me for a couple of minutes. It was pretty bad," said the tattoo covered Bueno.

He then came to the Round Lake area and was one of the original organizers of one of the most notorious gangs in the area.

That's when his life of crime began.

At first it was minor things like stealing bicycles out of garages, but when he turned 17, he stole a car from a Burger King parking lot near his home.

"I drove the car to Chicago and stripped the parts off of it. I was then caught driving the car in Antioch and got two years probation, which is nothing," said Bueno.

At 18 he received a four year prison sentence for burglary to an auto, but I messed up and was sent back to do the rest of my sentence at the Sheridan Correctional Center."

But a stretch in prison didn't deter his lifestyle—in fact it strengthened his gang ties.

"When I got back out on the streets my head was kind of blown up. Now I had a lot of respect on the streets and it went to my head. I used to love to hang out and fight"

Bioterrorism funding eyed

Chicago area, Lake County asking for funds based on risk

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Lake County Editor

Lake County and the Chicago area are not being shy about asking for a bigger portion of the funding pie against bioterrorism, which is part of the $40 billion federal package for homeland security.

With the first $43 million installment of anti bioterrorism funding to Illinois, a tentative state funding formula of even distribution statewide has come under fire by Chicago area health agencies. Of the $43 million, about $26 million will go specifically to health departments in Chicago and around the state. Another $5.5 million will go to hospitals.

Under the proposed state funding formula, Lake County was told last week it would get $230,000, but, according to Bill Mays, Lake County Director of Community Health, said the county needs $635,000 at the very least.

Also, Lake County has been part of the Northern Illinois Consortium of Public Health Administrators, which includes Chicago, and the collar counties of Cook, Lake, McHenry, DuPage, Kane, Will and Winnebago.

Dale Galassie, executive director of the Lake County Health Department, who represents Lake County at consortium meetings, said "The state is developing formulas that give minimum funding to all areas, but the problem is that Chicago and the collar counties are more at risk. Chicago and O'Hare in particular are major targets," he said.

Likely targets of bioterrorism are O'Hare Airport, major shopping centers, Great Lake Naval Base and other venues where aerosol containers can be used to spray deadly diseases into the air or huge ventilation systems.

Water systems pose a much lesser risk, say officials, because the dilution factor would be so great on any chemicals dumped into a water supply.

Galassie

The consortium was formed about three years ago to consider Public health measures against bioterrorism, and has been meeting monthly at the Chicago Public Health Department. In recent weeks, said Mays, the members have been meeting almost weekly.

By April 15, said May, Dr. Lumpkin has to make his funding formula recommendation to the federal government. The consortium hopes to soften his stance on funding to the Chicago area health departments before then, said Mays.

Galassie said the needs for greater funding for Chicago area health departments is reasonable, "because 70 percent of the state population lives north of I-80, and that density of population poses a much greater risk."

Lake County, which has been planning countermeasures for bioterrorism for years, has organized under the Lake County Emergency Management Agency.

Schultz said the county will use bioterrorism funds to cover costs of more surveillance personnel, nurses and epidemiologists, as well as computer hardware and software for better communications with hospitals in the event of a major incident.

Whether your business is doing well or slower than normal, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge to increase your sales. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In these times of uncertainty, shoppers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a business that advertises below average has sales that are below average.

Advertising is news about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in Lakeland Newspapers because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

2002 Lakeland Newspapers
Football Preview
Any given Friday!

Michael J. Bivona, Mike Krizman, John Phelps and Steve Peterson contributed to this report. Photos by Sandy Bressner, John Phelps and Steve Young.

There's plenty of terrific returning players but overall, a lot of new faces. Doesn't matter—names you might not have heard of prior to the start of the season seem to blossom as the playoffs near. Speaking of the playoffs, the new eight-class format saw seven out of our 12 area teams make it to the big dance last year. Pretty good results, especially with Carmel, Warren and Vernon. The Corsairs reloaded this year and should theoretically make it back to the semifinals, if not farther, in Class 6A. Warren and Vernon were rejuvenated having made it to the quarterfinals in their respective classes. Upstart Zion-Benton, Libertyville and Grant lost some key players but the playoffs are still within reach. And how about Round Lake, who made it to the 2001 post-season after a 10-year absence.

Grayslake and second-year coach Vito Andriola are more familiar with one another and should improve last years 2-7 mark. Wauconda, under new coach Glen Kozlowski, hopes to turn the corner as do Antioch, Mundelein and Johnsburg.

With the new playoff format in full swing, it's possible the Lakeland area could turn into a real football hotbed. Some of our teams have already opened the door while the others are definitely knocking at it.

Carmel's Walker an 'impact' player

By MICHAEL J. BIVONA
Correspondent

It doesn't matter. You can give him the ball or he'll simply take it from you.

It's no secret that this year's Carmel High School football team is loaded with talent. On offense, defense and special teams, the Corsairs should make a serious run at another Class 6A State Playoff semifinal appearance.

And one player that will excel in every facet will be senior Sean Walker.

Walker will play offense, he'll play defense, and he'll play on special teams.

"He's a difference maker in all three areas," head coach Andy Bitto said of Walker.

'At this level, he's better than all of them. When he runs people bounce off of him, when he blocks he puts people on their back. When he tackles, he buckles the runner'

on senior Sean Walker

At 6-foot, 3-inches and 220 pounds, Walker speed is blazing. He still clocks in at 4.65 seconds in the 40-yard dash. As a part of the Corsair defense last year, he was sixth on the team in tackles. His prowess also forced five fumbles, one that he returned for a touchdown. If that wasn't enough, Walker's speed also resulted in five quarterback sacks. All this and he only played on defense part the year.

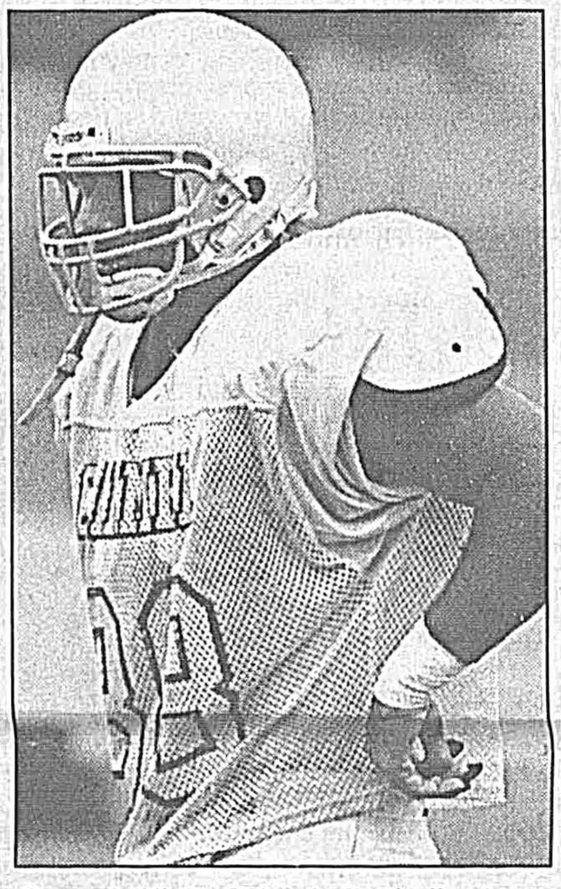

On the other side of the ball, the tight end and wide out Walker caught 37 passes for 579 yards and 6 scores.

According to Bitto, Walker will see action out of the backfield this season, probably at the slot back or wing back position.

"We need to get him the ball at least 15-20 times a game," Bitto said. "He'll be back there when we go to the option. Instead of having to throw it to him, we'll just give it to him."

Also a standout catcher on the baseball diamond and regarded as a high draft pick for most Major League Baseball teams, where Walker goes after his last year of high school is still in question.

"He's probably the best football player in Lake County," Bitto said. "I know he's the best baseball player."

When weighing in on how walker would fair if decided on football Bitto said, "He's definitely a Big Ten player. Maybe even Notre Dame."

Bitto has coached, as an assistant and head coach, for 18 years overall. He's coached great athletes such as St. Louis Rams' Jeff Zgonina, now in his 10th year as an NFL defensive tackle, and Scott Stahoviak, a former third and first baseman for the Minnesota Twins and Chicago Cubs. Stahoviak presently serves as an assistant baseball coach for the University of Illinois-Chicago.

When asked of where Walker ranks with players such as these, Bitto was quick to respond.

"At this level, he's better than all of them. When he runs people bounce off of him, when he blocks he puts people on their back. When he tackles, he buckles the runner."

Grayslake senior Ryan Glynn works on his punting during practice last week. Glynn is not only the Rams punter but starts at linebacker as well. He will also see some time on offense, probably in the backfield or at slot back.

Rams' Glynn a triple-threat

By ROB BACKUS
Correspondent

Rarely is a football player important to the team in every aspect of the game. But Grayslake senior Ryan Glynn is certainly that if not more.

In fact, if Glynn only played his primary position—outside linebacker, where he led the team in tackles in 2001—he would still arguably be the team's most valuable player.

"Ryan is one of our better defensive players," said Head Coach Vito Andriola. "He's also starting to become much more physical on the field."

But his contributions to the team don't stop there, as he is also the Rams' punter, averaging over 36 yards per punt a season ago.

"He's a tremendous punter," said Andriola, "probably the best in the (FVC)."

Glynn's contributions on defense and special teams fit in perfectly with the personality of the Grayslake team.

"We are such a defensive and special teams-oriented team," said Andriola. "And he is a big weapon on both."

Glynn also occasionally sticks his nose in on the offensive side of the ball in the backfield, gaining nearly 200 rushing yards with a pair of touchdowns last year.

He is also a major part of the Rams' intangibles. As a senior captain, he is expected to be one of the main leaders on the Grayslake squad.

"He's a great leader," said Andriola. "I expect leaders to keep the team together when there's adversity and that's what he's been doing."

But if you had not seen Glynn on the field, just talking to him you would think he was any other player on the team.

"If I make a tackle it's only because the linemen did a heck of a job pursuing the ball carrier," said Glynn. "And punting is easy. The credit (for my high average) goes to the guys that fly to the ball to tackle the returner."

'He's a great leader. I expect leaders to keep the team together when there's adversity and that's what he's been doing'

Vito Andriola, Grayslake Head Coach on Ryan Glynn

Although Glynn is humble, Andriola certainly is not when describing him.

"Ryan and I have gotten to be close," the coach said.

"He does a great job leading, he's very coachable and he's the hardest worker I've ever seen in 22 years of coaching."

Andriola is not the only one impressed with Glynn's play as several major schools including: Georgetown, Dartmouth, the University of Alabama and the University of Washington have expressed interest in Glynn.

But college is the furthest thing from Glynn's mind right now.

"I just want to take it one step at a time," said Glynn. "Right now my main focus is our first game against Cary-Grove (on Aug. 30)."

If you would like to see Glynn and the rest of the Rams in action, Grayslake will host Cary-Grove on Aug. 30 at 7:45 p.m.

The 'Koz' era begins at Wauconda

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

"The community has been very receptive and the kids are very excited," said new Wauconda High football coach Glen Kozlowski.

Kozlowski, a former Chicago Bear and radio sports talk show personality, brings the enthusiasm of a freshman on his first day to the Bulldogs' camp.

"There is conditioning and then there is football conditioning. We want to get them into football shape, and to know where to go on our offense and defense. Ninety percent of our practices is about game situations," Kozlowski said.

Kozlowski, a.k.a. "the Koz", has 38 varsity players prepping for the Aug. 30 clash with Harvard. Senior quarterback Jack Kopacz will be the signal-caller. But many other seniors, some back after sitting out a year or more, hope to bring respectability to WHS football. WHS was 2-7 last year and has yet to win a NSC Prairie game in two years.

"We need to get to the mental part of the game, too, to get them mentally ready to play. We are going to set goals for ourselves. We want to change the way people think about Wauconda football; that everyone wants to schedule us for their homecoming," Kozlowski said after a morning practice.

The "Koz", who coached youth football in Libertyville after his NFL career ended, likes what he sees in Kopacz. "I would be disappointed if he was not one of the top performers in the conference. He works hard, and has paid his dues, as he has been on the varsity since he was a sophomore," said the rookie head coach.

Also back is Mike Jablonski, who plays wide receiver and defensive back. He will be joined in the secondary by Matt Crocker, who will "cover the other team's best receiver."

Dan Kimlinger and Dustin Hidgon, who did not play last year, could be top seniors as well, from running back and the line. Custer and Mark Fitzanko are among the early standouts on the line. Shawn Waits, a junior, and Mookie Kroepfl also are included in a "nice size line. The kids have worked hard in the weight room this year in preparation. If you're not in a winter or spring sport, you should be in the weight room. But I am in favor of the two or three sport athlete," Kozlowski said.

Kozlowski is fully aware that he is a rook when it comes to the tough NSC wars.

"Some of the best coaches of the state are here. I know that I will learn my lessons, but I always enjoyed working with kids and these are my kids now. We are still trying to focus on goals as a team. I asked them, do 'you want to throw for 3,000 yards or 1,500 yards and win the conference?," he said.

Kozlowski has assembled a coaching staff that includes assistants David Mills as defensive coordinator, Andrew Burton, John Hansen and Jason Beluski on the varsity. Kurt Rohlwing, Matt Smyth and Bart Garrison coach the sophomores with John Teichman, John Slaughter and Ray Porten on the freshman level. "They have all been winners at their levels in the past," Kozlowski said.

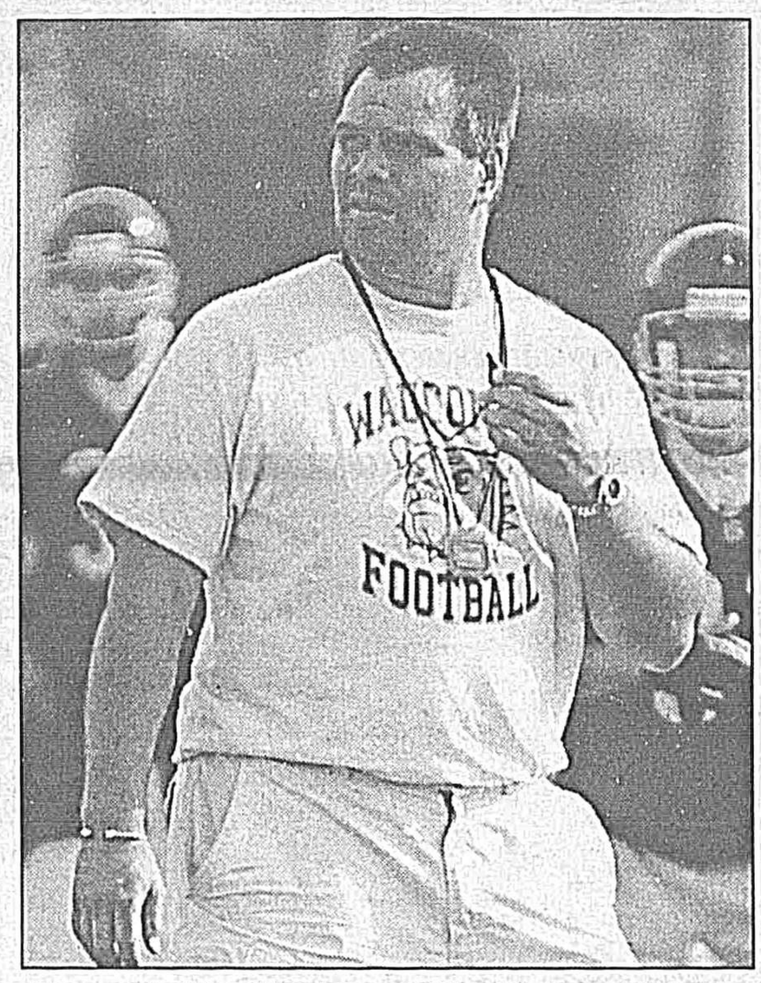

Wauconda will use the 3-4 base defense with a multiple look on offense.

One team strength is having two field goal kickers: Brian Centella and Dave Self.

Also on the to-be watched list include Custer at center, Kim Linger, a senior running back.

Kozlowski had nice things to say about his predecessor, Bob Kasper, saying Kasper helped teach the team about values and dedication and how to be quality students.

Of note: Steve Glomski, of last year's squad and a NSC all-conference selection, is attending University of Chicago where he will play football.

Wauconda High Head Coach Glen Kozlowski is hoping to bring a new brand of enthusiasm to the Bulldog program in his first year at the helm. 'The Koź', a former Chicago Bear wide receiver, grew up in where else—Wauconda.

New playoff format opens door for many teams

The high school football playoffs are the only I.H.S.A. tournament for which teams qualify on the basis of their regular-season records. There are currently 552 schools playing 11-man varsity football. However, six Chicago Public League conferences comprising 34 teams are not eligible for the playoffs, leaving a total of 518 eligible schools. Of these, 256 will be selected for the playoffs. The following steps are used to determine which teams receive a playoff berth and how the playoff teams are paired.

The first step is to select the 256 playoff teams. The process proceeds as follows:

1. All champions of conferences with six or more teams receive a playoff berth. If two or more teams are tied for the best conference record, the conference determines which team shall be the representative. In practice, two-team ties have always been broken on the basis of head-to-head competition when those teams have played during the regular season. Three- and four-way ties are broken by a variety of formulas.
2. The remaining schools are sorted by three categories: first, by total wins; second, by combined wins of all opponents (also known as "playoff points"); and, third, by combined wins of all defeated opponents

Then starting at the top of a sorted list, teams are added to the playoff field until the 256-team limit is reached. In the event of a tie for the 256th position, the following tiebreakers are applied: head-to-head competition (if the teams have met; number of teams played that qualified for the playoffs; number of wins by teams played that qualified for the playoffs; or, a coin flip.

In practice, teams with 9, 8, 7, and 6 wins will always qualify for the playoffs. Teams with 5 wins are "on the bubble," and the tie is broken by the number of playoff points (the combined wins of all opponents).

Determining the Classes

After the 256 qualifiers have been determined, the schools are broken down into eight classes of 32 teams each based on their football enrollment. A school's football enrollment is the larger of the following two figures: the school's official enrollment, which is based on last year's report to the Illinois State Board of Education; or, the split of the difference between the school's official enrollment and the average enrollment of all opponents after throwing out the high and the low.

The largest 32 schools based on the football enrollment figures are placed in Class 8A, the next largest in Class 7A, and so on down to Class 1A. If a tie should occur for the final spot in a particular class, a coin flip is used to break the tie.

Important reminder

It is important to remember that a school's classification is not determined until the 256-team field has been selected on the final day of the season. The classes used in the Associated Press polls are a "best guess" at the final determinations, but they are unofficial and can be misleading. The fact that the AP ranks a school all season in a certain class has no bearing on the school's ultimate classification in the state playoffs. This can be determined only at season's end after the entire 256-team field is selected.

IHSA Illinois High School Association

Seeding the brackets

Once the 32 teams in a particular class are determined, they are seeded manually by the I.H.S.A. Office. Starting with the 2002 playoffs, pairings will be made by applying the Geographic Principle of I.H.S.A. State Tournament Series. This same principle was used for all classes in the 1994 and 1995 playoffs.

Once the 32 teams for each class have been determined, each class will be grouped into four quadrants based on the general location of the schools within that class. Then, within each quadrant, the seeds are determined by sorting the teams by two of the factors used to determine playoff berths: total wins and combined wins of all opponents, also referred to as playoff points.

If two or more teams are tied for a particular seed, the following tiebreakers are applied: head-to-head record (if exactly two teams are tied); conference standing (if none of the tied teams is an independent); or, by random selection by computer.

A school's ranking in the Associated Press poll has no bearing on its seed in the IHSA Football Playoffs. The only criteria used to seed the teams are those mentioned above.

Determining the host team

In the first round, the higher seed hosts the game. In subsequent rounds, the school that has hosted fewer times during the current playoff series hosts the game. If both teams have hosted an equal number of times, the higher seed hosts the game, but if both teams have the same seed, the team with the higher seeding criteria (wins, playoff points, etc., as listed above) is the host. If all these criteria are equal, a coin flip decides the home team.

Mom's the word for Antioch football players

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Nothing like a good feast following almost two weeks of two-a-day practices.

Let me tell you, football players love to eat, especially after a good work out.

And there's no better cook than mom. Especially lots of moms.

Normally, the Antioch mom's cook for only the varsity prior to their games, albeit day or night, home or away. But last week, as in many years past, all levels were treated to a smorgasbord of food in the cafeteria, commemorating the conclusion of 'hell week', as it is commonly referred to as.

It all started, oh, about 25 years ago.

"We tried a lock-in the first year, all with an attempt to get the players to bond with one another. And we'd cook for all of them," said one of the lead moms, Nanci Kiddoo. Kiddoo's son Chris is currently a junior tight end and linebacker. "But the coaches didn't like it (the lock-in). We still wanted to cook, though."

The feast on this day consisted of hamburgers, bratwurst, hot dogs, various fruits and salads, cookies, deviled eggs—you name it—they prepared it.

One of the traditional favorites is mostaciolli, which is served both in the evening before games and in the morning of a day game.

"That's one of the favorites among all of the players. It's turned into kind of a superstitious thing—the players got to have it before a game," said Kiddoo. "One of the moms (Jodi Lobrillo) of a former player just moved back from Florida. Her recipe was similar to ours. They are both very good."

Kiddoo said the moms usually prepare a main entrée consisting of ham, chicken or peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. A full salad and fruit bar is also prepared. For the mid-morning break during two-a-day practices, snacks like animal crackers, pretzels, watermelon, cantaloupe, oranges and grapes are offered.

"Those fall into the carbohydrate group, mostly for energy," said Kiddoo.

Speaking of preparation, there's a lot of work involved with not only cooking, but planning as well.

"We usually start planning for this in January," said Lin Hoogerhyde, whose son Brad, a senior, is the starting quarterback. "This is my last go at it. I'll be done after Brad's done. But I'm sure I'll still help out in one way or another. That's kind of the neat thing. You get to know everyone, especially after four years of doing this."

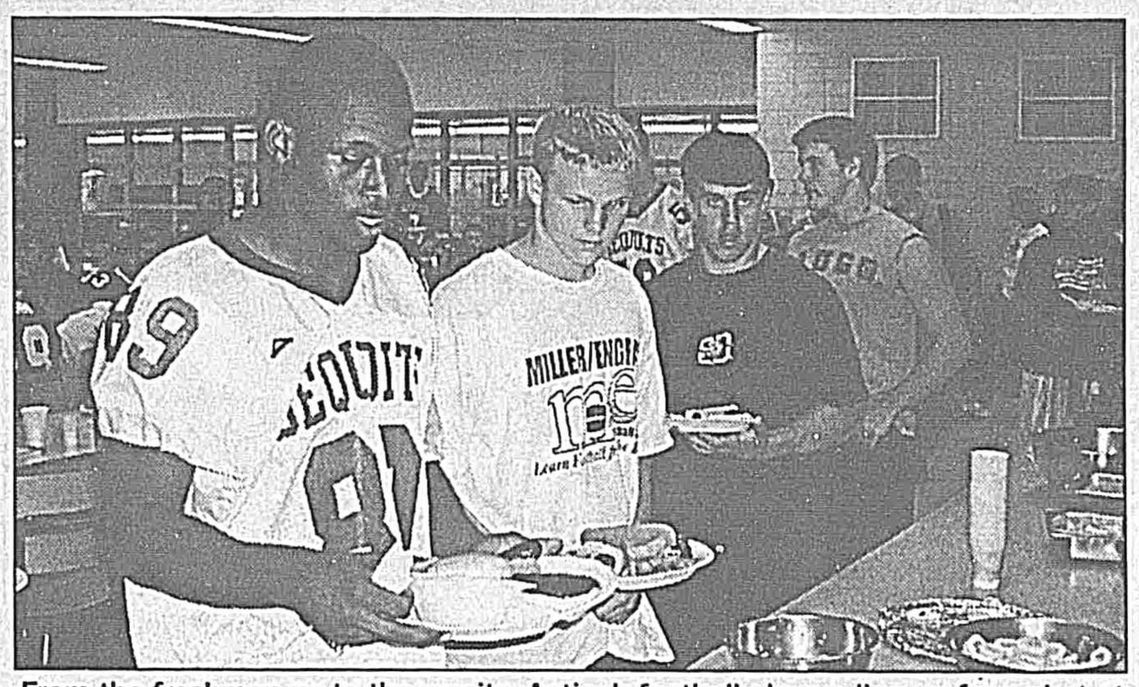

And when planning and preparation of food isn't on the agenda, the moms are busy arranging other things like name plaques for display above each of the varsity player's lockers.

The moms also organize a season-ending banquet, where memory books are handed out. Various spirit gifts are also given out prior to game day, including cardinal socks worn for all games, hooded sweatshirts, yard signs, roses for senior day and customized sweat pants for practices.

"We also sew all of the names on the playing jersey's," added Hoogerhyde. "It took us about a day-and-a-half straight to do 160 jersey's. But we got it done."

Hoogerhyde and Kiddoo said spirit gifts and monies for food depends simply on how much money is subsidized to them.

"None of this is done without any financial aid from the school," said Kiddoo. "We basically go out and solicit local businesses. There are also many donations from the families."

From the freshman up to the varsity, Antioch football players line up for a shot at the smorgasbord commemorating the end of two-a-day practices. —Photo by John Phelps

In an effort to show appreciation to those local businesses that have donated, the moms have arranged for plaques to be made with names of those who have helped out. They will be displayed near the football field.

Some of the money used does come from the kids themselves from their summer camp fees.

"I love the program and what they (the moms) do for us here," said freshman head coach Paul Petty. "It's a great concept. It gets the players to socialize with each other. They don't just 'eat and run'."

Senior starting linebacker Scott Gehrke is also appreciative of the services provided by the mom's of the players.

"They really do a tremendous job," he said. "It saves us time, and in some cases, money from going down the street to get fast food for lunch (during or after practices)."

All 25 of the moms who have helped in one way or another appropriately received individual roses from the players following the traditional 'Moms cookout lunch'.

"There's obviously a lot of work involved," said Hoogerhyde. "I think were the only school that does this for the students-players. Other schools have tried it but saw how much work was involved, so they stopped."

But the Antioch moms aren't about to stop. They assume go for another 25 years of lending much appreciated helping hands.

Fitzgibbons returns to sidelines

Former CHS head coach now helping with defense

By MIKE KRIZMAN
Correspondent

Last year was definitely one to remember where Carmel football is concerned.

An 11-2 record and state semifinals appearance capped off the best season in school history for Head Coach Andy Bitto and Co.

This fall, expectations are high again. And having a familiar face returning to the sidelines certainly helps. Former Head Coach Mike Fitzgibbons returns to the staff after four seasons away from the game. He will work primarily with the defensive line.

But when approached about this story, Fitzgibbon's was quick to point out something that he's always believed in.

"The story is really not about me, it's about the kids and Coach Bitto," he said.

"That's really what high school football is all about."

Fitzgibbons was Carmel's head football coach from 1986-1997, finishing with an overall record of 67-51. During his tenure, Fitzgibbons led Carmel to six state playoff appearances, including the 1989 and 1997 seasons when the Corsairs advanced to the state quarterfinals.

He returned to the practice field for the first time over the summer when the team opened their annual camp.

'A world of emotion swept over me. I was standing under a mid-western blue sky in the summer. It doesn't get much better than that.'

Mike Fitzgibbons
Former Carmel Head Coach on his return to coaching

The experience was a memorable one for the returning coach.

"A world of emotion swept over me," Fitzgibbons said. "I was standing under a mid-western blue sky in the summer. It doesn't get much better than that."

Bitto learned of Fitzgibbons' desire to return to coaching earlier this year.

"He asked me in January and it became official in February," Bitto said. "There was an opening and we were very happy to bring him back.

"There was a four year space and he got a lot accomplished during that time."

During the last four years, Fitzgibbons successfully started a counseling service that has kept him busy for much of the time.

"It's been a whole new world for me," Fitzgibbons said of his counseling occupation. "People have responded and I've been able to retain several clients. It's going very well."

Along with the counseling business, Fitzgibbons published a book titled "My Senior Year." The story follows a high school senior going through his last year before college. The book was published his first year away from coaching.

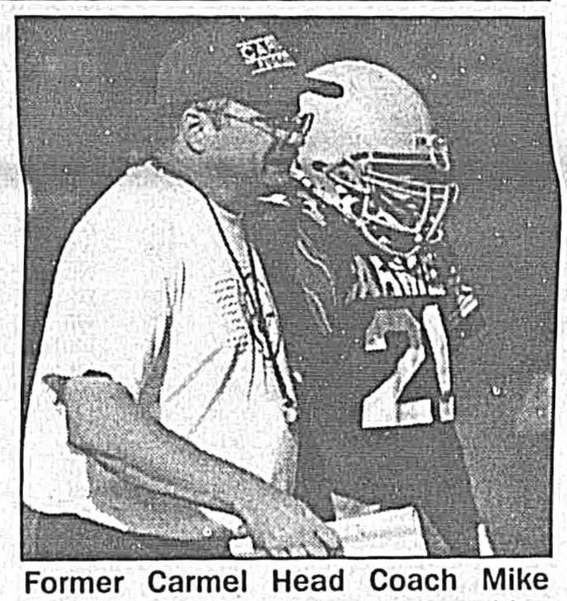

"I wrote it while I was still a head coach," Fitzgibbons said. "After practice and our meetings, I would go to my office and type."

Fitzgibbons' coaching career ended on a cold November night in 1997 when Morris shut out the Corsairs 41-0.

"My wife cried that night because it was my last game," Fitzgibbons said. "My family has remained Carmel football fans and they are thrilled that I'm back coaching again."

When Bitto took over the program, the players heard of the same values Fitzgibbons preached to his players every season. The head coach stressed the importance of school, but also God and family.

"Andy (Bitto) preaches family and I have a great family that's been very supportive," Fitzgibbons said.

LAKELAND AREA TEAM-BY-TEAM CAPSULES

Antioch Sequoits

CLASS 7A NORTH SUBURBAN LAKE

Head coach: Del Pechauer (14th yr.)
Last year: 2-7, 0-5 NSC-Lake
Outlook: The Sequoits will again look to use the pass to set up the run. Quarterback Hoogerhyde has good size (6'2, 176), a good arm and can scramble. He will have weapons to throw in guys like Kiddoo (6'4, 222), senior Pat McConnell (6'3, 176) and junior Eric Lear (6'5, 170), to name a few.

Antioch Head Coach Del Pechauer (left) knows there is somewhat of a learning curve with the Sequoits this fall.

The key for the Sequoits having a successful season will be the defense, led by Gehrke (6'0, 218), Barth (6'0. 258), junior Drew Swanson (6'0, 300) and Stempien (6'3, 181). Gehrke was the teams leading tackler last year. Hoogerhyde should get good protection from the likes of lineman Arnold (5'11, 212), senior Brandon Hope (6'2, 203) and Barth. Avoiding the big plays, keeping turnovers to a minimum and the speedy meshing of the juniors and seniors will be necessary if Antioch wants to return to the playoffs.
Quoteable: "We'll try and keep things simple, with a good balance of passing and rushing. We'll definitely be competitive."-Head Coach Del Pechauer

Carmel Corsairs

CLASS 6A CATHOLIC METRO WHITE

Carmel Head Coach Andy Bitto (right) certainly has the talent once again to lead the Corsairs to the promised land.

Head coach: Andy Bitto (5th yr.)
Last year: 11-2, 6-1 (lost 6A state semifinals)

2002 Schedule

8/30	7:30	Loyola
9/6	8:00	at St. Patrick @Hanson Stadium
9/14	7:00	at Mt. Carmel* @ Gately Stadium

10/11	7:30	Benet Academy*
10/18	7:30	St. Rita
10/25	7:30	at Marian Catholic*

Note: *—denotes conference game.

Outlook: One would think making it to the state semifinals would be a difficult task to repeat. Not Carmel—it simply reloaded. Twelve starters back feature all-world player Walker (6'3, 215), who will play his usual stifling defense at the linebacker position. But more importantly, Walker will line up at slot back in the triple-threat offense. Walker and wideout Jack Simmons (6'6, 190) will see the ball a lot when Venegoni, a good scrambler, doesn't have it. Simmons caught 29 passes for 529 yards and four scores a year ago. The defense is sound with Reid (10 picks in 2001) at cornerback and Duprey, who needs 79 tackles to break the career school-record of 313. Bitto thinks his junior class is the best he's had in five year being head coach. He'll start six of them on offense, four on defense. A key game with at Mt. Carmel Sept. 14 will have major impact on the Catholic Metro White race. The Caravan moved to the White division, flip-flopping with Joliet Catholic, which dropped to the Catholic Red division (and Class 5A) because of a lower enrollment.
Quoteable: "We have great athletes at each and every position. We also have more depth than last year. These are the kind of guys who chew nails and spit rust."-Head Coach Andy Bitto

Grant Bulldogs

CLASS 4A NORTH SUBURBAN PRAIRIE

Head Coach Marc Barczak lost some key players to graduation. But there are plenty of weapons returning. They will have to step up if Grant wants to make another playoff appearance.

Head coach: Mark Barczak (10th yr.)
Last year: 6-4 (2-3 NSC Prairie)

Outlook: Coach Barczak will have some different faces to work with at the skill positions, seeing that Eric Lemcke and Dave Behm have graduated. Ready to step in, on offense is Rodriguez (5'10, 205), who will see plenty of carries. Fain (6'1, 160) anchors a speedy defense. He and senior defensive back were members of the 30-tackle club last year.

Junior RB/DE Mike Powers (6'0, 195) saw plenty of time on varsity as a sophomore. Gier (5'8, 155) will take over as signal-caller. Fiordirosa (5'8, 160) has bulked up a little but his speed will complement Rodriguez. Fiordirosa took second in the State wrestling meet last winter.

After a 4-0 start last year, the Bulldogs stumbled, finishing 2-3, all in Prairie league play. Gelling together as quickly as possible will be monumental if Grant wants to make a return trip to the playoffs.

Quoteable: "Someone always, whom you don't expect, comes to the forefront in the season opener."-Head Coach Mark Barczak.

Grayslake Rams

CLASS 7A FOX VALLEY

Head coach: Vito Andriola (2nd yr.)
Last year: 2-7, 2-7 (Fox Valley)
Key returning players: RB/LB/P Ryan Glynn (Sr); DT Frank Lesnak (Sr.); RB/LB Mike Zawojski (Sr); QB/DB Nishan Pilibosian (Sr.); WR/DB Eric Sanders (Sr.); OL/DL Curtis Peters (Sr.).

Outlook: They're somewhat young but fast and hungry. A little familiarity with one another also helps. Second-year coach Andriola has these guys belieiving in each other. All-purpose Glynn (6'2, 195) will anchor a stingy and speedy defense.

Glynn, also one of the better punters in the area with his 35-plus avg. in 2001, will also see time in the backfield or at slot back on offense. Pilibosian can scramble and has a pretty good arm. Junior Drew Gallaugher (5'9, 155) will be there in case Nishan runs into trouble. Glynn will have help on defense with Lesnak (5'10, 240), defensive back Andrew Forshee (5'7, 155), tackle John Irish (6'0, 230) and defensive back Jay Bajgert (6'0, 160). All three are juniors. Senior Steve Hanson (6'0, 185) will most likely join Glynn in the secondary. Pilibosian (or Gallaugher) will dump the ball off to Glynn, Zawojski (5'8, 155) or jnuior Adam Dones (5'10, 185). Sanders (5'11, 170), Bajgert junior Nolan Jones (5'9, 160) will see their share of carries on offense. The T-formation and pro set offense will be intact.

Quoteable: "I know I can go to war now with these guys."—Head Coach Vito Andriola

Second year Head Coach Vito Andriola has some high hopes for this years Rams, who look to improve on last years 2-7 mark.

Libertyville Wildcats

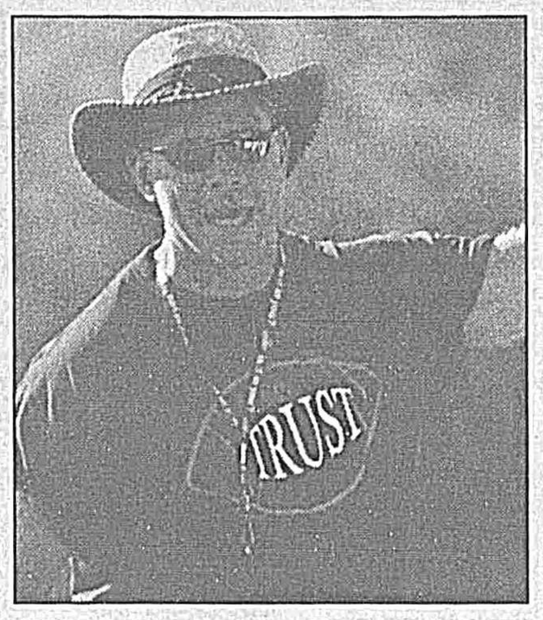

CLASS 7A — NORTH SUBURBAN LAKE

Head coach: Randy Kuceyeski (9th yr.)
Last year: 8-4, 4-1 (lost 2nd rnd. Class 7A playoffs)

10/26	1:00	at Lake Forest*

Note: *—denotes conference game.

With five returning offensive lineman and a nice mix of juniors and seniors, the Cats and Head Coach Randy Kuceyeski have their sights on repeating as NSC Lake champs.

Outlook: Speedy running back Gerett Burl is off at Colorado, leaving a hole in the backfield. Libertyville might be passing a little more with Jansen (6'3, 171) calling the signals. He will have weapons like DeRose (6'1, 175) and fellow seniors Coghlan (5'10, 179) Jimmy Lewis (6'4, 171) to throw to. Junior running back Kevin Fontana should provide spark in the backfield, having seen some varsity time as a sophomore last year. Protection should be there for Hansen as all five starters return to the line. The 46 defense will see Parks (6'3, 231) and Culberson-Fehling (6'1, 190) wreak havoc in the secondary. Look for Libertyville, the NSC Lake champs in 2001, to contend with Stevenson, Mundelein and possibly Lake Forest for the conference crown.

Quoteable: "We have a great mix of juniors and seniors. Our five returning offensive lineman will lead the way."-Head Coach Randy Kuceyeski.

Mundelein Mustangs

Head coach: Jeff Geary (3rd yr.)
Last year: 3-6, 1-4
Outlook: The Mustangs are good in non-conference games having gone a combined 5-1 over the last two start the season. But they have stumbled once North Suburban play arrives. Only two starters return to the offense but six are back on defense. Things could change this year, especially with a speedy Hawkins (5'4, 150) running behind Heber (6'1, 205). Junior fullback Manny Cruz (5'3, 150) should also see plenty of time in the backfield. Drecol (6'1, 165) has good height and a good arm, with sophomore Jake Gaebler ready to back him up. The defense, which yielded close to 27 points per game in 2001, is sound with Stevens (6'1, 180) and Schafernak (5'10, 192) at linebacker. The ends are quick and have good size with Heber (6'1, 205), Herry (6'2, 210) and Lieberman (6'1, 195) patrolling the outside. Lieberman was Honorable Mention All-NSC a year ago. Keeping the intensity up for all four quarters will be necessary once NSC Lake play starts with at home date against Warren Sept. 27.

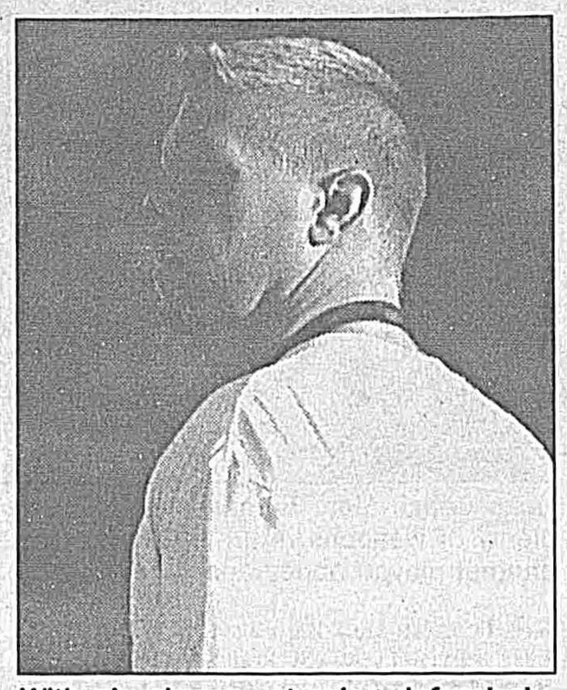

Quoteable: "We'll be improved but there are no cakewalks out there."-Head Coach Jeff Geary.

Round Lake Panthers

CLASS 6A NORTH SUBURBAN PRAIRIE

Panther Head Coach Kevin Dempsey (right) lost some key players to graduation. But youth and some experience are on their side as they look to make a return trip to the plauoffs.

Head coach: Kevin Dempsey (9th yr.)
Last year: 6-4, 3-2 (lost 1st rnd. 6A playoffs)
Key returning players: RB Kevin Parker (Sr.); RB Derrek Feltner (Sr.); QB Scott Yingling (So.); OL/DL Joe Conley (Sr.); WR/DE Tony Murdock (Sr.); Sr. Dan Carrera (Sr.).
Outlook: The Panthers have a few holes, especially with All-conference running back Dallas Basset (playing at Northern Illinois University). But Kevin Parker (5'10) and Derek Feltner (5'10) made for a speedy and potent backfield. Last year, Parker rushed for close to 800 yards while Feltner was right behind with 500. Walleck (6-3, 200) will anchor the offensive line, opening holes for both. Carrera (6'2, 240), senior Mark Beaton (6'1, 225) and junior Matt Brady (6'2, 230) will also be forces, among others, on the offense and defensive lines. Sophomore Scott Yingling will probably get some snaps at quarterback. He will back up likely starter Anderson (5-10, 160). Murdock (6'6, 190) will have a big year at wide receiver. The Panthers will have a little inexperience but the playoffs aren't out of reach. Remember, these guys were dealt a big blow last October when then-senior Mike Lampi Jr. died after injuries sustained in a game. The result—they rallied to win their last game to earn the 6-3 record and first playoff appearance in 10 years. You don't have to tell them about adversity—they have (and some are) still living it.
Quoteable: "We're pretty inexperienced but our practices are going pretty well. We're only going to get better and better."-Head Coach Kevin Dempsey.

Outlook: Wauconda plays well in its four non-conference games to kick-off the season. It just has to find a way to be as competitive in the NSC Prairie. Maybe this bunch will get that extra inspiration and rejuvenation from first-year head coach and former Chicago Bear Glen Kozlowski. 'The Koz' certainly has the weapons to be competitive, whoever they play. Kopacz has three years of varsity experience, as well as a good arm. He will have tight ends Shane Cameron (6'1, 200) and Schilff (5'11, 170). The wide receivers have good speed with senior Mookie Kroepfl (5'9, 130), senior Alan Young (6'4, 155) and senior Anthony Toledo (5'11, 195), to name a few. The line on either side of the ball has size with the likes of juniors Aaron Ciaburri (5'9, 215) and Shawn Waits (6'4, 250). Seniors Brett Trettin (5'10, 225), Custer (5'11, 225) and Tony Sauer (6'2, 230) add experience and depth to the line as well. The defense will be better and should cut down on the 36 points allowed per game in 2001.
Quoteable: "I just want our guy's to play tough but fair. Our goal is to not be anybody's Homecoming game."-Head Coach Glen Kozlowski

New Head Coach Glen Kozlowski hope to instill a new brand of enthusiasm where Wauconda football is concerned.

Vernon Hills Cougars

Head coach: Tony Monken (3rd yr.)
Last year: 8-4, 2-3 (lost in Class 5A quarterfinals)
Outlook: With 20 seniors back and two years of varsity experience under their belts, the Cougars will have some familiar faces. But they will have a little different look to the offense with rifleman Jason Newburger having graduated. Last year, Newburger tossed for 2,356 yards and 20 scores in helping propel the team to the quarterfinals of the 5A playoffs in only its second year. The running game will probably be the trademark with speedsters Heerdegen, a state qualifier in track in the 100 and 200, and Lefler returning to the backfield. Ellis (5-10, 195), Dave Maggio (5'7, 145), DeFrancesco (5'7, 175) and Kevin Rhedin (5-11, 185) anchoring a solid defense.
Quoteable: "We have six guys who have been on varsity for three years. They are a pretty tight group."
-Head Coach Tony Monken.

Zion-Benton Zee Bees

Head coach: Gary Bereiter (7th yr.)
Last year's record: (4-5, 2-3 NSC Prairie)
Key returning players: QB Kyle Grimes, Sr.; OL Nate McBride, Sr.; OL Nick Peroutka, Sr.; WR MacArthur White, Sr.; DB Marcus Denham, Sr.; DL Steve Slocumb, Sr.; DL Mike DeGrazio, Sr.
Outlook: The Bees have the weapons, with eight returning starters. Coach Bereiter has a starting quarterback returning for the first time since he took over as coach seven years ago. Last year as a junior Grimes (6-1, 175) started all nine games and completed 48-of-122 passes and seven scores. Grimes will have good protection with McBride (6-4, 300) and Peroutka (5-9, 205) returning to the offensive line. Speed and depth are strengths for the Bees. On offense, Grimes will have the speedy White (6-1, 165), who caught 17 balls for 286 yards and four TDs last year.

Defensive back Denham (5-9, 160) and defensive lineman Slocumb (6-0, 225) and DeGrazio (5-11, 205) bring size, speed and experience-the trio started every game as junior's in 2001.

Top junior players include backup QB and starting safety Marcus Ruskin, wideouts Cleveland Price and Adam Duty, running back/defensive end Quincy Rogers, running back/wideout Alex Morrison, and tight end Tyler Creekmore. Ruskin will see time at wide receiver when Zion lines up in the I-formation. When the Bees are in the wishbone, Ruskin will be in the backfield.

The match-up Sept. 27 at home against North Chicago will be interesting: it's the opening game of Prairie Division action and the game will feature junior All-conference running back Torris Childs (700 yds. in 2001), who played at Zion the last two years before transferring to N.C.
Quoteable: "The juniors and seniors are going to have to mesh together well talent wise. But we're strong at the skilled positions. I expect a lot out of this group."-Head Coach Gary Bereiter

Warren Blue Devils

Head coach: Dave Mohapp (5th yr.)
Last year: 8-4, 3-2 (lost in Class 8A quarterfinals)
Key returning players: QB/DB Dan Treiber (Sr.); DB/WR Greg Davis (Sr.); DB/RB Mark Mohr (Sr.); LB/TE Charles Thomas (Sr.); DB/RB Ryan Treiber (Sr.); LB/RB Sean Maher (Sr.).

2002 Schedule

8/30	7:30	Waukegan

9/13	7:30	Zion-Benton

10/11	7:30	Libertyville*
10/18	7:30	Lake Forest*
10/25	7:30	at Stevenson*

Note: *—denotes conference game.

Warren Head Coach Dave Mohapp hopes his 23 seniors will gel and help lead the Devils deep into the Class 8A once again.

Outlook: Good news is, the Devils have 55 players on the varsity squad. Bad news—lack of experience. Last year, quarterback C.J. Feller, defensive specialist Ricky Soto Justin Martindale and Kyle Owens help Warren to the Class 8A quarterfinals. Dan Treiber had a good off-season and according to Mohapp, has a pretty good arm. Thomas, Maher, Mohr and Davis will be strong on defense. The key for Warren will be how fast the seniors, which there are 23, gel together. No matter who's on the field, Warren finds a way to be competitive in the always tough North Suburban Lake Division.
Quoteable: "We're still getting to learn all of the names. But Libertyville and Stevenson will be strong again. The rest will be scratching for what is left."-Head Coach Dave Mohapp

Johnsburg Skyhawks

CLASS 4A — BIG NORTHERN RED

Head coach: Bob Bradshaw (7th yr.)
Last year: 3-6 (1-4 Big Northern Red)
Outlook: There's no question Johnsburg will improve on its 3-6 overall mark from a year ago. That's because the Skyhawks have seven players returning on both offense and defense. A monstrous offensive line will be anchored by three-year starter Kozel, who stands 6-foot, 5-inches and tips the scale at 300 pounds. All-conference running back Ackerman (6-1, 200) will be the workhorse on offense. Vesely (6-2, 185) also plays on both sides of the ball while Bays and Duncan (5-7, 155) are key leaders. Coach Bradshaw feels his team will be right up there with an experienced Burlington Central, Richmond-Burton and Huntley, who moved from the white to the red division this year. Huntley will be on the move again next season, when it transitions to the Fox Valley Conference. Duncan, Ackerman and Vesley join Kozel as three-year varsity players. The personnel is there. Being more physical and cutting down on the mistakes are the key. Quoteable: "We're bigger, stronger and faster and looking to definitely bring our level of play up a notch."—Head Coach Bob Bradshaw
